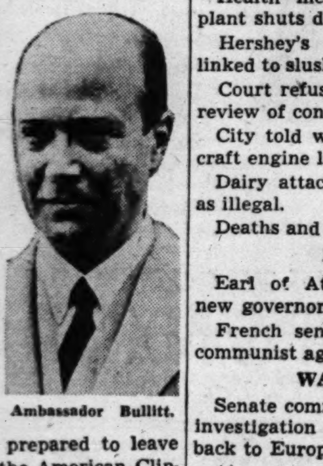
BULLITT FLYING TO PARIS TODAY; EVADES INQUIRY

Hull Refuses to Halt Envoy's Takeoff.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Pictures on page 4.)

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The senate foreign relations committee today sidetracked by referring to Secretary of State Cordell Hull a resolution demanding an investigation of the German White Book charges that American ambassadors encouraged the war in Europe.



Ambassador Bullitt.

Meanwhile William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, who was involved in the German "war guilt" allegations, prepared to leave New York aboard the American Clipper for Europe tomorrow. The Clipper was scheduled to leave today, but was delayed by adverse weather.

Secretary Hull had refused to detain Bullitt pending action on resolutions demanding his appearance before both the senate and the house foreign affairs committees. The secretary said the administration had full confidence in Bullitt's denial of the German charges, which were based on alleged reports of Polish ambassadors.

Version of Famous Speech.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], author of a resolution to investigate the German white book allegations, received today the state department's official version of Bullitt's famous speech at Bordeaux, France, on Sept. 3, 1938, when he was quoted in French and American newspapers as saying, "France and the United States are indefectively united in war as in peace."

Bullitt denied having made this statement and the pertinent passage of his speech, according to the state department text, was:

"It is no secret that the people of the United States feel for the people of France the most profound sympathy. We are united by our devotion to liberty, democracy, and peace. We are united by our old friendship, by the aid that each has brought to the other in an hour of need. Today we are working together to preserve peace. May we be as successful in that task as we have been in the past when we have marched together under the flags of war."

Reynolds Sees Inference.

This statement, according to Senator Reynolds, implied as much as the alleged misquotation said.

"It was saying the same thing in more diplomatic language," Reynolds declared.

The Reynolds resolution, which Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the foreign relations committee, referred to the state department, also calls for an examination of Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, who recently completed a survey of the European war situation for President Roosevelt's private information.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], another member of the foreign relations committee, proposed today that the entire diplomatic corps be abolished. As a member of the senate munitions committee, Senator Clark made an exhaustive investigation of the unneutral activities of American ambassadors during the world war and their part in leading the United States into that conflict.

Calls Corps Unnecessary.

"The diplomatic corps is an anachronism," said Senator Clark.

"It was created purely because of the lack of communication facilities. Now, heads of governments can pick up a telephone and communicate directly with the heads of other governments or the heads of departments in other governments.

"The diplomatic corps could be done away with. That would be practicable because the consular stations handle all the visa and passport and commercial work necessary.

Pass Ordinance Providing for Tagging Parked Cars

An ordinance directing police to attach arrest summonses to illegally parked vehicles when the owners are absent was passed yesterday by the city council. At present policemen must serve summonses for violations on car owners personally.

GRAFT INQUIRY IS PLEDGED FOR EXTRA SESSION

Searle to Head New State Probe.

Inquiry into charges that the state Democratic administration is riddled with graft and inefficiency, made last year by a legislative committee headed by Representative Clinton Searle of Rock Island, will be renewed when a special session of the legislature is convened. This was made known yesterday by Searle and Speaker of the House Hugh Cross of Jerseyville, both Republicans.

Clinton Searle.

The announcement came as the calling of the legislature in special session before the end of April became almost a certainty. Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, reiterated his intention to issue a call immediately after next Tuesday's primary. At the same time a publicity man for Gov. Horner said the governor would issue a call himself in a few days—possibly today.

Reappointment Is Planned.

Speaker Cross, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, said he would reappoint Searle and four other Republicans who were the Horner administration's accusers, with instructions to pursue their investigation. It was this group of legislators who asserted that "for corruption and graft the present administration is without parallel in the history of Illinois."

Cross said the renaming of the committee "would not be politics but a public duty." He added that while a call for a special session made by Stelle might be of questionable legality, the Republicans would proceed on the theory it is valid until proved otherwise.

See Effort to Throttle Quiz.

Searle said he would make the motion to reconstitute the committee. It was admitted the Democratic legislators probably would seek to kill the investigation. Searle and Cross recalled that Democrats went to extreme lengths last year to throttle the inquiry.

"No appropriation could be passed or law enacted in a special session unless mentioned in the call," said Cross, "but the legislature has the inherent right to investigate as it pleases.

Promises to Get to Truth.

"Mr. Horner has not indicated he ever heard of the charges against him. We don't know whether he has heard of them. We do know that administration schemers worked to prevent the Searle committee investigation and in the end deprived the committeemen of the power to issue subpenas and compel testimony under oath.

"If there's opposition at the special session, we won't know whether it comes from the governor or Sam Nudelman. But this time we will give the citizens the truth."

Stelle's announcement was made in speeches in the Elks club of Oak Park and the Masonic temple and Lyceum hall in Maywood.

Charges Clique Fears Searchlight.

"The Kelly-Nash-Nudelman clique," Stelle declared, "dare not call the session. It fears the searchlight of the legislators. The bedside cabinet says only there may be a session. It has said the same thing 13 times and nothing happened. I say there must and will be a session."

Among the points to be considered by a special session, Stelle said, are additional pension provisions for the aged, new safeguards for 30,000 Illinois miners, and laws to permit the Chicago sanitary district to raise funds enough to halt dumping of raw sewage into the Illinois waterway system. Such dumping, he said, would be a health menace.

W-G-N Show Hails Citizens of Tomorrow

In a world moving in darkness and in terror . . . in a nation confused by strange doctrines and foreign creeds . . . the faith and worth and ideals and patriotism of our young people shine as a beacon to democracy.

—From "Citizens of Tomorrow."

Six hundred students of Lake View High school crowded into the audience studio of W-G-N last night for the inaugural presentation of a new half hour radio program, Citizens of Tomorrow.

The program, dedicated to the students of all Chicagoland, is sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. It will be heard each Wednesday night, with a different high school as guest each week.

Lake View High school was selected for the opening program because it is the oldest township high school in Illinois. It was opened in 1876 with six boys and two girls, a library, a laboratory, four classrooms, and a bare assembly hall.

600 Join in School Yell.

For its night on the air Lake View brought to the W-G-N studio its red robed glee club, its white and red sweatered cheer leaders, and all the lusty pride of more than 60 years of tradition. As the Citizens of Tomorrow program opened 600 voices joined in the Lake View yell, "Yeaaaa, Lake View, Yeaaaaa, Lake View! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!"

Philip Maxwell, a member of the editorial staff of THE TRIBUNE, was master of ceremonies. He took the part of the Principal in a playlet in which Dorothy Gregory, a senior at Maine Township High school, had the rôle of Jerry, a co-ed, and Charles Jones that of "every school's engineer." The sketch presented a discussion of scholarship and high school problems.

Three Students Win Prizes.

Six students were selected at random from the audience to take part in a TRIBUNE headline news quiz conducted by the Principal. The original plan was to ask 20 questions. The sponsors thought the students quickly would be eliminated, but not so.

When the 20 questions had been

GIRL MUST WAIT SIX MORE YEARS TO GET SWEEPSTAKES PRIZE

It was a year ago that Kilstair came romping in third in the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, England, making a sweepstakes ticket held by Gloria Peterson, then 14 years old, worth $50,000. The Peterson family, feeling that the prize would banish the wolf forever from their door, packed up and went to Europe to collect the prize.

But the family came back home empty handed and the fortune still is a promise. The Irish government will not release the money until Gloria is 21 years old.

Times have picked up a bit for the Petersons, tho. Gloria's father, Eric, unemployed a year ago, has a job now, and the family has moved out of its basement flat at 5812 North Rockwell street to the second floor. Gloria has been able to continue her lessons at the Art institute which, her mother said yesterday, is the important thing.

JAPANESE WARN BRITISH NAVY ON SOVIET BLOCKADE

TOKIO, April 4, Thursday (AP).—A spokesman for the Japanese admiralty today warned Britain's navy not to open a close range blockade of the Russian port of Vladivostok. Any illegal activity, he said, would compel the Japanese navy to take action.

The spokesman declined to define illegal action, but his statement was interpreted to mean that Japan would object to British warships stopping Russian commerce in Chosen strait. [The strait, off the coast of Corea and only 75 miles from Japan, is the most feasible route to Vladivostok.]

While the Japan sea is not territorial waters, the spokesman declared, British navy action there would cause a strong reaction in Japanese sentiment.

Italian Women, Children Made Subject to War Duty

ROME, April 3 (AP).—A law making women and children over 13 years old subject to mobilization for war work behind the lines was adopted by the Italian cabinet today in a session devoted to making Italy prepared and self-sufficient. Uncle of British King Named to Post in Canada

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 3.—The earl of Athlone, uncle of King George VI. of England and brother of Queen Mother Mary, tonight was appointed governor general of Canada.

It is expected that the earl, accompanied by his countess, who was Princess Alice, a daughter of the duke of Albany, and granddaughter of Queen Victoria, will leave for Canada in two or three weeks.

The earl, who will be 66 years old on April 14, was married to Princess Alice in 1904. Their only child is Lady May Abel-Smith, the wife of Maj. Henry Abel-Smith of the Royal Horse guards.

Appointed Once Before.

As the king's personal representative at Ottawa, the earl succeeds Lord Tweedsmuir, who died on Feb. 11 of a head injury suffered in a fall. The earl was appointed to the Ottawa post in 1914, but when the world war came the appointment was canceled to enable him to serve in the army.

The earl of Athlone served as governor general of South Africa for a five year term ending in 1928, but remained in that post for two more years at the request of the people of South Africa.

He is the only surviving son of the duke of Teck, a German prince who married into the British royal family. During the world war the German name and title were dropped and the earldom of Athlone created at the same time King George V. chose the name of Windsor for the ruling house.

Fought in South Africa.

The earl, then Prince Alexander of Teck, was educated at Eton and Sandhurst, British military college. He served in the Matabele war in Africa in 1896 and later took part in the relief of Mafeking, in the Boer war. He also served in India where he was a cavalry officer. He retired from the army in 1919 and is now an honorary major general.

The earl became a privy councilor in 1931 and in 1937 was made personal aide-de-camp to King George VI. He has been governor of Windsor castle since 1931 and chancellor of London university since 1932.

The earl and countess visited the United States in 1934 and then went on a tour of the Bahamas and the Caribbean.

Policeman Blown Up by Auto Bomb

Explosion Jars River Forest; Tell of Threats

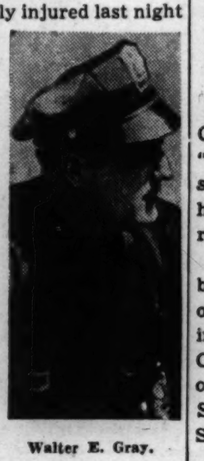
Policeman Walter E. Gray of River Forest was critically injured last night when a terrific explosion blew his automobile to pieces as he was starting the motor in front of his home at 722 Monroe street in the suburb.



Walter E. Gray.

Sergt. William Kane of the Chicago police bomb squad said he believed underworld enemies had attached a dynamite bomb to the starter so that it would explode when the starter button was touched.

A close friend said that Gray had been threatened by some of the men he had arrested.

Hood Hurled 60 Feet.

The blast, which was heard for three miles, hurled the hood of the car 60 feet to the sill of the window of Gray's house, where it lodged. Pieces of wreckage were littered over the street. The starter was torn loose and thrown against a fender.

Bernard Gerard and Harold Niles, fellow policemen who heard the explosion, drove to the scene. They found Gray still in the wreckage of the driver's seat and took him to the Oak Park hospital.

50-50 Chance to Live.

The policeman, who is 39 years old, had been literally gagged by a piece of the floor mat which had been forced into his mouth by the blast. Splinters from the car floor were protruding from his face. His left shoe had been blown off.

Dr. Charles Weigel, River Forest health commissioner, said Gray had a 50-50 chance to live.

Gray was conscious when Chief Carl Soderlin of the River Forest police arrived at the hospital. He asked Gray if he knew who was responsible.

Quiz Prisoner in Lockup.

Chief Soderlin went immediately to the River Forest lockup, where Louis Caponigro, 28 years old, was being held on suspicion. Caponigro, a Chicagoan living at 336 West 30th street, had been arrested earlier in the evening when he was seen driving about the neighborhood in which Gray lives.

Caponigro denied any knowledge of the explosion, but the police said they were not satisfied with his explanation of his presence in River Forest. He is an ex-convict, who has served time for larceny and rape.

Gray was in the news in September of 1938 when he shot and wounded Anthony Mydra, then living at 1027 North Hermitage avenue, after Mydra had resisted arrest in the River Forest station.

Wife Escapes Being in Car.

Gray's wife, Helen, said she would have been in the car but for the fact that she and their daughter, Shirley, 12, had gone to visit a neighbor. Mrs. Gray had originally intended to drive her husband to the station to begin his midnight shift and then bring the car back. The car had been in front of the home all day.

River Forest residents, aroused by the blast, hurried to the hospital and the police station. Many offered blood for a transfusion. Others began a campaign to raise funds for a reward for the capture of those responsible.

HOUSE MEMBER REFUSES REPLY TO CENSUS QUERY

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—Representative Daniel A. Reed [R., N. Y.] refused today to answer census questions regarding his income, but census bureau officials, undisturbed, said they would fill in the answers for him.

"To answer such questions would be in violation of my oath of office," said Reed in returning his absentee census form to the supervisor at Jamestown, N. Y. He said the two income queries had not been sanctioned by congress.

The first question he protested asked whether his salary was over $5,000; the other asked whether he had $50 income from other sources.

GAINS CONTROL IN SHAKEUP OF BRITISH CABINET

Premier Yields to Public Clamor.

LONDON, April 3 (AP).—Winston Churchill became Great Britain's "man of battle" tonight in a drastic shakeup of the cabinet which made him director of all the nation's warring services.

Standing close behind the pudgy but volatile figure of the first lord of the admiralty in the figures emerging from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's third government shift of the war are two other key men—Sir Kingsley Wood and Sir John Simon.

Reporting with Churchill to Chamberlain as heads of war committees, they form a war cabinet in fact if not in name. Wood, who traded his air ministry with Sir Samuel Hoare for the latter's post as lord privy seal, will head the home policy committee.

Domestic Problems.

He will direct, discuss and advise on social and domestic problems of wartime, including food and agriculture—vital to this importing, heavy eating nation of 45,000,000.

To Sir John Simon, silvery haired and silent veteran of finance, remains the staggering task of presiding over the cabinet's economic policy committee. As chancellor of the exchequer he directs Great Britain's mighty offensive of pounds, shillings and pence.

With the nation quickening to the increased tempo of aerial warfare and with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany declaring the reich will strike in the west, Chamberlain bowed to public clamor by making Churchill head of the vital service committee. He remains first lord of the admiralty as well.

Burgin Remains in Cabinet.

On this committee will serve Oliver Stanley, the war secretary; Hoare, the new air minister; their chiefs of staff, and Churchill's own first sea lord—Admiral Sir Dudley Pound.

Also on the Churchill committee is Leslie Burgin, minister of supply, who, altho under almost continuous fire for the last six weeks, remained in the cabinet.

Thus three seasoned veterans—Wood, 59; Simon, 67, and Churchill, 65—will combine with the 71 year old Chamberlain to lead the nation thru whatever is coming.

The cabinet's only outstanding change in actual ministry assignments was the shift of Hoare for Wood. Sir Kingsley, altho criticized for failure to maintain a high rate of airplane production, still is regarded highly as an organizer and "driver."

Given Broad Powers.

In his announcement of the shakeup, Chamberlain said Churchill's assignment as head of the armed services committee would enable him to "keep under constant review the main factors in the strategical situation and the progress of operations and to make recommendations to the war cabinet on the general conduct of the war."

In addition, the resignation of Lord Chatfield as minister of defense coördination leaves Churchill almost undisputed mastery over the fighting services. Furthermore, he will control the work of the ministry of supply.

Churchill has desired authority of some sort over the other services since the start of the war. He always has declared that the blackest mark on his record, the grim and bloody failure of the Gallipoli landing during the world war, might never have been made had he then had direction over army forces as well as the fleet.

His new position makes him not only the highest executive of the admiralty, Britain's chief instrument of blockade, but Britain's chief strategist as well.

Close Touch with Gamelin.

More than any other Briton he will have the ear of Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, the Anglo-French army generalissimo, in the periodic meetings of the supreme war council.

Together they will be running the allied side of the war—and Churchill stands for action.

In another cabinet shift Robert S. Hudson, who, even at 54, is called one of the Conservative party's bright young men, succeeds Sir John Gilmour, who died Saturday, as minister of shipping. Hudson's old job, secretary for overseas trade, was given to Geoffrey Shakespeare, the admiralty's parliamentary and finan-

Lord Woolton, an insurance magnate, succeeds W. S. Morrison as minister of food. Morrison takes the post of postmaster general from Maj. George C. Tryon, who becomes chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster. Lord De La Warr, head of the board of education, trades posts with Herwald Rambotham, first commissioner of works. Lord Woolton has received experience as an adviser to the army on purchases of food and clothing.

Scoop for German Radio.

News of the cabinet shakeup was announced by the German radio 45 minutes before the release deadline set for the British press. The German radio announced all of the most important changes.

"Churchill has been promoted from the rank of war monger to the rank of supreme war monger," said the German announcer. "All the changes are designed only to support an increased British war activity.

"As to their recognition of Sir Kingsley Wood, one can only say that he has been shifted out by Churchill. Kingsley Wood did as little as Churchill did, but of course in lying he was too short to excel Churchill."

The broadcast was in German.

Far East Policy Unchanged.

During a discussion on Britain's foreign policy in the house of commons today, R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, said that British far eastern policy has undergone no change and that the British government will continue to recognize the Chungking government of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek as the legitimate government of China.

"It always has been our endeavor to conduct our policy in the far east in accordance with the principles underlying the nine-power treaty and so keep step with the French and American governments," Butler declared.

[Under Japanese direction a new central government of China under former Premier Wang Ching-wei was established at Nanking last Saturday in opposition to Chiang Kai-shek. Immediately Secretary of State Cordell Hull announced that the United States would continue to recognize the Chungking government.]

Butler defended Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie's recent conciliatory speech in Tokio as cement for Anglo-Japanese relations. Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax expressed the same attitude in the house of lords.

TURKEY TO KEEP PEACE, LEADERS INFORM BRITAIN

ANKARA, Turkey, April 3 (AP).—Turkey told Great Britain today she perseveres in her decision to remain outside the war.

The Turkish position was outlined by President Ismet Inonu and Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu in a conference with the British ambassador, Sir Hughe M. Knatchbull-Hugessen, who will leave for London soon to report.

A spokesman said the ambassador was informed that Turkey does not intend to make war against Russia and that she is determined to work for the maintenance of peace.

Britain also was told that no danger of war exists in the Balkans, said the spokesman. He added that Turkey has not been subjected to any pressure or proposal that she depart from a peaceful policy.

RED PARLIAMENT PASSES RECORD DEFENSE BUDGET

MOSCOW, April 3 (AP).—The largest defense appropriation in the history of the soviet union was approved unanimously by the Russian supreme soviet [parliament] today as it adopted the government's 1940 budget. The budget provides for defense expenditures which, at the soviet official rate of exchange of 5 rubles to 1 dollar, amount to more than 11 billion dollars. Last year's figure of more than 8 billion dollars also was a record. The total budget provides for expenditure of about 36 billion dollars and estimates income of 37 billions.

Evading Blockade

Broken line marks route over which bauxite will be shipped from Jugo-Slavia to Trieste and thence to Germany.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 3 (AP).—Jugo-Slavia will sanction use of her territorial waters for German freighters seeking a blockade-proof route for carrying Jugo-Slav bauxite to Trieste, Italy, an official source declared today. It has been indicated German ships might sail between Dubrovnik, Jugo-Slavia, and Trieste in evading the blockade.

The government said British warships on the watch for blockade evaders had not been sighted by Jugo-Slav ships near the Greek island of Corfu, near the entrance to the Adriatic sea.

Bauxite, mineral base of aluminum, "is not considered a war material" by Jugo-Slavia and therefore is not subject to blockade, this source declared. The Germans hope that bauxite, and later other supplies, can be carried thru neutral coastal waters to Trieste for shipment by rail to the reich. German sources hope British warships will stay out of the Adriatic in fear of offending Italy.

OSLO REPORTS AIR AND NAVAL FIGHT STARTING

OSLO, Norway, April 3.—A large scale sea and air battle has been developing off the Norwegian coast since yesterday afternoon, according to reports here. Several ships and numerous planes have been seen. The activities are presumably connected with a British squadron of 10 destroyers operating along the coast. A German squadron is said to have started out to fight British planes in that area. Twelve German planes approached Norway this morning and one, a damaged bomber, was landed near Stavanger. Its crew of four immediately set fire to it.

Britain Examines 5 U. S. Ships at Contraband Bases

LONDON, April 3 (AP).—Five American merchant ships were examined at contraband control stations in the United Kingdom during the week ending March 30, the ministry of economic warfare announced today.

TELLS CANADA ITS JOB IS TO GET U. S. INTO WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CANNINGTON, Ont., April 3.—Canada's supreme task is to bring the United States into the war on the side of Britain and France, Ontario's attorney general, Gordon Conant, declared tonight. In an address to farmers and business men, he said:

"No sacrifice on our part will be too great if that can be accomplished. If the United States wants to build the St. Lawrence waterway, by all means let us join them. If they want access to Alaska over Canadian soil there should be no hesitation.

"The allies need, and will be accorded, every support that this great northern part of the American continent can extend. But they need even more the moral, and particularly the material, resources of our great neighboring republic.

"If Canada can bring about the active participation of the United States in support of the allied cause, particularly at the present time, she may go down in history as the savior of democracy."

Conant added that a declaration now by the United States that it would fight with Britain and France probably would end hostilities.

WHAT HAPPENED IN OTHER BRITISH CABINET CHANGES

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The shakeup in the British cabinet yesterday was the third since Great Britain went to war with Germany last September. The changes effected by Prime Minister Chamberlain in the first two revisions follow:

Sept. 3, 1939—A few hours after the declaration of war Anthony Eden, former foreign minister, came into the cabinet as dominions secretary. Winston Churchill became first lord of the admiralty. Lord Privy Seal Sir John Anderson traded posts with Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare. Anderson also was given the title minister of home security and Lord Stanhope became lord president of the council, succeeding Lord Runciman.

Jan. 5, 1940—Leslie Hore-Belisha, war secretary, was dropped and Lord MacMillan, minister of information, retired. Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, became war secretary; Sir John Reith, director of the British Broadcasting corporation, became minister of information, and Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, a lawyer, became president of the board of trade.

Aroused Because Envoy Saw French Maps.

BERLIN, April 3.—German quarters professed amazement not untinged with anger today when they received the French publication, L'Illustration, on the front page of which is a photograph of Sumner Welles, American undersecretary of state, viewing a map of "New Europe" as conceived by England and France in the event they win the war.

The suspicion was freely expressed that Welles, with the connivance of the French government, was the victim of a breach of confidence. It was stated, furthermore, that the map "freely reveals the allies' intention not only of waging war against 'Hitlerism' but of destroying the German reich."

Berlin to See Photograph.

The fact that Reynaud was not premier when he showed Welles the Franco-British plan for realigning Europe does not, in the German view, absolve the French government of responsibility for such war aims in their publication.

The map was taken here as an indication of the character of the information given to Welles. It is further claimed that it violates the secrecy pledged by him in connection with his visit.

Map Proposes New States.

The map conforms to the empires' threat to delete greater Germany from the map of Europe, substituting a number of more or less subservient states which would closely approximate the configuration established after the peace of Westphalia in 1648. This peace was concluded following the 30 years' war.

According to the modern version, as presented by Reynaud in the publication, a new Hapsburg monarchy would include Bavaria, the Austrian protectorate, Slovakia, and Hungary. East Prussia would be ceded to resurrected Poland, while Venice would be allotted to Jugo-Slavia.

As the French permitted the publication to go on sale, there is no question of the map's authenticity or authority, it was stressed. Nor can the French escape the charge they abused the confidence reposed in them by Welles, it was claimed.

Reynaud Sees Italian Envoy.

PARIS, April 3.—Premier Paul Reynaud today received Ambassador Raffaele Guariglia of Italy and is understood to have given assurances to Italy about the map published by the French magazine L'Illustration depicting Reynaud's conference with Sumner Welles, American undersecretary of state. Reynaud assured the Italian government that no redrawing of European frontiers had been discussed with Welles and that the storm in Italy and Germany was unjustified.

PARTS OF PRESS FIND FAULT WITH CHANGES IN BRITAIN'S CABINET

LONDON, April 4, Thursday (AP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain's reorganization of his cabinet failed to evoke unanimous approval of the British press this morning. The Daily Mail's cartoonist pictured the reshuffle as a game of musical chairs, with Chamberlain at the piano.

Labor's Daily Herald sharply criticized the lack of broader changes, declaring the reorganization showed "more forcibly than ever that Mr. Chamberlain is out of touch with the mood of the nation."

"The nation wants to win the war quickly. It demands of the premier a thoro spring cleaning of his cabinet from top to bottom. He responds with a feeble flick of a duster," said the Daily Herald.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 3.—Wartime standardization soon will be applied to women's shoes, Leslie Burgin, minister of supply, indicated in the house of commons today. Fewer styles and colors and a narrower range of qualities are expected to result. The standardization will apply to women's footwear costing $1.78 to $2.31 a pair and to men's shoes priced at $3 to $3.56.

REYNAUD VOWS PARIS WILL SIGN NO 'PHONY' PEACE

Cries: 'Hitler Can't Sell France a Counterfeit.'

PARIS, April 3 (AP).—Premier Paul Reynaud, fresh from a session with his inner war cabinet and military leaders, told America tonight that "France and England are strong and strong enough to win" the war and will conclude no "phony" peace with Adolf Hitler.

France has "forged the weapon" against totalitarian Germany and "now we are going to use it," he said.

Using American slang in a radio broadcast to the United States, Reynaud defined "phony" as "counterfeit," and outlined France's purpose as follows:

"From the outset 'we must finish it' has been the formula which summed up all our thoughts. And that means no 'phony' peace after a war which is not 'phony' in any respect."

Calls Germany 'Insincere.'

"Hitler's Germany will not succeed in selling us that counterfeit," he continued. "Totalitarian Germany has been totally insincere. It would be madness to believe that by signing some kind of a compromise with her we should be signing anything other than our death warrant for the following day."

In his high, clear voice, Reynaud paid his respects to soviet Russia as a "betrayer" of democracy and an "accomplice" of Nazi Germany in aggression.

"Every Frenchman knows that his civilization is threatened by Nazlism and its soviet accomplices," he said.

Referring to Sumner Welles' visit to Europe, the premier said that after the war "we must return to a sane conception of [free trade] exchange. I should like to exchange goods with the planet Mars if I could. For every country the vital space is the whole world."

Tells of Welles' Visit.

Reynaud recalled that a memorandum from President Roosevelt, which Undersecretary of State Welles handed the French government, stressing the necessity of a liberal trade policy in international relations after the war, "has received the approval of the French government." He said the empires, united "into one single force for war as well as for peace," would start first on disarmament after the war is concluded and then pass to economic questions.

Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, generalissimo of the allied army, Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of French naval forces, Gen. Joseph Vuillemin, chief of staff of the air force, and Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander-in-chief of French forces in the near east, attended the inner cabinet session. The attendance of Weygand was regarded as especially significant.

A further strengthening of France for war was announced by Cesar Campinchi, navy minister, who said French shipyards would be commissioned to produce 200,000 tons of new merchant shipping of all kinds.

BRITAIN'S TOTAL OF UNEMPLOYED CUT BY 382,887

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 3.—The ministry of labor tonight announced a reduction of 382,887 in the number of Britons without jobs. The figures, for the month from Feb. 12 to March 11, constituted a record. They also revealed a drop of 600,000 from a year ago. Despite the decrease, there still are 1,121,213 unemployed, the ministry reported.

Those still lacking work were mentioned in the house of commons this afternoon in debate on the agricultural bill, which passed its second reading. The bill is designed to fix farm wages and speed up food production.

David Lloyd George, Britain's prime minister during the world war, again demanded that the unemployed be sent to training centers immediately so that they can be available for farming the increased acreage which is being provided.

NAZIS BOMB BRITISH CONVOYS

Germany and Great Britain announced yesterday that German bombing planes had attacked two British naval convoys in the North sea, but the Berlin and London versions of the raids differed. The two versions:

LONDON, April 3 (AP).—Germans made two air raids on British naval convoys today, the admiralty announced. It said both attacks were fought off as Germany and Britain each lost a plane in an air duel near the Yorkshire coast.

Fifteen bombs were dropped during one convoy raid, the British said, but all ships were undamaged. One bomber attacked the other convoy and it, too, was driven off, the admiralty declared. Its communique said:

"Enemy aircraft attacked a convoy this afternoon and dropped 15 bombs without hitting any ship or doing any damage. The aircraft were driven off by the fire of escorting warships. One Heinkel attacked another convoy, but was driven off by fleet air arm aircraft."

In the air duel off the Yorkshire coast each plane shot down the other.

[Another dispatch stated the pilot of the British plane, a Spitfire, described the battle by radio as it progressed. He reported rescue of five Germans, two wounded, after he had shot down their Heinkel plane, then said his ship was afire. He landed at sea and was rescued.]

Britons said this was the first fighter plane lost in defense of their coast.

The number of German planes that bombed Scapa Flow last night was placed at 20. They did no damage, the British said.

[Other reports stated two civilians and a service man were slightly injured by shell splinters.]

BERLIN, April 3 (AP).—DNB, German official news agency, reports that German warplanes successfully attacked merchant ships in a British convoy in the northern part of the North sea at noon today.

A German high command communique said that in a raid last night on Scapa Flow "it was possible to damage several ships by square hits or close explosions."

The communique added that a German reconnaissance plane, after a fight with three British chasers on Tuesday, was forced to descend on the sea. The crew was rescued. Of action on the west front it was said:

"Air fights occurred at several places in the west where three enemy pursuit planes were shot down. Two of our own planes are missing."

Further to strengthen Germany's artillery massed along the Siegfried line, part of the thousands of guns captured in the Polish campaign are being refiitted. Many were made by the French.

French Take Prisoners.

PARIS, April 3 (AP).—The French high command tonight reported the capture of prisoners when Germans attacked an outpost last night on the western front.

It added that destruction of a third German plane yesterday had been confirmed.

GERMANY BARES MORE DETAILS OF 'STRATO' CANNON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 3.—More details of Germany's so-called stratospheric guns were disclosed today. The guns are believed to have a wider range than the Big Bertha of world war fame, which fired more than 75 miles. Pictures were published today of batteries of four heavy guns mounted on railway carriages with their barrels pointing upward at an elevation of approximately 75 degrees. The captions under the pictures marked them as "heaviest guns," which means that their bore exceeds 8 inches.

The term "stratospheric guns" is applied to pieces of ordnance which by virtue of an exceptionally high muzzle velocity are able to hurl heavy projectiles into the stratosphere. There, owing to greatly reduced air resistance, the missiles travel much farther than is the case of shells fired from guns with a flat trajectory.

Charge I. R. A. Set Fire to Hall in Northern Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, April 3—(AP)—A mission hall at Lurgan was damaged by fire today. Authorities said the fire was the result of an arson campaign by the outlawed Irish Republican army against buildings used in Great Britain's war effort. Three armed men, believed to be members of the I. R. A., held up a crowd in Dungannon Hall on Monday night and started a fire. The hall was little damaged.

NAZIS' FINANCIAL MACHINE GROANS UNDER WAR LOAD

Survey Shows How It Kept from Collapsing.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 3.—The fact that Germany has not collapsed financially under the strain of the five year rearmament program and expensive public construction projects is considered by many neutral observers to be in the category of a miracle.

The escape from financial breakdown is due mainly to two factors: First, the totalitarian economic régime offered unlimited possibilities for utilizing resources, and second, the government's strict regimentation of the national economy.

Nevertheless, according to the German financial press, 1939 found the Reich's financial machine suffering from strain and weariness. Indications of this stress were found in the fact that the Reichsbank note and total currency circulation have risen more swiftly than industrial production.

Capital Found Overtaxed.

That the government has overtaxed the capacity of German capital is evidenced by the undersubscription of the second of two loans totaling about $1,200,000,000 and the failure of the financing methods of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the Reichsbank, to function satisfactorily. This was partly due to the expenses of building the Siegfried line, which exceeded the estimate on which Dr. Schacht planned.

A new government financing plan, the fourth during the present régime, was put into effect last year. Its basic principle was to spread the cost of armament, road building, and general reconstruction over many years by issuing tax certificates against future revenue. The war showed the plan was impractical and it has been abandoned in favor of short term borrowings.

Nation on War Basis 5 Years.

Because the gold reserve has long been below 1 per cent of note circulation, that metal has no bearing on currency stabilization. Currency stability is based on the maintenance of a reasonable proportion between money circulation and the quantity of goods produced by labor. The Nazi party press has stated that the best stability in currency is "the word of the Fuehrer."

The war in reality made little difference in German finances because the nation virtually had been on a war basis for five years as evidenced by the fact that about $36,180,000,000 has been spent on rearmament since 1933.

According to a German banking expert at least $8,000,000,000 was expended for this purpose in the year ending August, 1939. This amount spent in peace equals the cost of the first year of the world war to Germany.

Tax Returns Compared.

Tax returns give another instructive comparison with 1914. Then the annual revenue was about $1,600,000,000, or 7.2 per cent of the national income. In the period of rearmament for the present conflict tax receipts rose from about $2,650,000,000 in 1932 to about $7,080,000,000 in 1938-'39, absorbing in all, according to authoritative German calculations, 47 per cent of the national income.

The German plan to finance the war is based principally on a drastic increase in taxes, lowering of wages and prices to reduce the cost of war supplies to the state, reducing the cost of nonmilitary expenses 50 per cent, and going into debt. So far the only principle working out is the increase in taxes. Short term borrowing, in addition to tax collections, has carried the war so far.

Accurate figures of war costs are not obtainable, but reliable conservative estimates place the average monthly cost between about $1,600,000,000 and $1,800,000,000.

During the first three months of the war taxes amounted to about $800,000,000 per month and loans from about $900,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

Public Income Holds Level.

The main war tax increases are 50 per cent boosts in levies on personal incomes exceeding $960 per year, 20 per cent surtax on retail sales of tobaccos, beer, liquors, and champagnes, but not on wines, and a 15 per cent levy on states and communities. These war boosts have been semiofficially estimated to return about $2,000,000,000 per year.

The public income has not been reduced as was expected by extensive recruiting because the remaining workers are getting more money for longer hours, women have been employed, and liberal allowances are being made for families of officers and soldiers.

On the other hand, the opportunities for spending have been drastically curtailed. Foods, textiles, and footwear are rationed. Therefore, the amount expended for these necessities is fixed by the government and great economy is enforced.

Signatures Compared

RUMANIA TELLS BRITAIN IT WON'T BE INTIMIDATED

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 3.—Rumania announced tonight that she cannot be intimidated by British threats of economic reprisals for continuing to sell to Germany.

A government spokesman, in reply to the speech yesterday by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain, issued a statement which said that Rumania, as well as Chamberlain, wants peace in the Balkans. The statement also declared that on the economic question Rumania's sole policy was summed up by Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu two weeks ago.

"We do not intend to serve anybody's war aims with our goods," Gafencu declared at that time. He also said that Rumania retained the right to make her own decisions.

[Chamberlain warned that products of the British and French empires, such as rubber and cotton, which are vital to Rumania, would be sold to neutrals only upon guarantees that they limit their trade with Germany.]

Not Happy About Speech.

Caught between the German hammer and the British anvil, Rumanians are not happy about Chamberlain's speech. But they still find the Germans a more immediate menace and hope the British will be reasonable and not cut off vital raw materials simply because the Nazis force this country to sell to Germany.

The general public here does not know how hard Chamberlain bore down on Rumania in yesterday's speech, since it was considerably toned down before publication here. Officials know and are worried, but they argue that the British must be reasonable and must know that if it comes to a showdown Germany is at their very door and Britain is far away.

Rumania is doing her best to please everybody, but it is becoming more difficult. Germany's economic negotiator, Dr. Karl Clodius, really is putting his finger on Rumania this time, it is believed, and wants to send in experts to speed up exports.

Hard to Satisfy.

Further emphasizing Germany's campaign to obtain Rumanian products was the visit today of Hans Neubacher, trusted envoy of Fuehrer Hitler, to King Carol of Rumania. Neubacher, it was said, has authority to negotiate agreements without reference to the Berlin government.

The Rumanians' efforts to pacify Germany by putting 4½ million school children in the fields to work, as announced yesterday, so there will be a bigger harvest and more grain to sell abroad, have not satisfied the Germans.

The reich wants Rumania to demobilize and the country so organized that more goods may be sent to Germany. Rumanians will send all they can spare but they think it would be a little silly to start demobilizing in the present state of the European conflict and with the past record of one or two nearby countries in mind.

10 KILLED AS TROOPS FIRE ON STRIKERS AT MINE IN SOUTH AFRICA

LONDON, April 3 (AP).—A Reuters [British news agency] dispatch from N'dola, northern Rhodesia, today reported that 10 natives were killed and 20 wounded when Rhodesian [British South African] troops opened fire in an attempt to maintain order during a strike of copper mine workers in the N'kana concession of the Luangwa district. The troops fired, Reuters said, when 3,000 strikers, who were trying to prevent 150 strikebreakers from drawing pay, stoned police.

REPORTS CLASH ON PRODUCTION OF WARPLANES

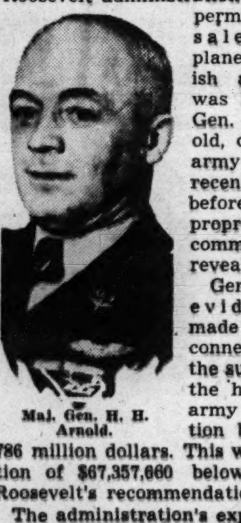
BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The Roosevelt administration's excuse for permitting huge sales of war planes to the British and French was hit by Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, in recent testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee, it was revealed today.



Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold.

Gen. Arnold's evidence was made public in connection with the submission to the house of an army appropriation bill totaling 786 million dollars. This was a reduction of $67,357,660 below President Roosevelt's recommendations.

The administration's explanation of its approval of plane sales to the empire nations was given to the house military affairs committee last week by Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring and Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson, who said plane manufacture in the United States had been increased so much by the empires' orders that the army could afford to permit postponed delivery.

False Figures Given.

To buttress this contention Johnson said that the airplane industry's output at the start of this year was at the rate of about 17,000 fuselages and 13,000 engines annually and would reach a total of between 30,000 and 40,000 planes by the end of the year.

Gen. Arnold, appearing before the subcommittee on March 7, gave official statistics showing a vast discrepancy in comparison with Johnson's estimate—a 200 per cent discrepancy.

Gen. Arnold testified that the monthly production capacity of the airplane factories was about 351, an annual average of approximately 4,200. The average monthly production during 1939 was only 200 planes. He estimated that production would reach about 800 a month some time in September.

Promised Prompt Deliveries.

Gen. Arnold said he had been assured by the plane manufacturers that the army would get its planes on scheduled time late this spring.

Army contracts carry a provision that the manufacturer must pay one-twentieth of 1 per cent on each airplane for each calendar day of delay, but not to exceed 15 per cent of the unit price of any plane.

To foreign buyers it would be a small item to pay this 15 per cent to get planes destined for the army, he admitted. He said he had heard rumors that the British and French were paying the 15 per cent penalty in their haste to get planes.

New Equipment Authorized.

The army appropriation measure provides for $103,710,000 for new equipment. This included $61,250,000 for antiaircraft artillery, semiautomatic rifles, tanks, antitank guns, and artillery; $12,000,000 for sea coast defenses, including fixed and mobile guns; $18,500,000 for augmentation and replacement of motor vehicles for both the regular army and the National Guard, and $9,700,000 for airplanes for the army and Guard.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, told the subcommittee that the acquirement of these critical needs was the army's great objective. The aim is to amass equipment for a force of one million men.

However, the chief of staff remarked, major developments in the European was should be paralleled by added precautions in this country.

Another Maneuver Planned.

Brig. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, assistant chief of staff, disclosed that the army plans its biggest peacetime concentration of men in the Watertown-Plattsburgh, N. Y., area this summer. Approximately 125,000 officers and men of the 1st army will participate in maneuvers.

Discussing the modernization of the army's field artillery, Gen. Marshall said the war department was following closely the tendency in foreign armies to replace part of the 75-mm. guns with 105-mm. howitzers. The ordnance department recently tested a 105-mm. howitzer which will soon be ready for production. Available funds will buy 48 of these weapons.

However, the army still feels that the modernized 75-mm. gun with its wide traverse, 46 degrees of elevation, and modern sighting equipment is especially fit for fire against mechanized targets and unsheltered personnel, he testified.

Garand Rifle Defended.

The subcommittee summoned Maj. Gen. C. M. Wesson, chief of ordnance, to answer criticisms of the Garand automatic rifle made by Gen. Milton A. Reckord, executive vice president of the National Rifle association. Gen. Reckord said the Garand rifle would not shoot accurately beyond 600 yards, and had unsatisfactory sights.

Gen. Wesson defended the Garand rifle, saying its sights were far superior to the Springfield rifle. In combat fighting, he noted, only snipers were usually required to aim at targets farther distant than 600 yards.

The appropriations committee recommended that the general staff make a prompt and thoro investigation of the controversy over the rifle. Funds available will buy 169,789 Garand rifles.

YOUNG U. C. REDS TO APPEAL BAN ON BROWDER SPEECH

Lorraine Lewis, president of the student communist club at the University of Chicago, said yesterday she will circulate petitions on the campus to request William Randall, assistant dean of students, to allow Earl Browder, national head of the communist party, to speak there April 12.

Dean Randall on Tuesday denied a permit for Browder's speech. He said yesterday that the petitions would not change his mind.

"Browder has been convicted of passport fraud," Dean Randall said, "and he is therefore not an acceptable speaker for the campus."

FRENCH SENTENCE 36 EX-DEPUTIES AS REDS' AGENTS

8 Other Communists Get Suspended Terms.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 3.—Convicted of "illegal activity harmful to the national defense," 44 former communist deputies today were sentenced to prison and fined. One, a mobilized soldier, was taken immediately to Santee prison. Each defendant was deprived of his civil and political rights for five years.

Jacques Duclos.

Nine fugitive former deputies who failed to appear and were judged in absentia were sentenced to five years in prison and fined 5,000 francs [about $100] each. Twenty-seven others were given the same terms but fined only 4,000 francs [about $80]. Eight others escaped with suspended prison sentences of four years, altho each must pay a 4,000 franc fine. They will be interned in concentration camps.

Army to Fix Their Homes.

Among the fugitives sentenced were Jacques Duclos, former vice president of the chamber of deputies, and Maurice Thorez, former general secretary of the communist party in France. They and their colleagues also will be tried later on treason charges which carry the death penalty.

In addition to denying them their civil rights, the court ruled that those sentenced must maintain their residences at a specific place to be fixed by military authorities.

Altho each defendant was found guilty, the court ruled there were gradations in guilt, which explains the differences in the sentences.

Four Convicted Over Letter.

The communists were tried for violating the decree law of Sept. 26 which dissolved the communist party in France, and also for accepting orders from the communist international and with trying to reëstablish the party as the Workers and Peasants' party.

Four of those tried also were found guilty of sending a letter to Edouard Herriot, president of the chamber of deputies, urging that peace proposals "due to the diplomatic initiative of the soviets" be considered.

The secret trial was conducted by a military court which included a private soldier, according to custom.

CHURCH PROVES KEEPING ON JOB PAYS DIVIDENDS

Conducts Senate Race by Flying to Chicago.

"They can't kid me or push me around on the floor; I know my business," said Ralph E. Church, speaking of his more than 20 years of legislative experience in Springfield and Washington.

Church, who has been the only Republican congressman from any of the 10 Chicago districts for the last six years, believes in hard work and temperate living for success in any endeavor, including politics. His career bears this out, for he has had a steady rise in the political field since he began pushing doorbells on his way to the legislature in 1916.

Commutes by Plane.

Church is now conducting a unique campaign for the Republican nomination for the United States senate, based on the theory that the shoemaker-stick-to-your-last theory brings its reward. He remains at his desk in Washington, flying to Chicago for week-end conferences and radio talks.

At 57 years of age Church still has curly brown hair with hardly a trace of gray. His face has few lines, and he looks vigorous, even pugnacious, particularly when he talks about the New Dealers in congress and some of the investigations which he has initiated there, such as the one which forced the termination of the Sabath bondholders' investigating committee, another which aided in bringing about the resignation of the general counsel of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, and others exposing wasteful expenditures.

Church has been in law practice in Chicago for 30 years and is at present senior member of the firm of Church & Traxler.

Born in Vermilion County.

Church was born on a farm near Catlin, Vermilion county, Illinois, on May 5, 1883.

Church attended the neighborhood country school and the Danville High school, where he was graduated in 1903. He stayed close to the farm during these years and saved money to start his college career.

In the fall of 1903 Church went to the University of Michigan, where he waited on tables for five years and took a combination eight year literature and law course in six years. In 1908 he came to Northwestern university to finish his law training, receiving a master's degree in 1909. This also involved extra hard work—a matter of getting 55 hours credit from October to June. He took an A. B. degree at Michigan and LL. B. and A. M. degrees at Northwestern.

Headed Class Grid Team.

At Michigan Church was too poor and busy to join a fraternity, but he was captain of his class football team, treasurer of the athletic association, and a member of the Webster debating society. At Evanston he joined Phi Kappa Psi.

During summer vacations Church widened his knowledge of the world and tried to make a little money. One of his jobs was as a guard at the St. Louis exposition, a job Uncle Joe Cannon of Danville got for him. In the summer of 1906 he went to Europe on a freight boat, rode a bicycle thru Ireland and sold stereopticon views. In the summer of 1908 he had a job in the office of Roy O. West, a second cousin, at $5 a week.

Admitted to Bar in 1909.

In the summer of 1909, after he had promised his mother he would not speculate, Church went to work for E. T. Konsberg, a fraternity brother, in an investment house. Later that year he was admitted to the bar and went into the law office of Knapp & Campbell at 208 South La Salle street. For seven years he worked for small wages. In 1916 Church ran for the legislature from the 6th senatorial district. His first law firm, Church & McNitt, was also formed that year. It was the year of his mother's death, but she had the satisfaction of seeing him nominated for office, and Republican nomination in those days was equivalent to election.

In 1917, while in the legislature, Church joined the Citizens' Military Training corps camp at Fort Sheridan. His career there was ended by the mumps. His age and physical weakness resulting from this trouble kept him out of the second officers' camp, and he was rejected for service. In 1915 Church helped initiate the Plattsburg camps at Fort Sheridan. He is a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve.

Married in 1918.

In 1918 Church was married to Marguerite Stitt of New York City, daughter of a leading Methodist layman and owner of the Adler Gloves company. They have three children, Ralph J., a sophomore at Princeton university, and William Stitt and Marjorie Williams, who are in preparatory schools in Washington.

Church was elected to the legislature without factional support and has been an independent Republican ever since. He was reëlected seven successive times with increasing majorities. While in the legislature he forced the investigation of the sanitary district pay roll, with its resulting scandal and trials. In 1934 he was elected to Congress, representing urban and suburban Chicago and the agricultural sections of Lake county. He was reëlected in 1936 and 1938 with increasing majorities.

Second on Naval Committee.

In congress Church is second ranking member of the committee on naval affairs and a member of the committee on patents. He is credited with the reopening of the Great Lakes Naval Training station. In 1939 he was appointed by Congress as a delegate to the Interparliamentary union at Oslo, Norway.

He made his permanent home in Evanston in 1908 and has a residence at Church street and Sheridan road.

SURVEY PLANNED IN DRAFTING OF COUNTY BUDGET

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, was authorized yesterday to appoint a committee to make a survey of the personnel of county offices for use in drafting next year's budget. The committee will include representatives of civic organizations and will be similar in purpose to the one appointed by Mayor Kelly to search out possible savings in the cost of city government.

Commissioner Maurice F. Kavanagh will be chairman of the county committee, which will include Lee J. Howard, county auditor, and a representative of the county controller's office.

"There will be such representatives of civic groups as to assure the public we are not seeking a whitewash as far as possible economy is concerned," Smith said. A fund of $20,000 for the survey was appropriated in the 1940 budget. At that time it was planned to have the board's finance committee make the survey.

DEWEY ASSURED OF WISCONSIN'S FULL DELEGATION

Returns from 2,500 of the state's 3,011 precincts gave the top man of four delegates at large pledged to Dewey 188,215 votes, compared with 113,648 for the leading Vandenberg candidate. Dewey's district delegates all won by safe margins.

In the Democratic delegate race from the same precincts President Roosevelt polled 262,325 votes, compared with 85,489 for John Nance Garner. The vote for Garner delegates, who campaigned in direct opposition to a third term, when added to the vote for the Republican delegates, swelled the count against the third term to a total of 387,352.

Vets Indorse 23 Ex-Service Men on Harmony Ticket

Twenty-three war veterans are among the harmony ticket Democrats who are seeking state and county political offices in next Tuesday's primary, Lawrence J. Fenlon, president of the United Democratic Service Men's organization, said yesterday. The organization has indorsed the entire regular Democratic ticket, Fenlon said.

REPUBLICANS GO TO BURKE'S AID IN NEBRASKA FIGHT

Colleagues Laud Senator for His Courage.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lincoln, Neb., April 3.—Nebraska approaches its primary election next Tuesday with chief interest centering in the Democratic contest in which Senator Edward R. Burke is opposed for renomination by Gov. R. L. Cochran.

"The result is of national interest," Attorney C. J. Campbell, Burke's state manager, said today. "It will be terrible if a man of Burke's ability and courage can be struck down because he has opposed certain New Deal measures. I believe he will be renominated."

Many Republicans, it is reported, are going to the aid of Senator Burke in this section of the state, where the old line Bryan Democrats have rallied behind him. Burke is said to be well in the lead in this county despite the activity of state pay rollers against him. In Omaha he is regarded as being in an even race with Gov. Cochran.

50 Senators Laud Burke.

In order for Republicans in the larger cities to vote for Burke they must change their registration, and this is being done in many instances. In the rural districts they merely have to call for Democratic ballots. The indorsement of former Gov. Arthur J. Weaver, Republican candidate for the senate, by Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.] undoubtedly will drive many Republicans into the Burke camp.

More than 50 United States senators have written letters to the Burke headquarters praising the senator for his honesty and courage. These come from administration senators who have opposed Burke as well as from those who voted with him against the court packing and other New Deal measures.

Senator Burke, it is conceded, is not at all times politically wise in his votes, but he has shown a national viewpoint and has the courage of his convictions, these letters assert.

Must Stand on Own Feet.

"If Nebraska accepts the theory of representative government, when, after a representative is chosen, he is to stand entirely on his own feet and vote his own convictions, then Nebraska has the ideal senator," wrote Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], who observed that Burke was dead wrong in some of his votes. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] referred to Senator Burke as one of the most courageous men in public office.

"Whether the mere politician, who seeks to please all sides, thereby strengthens himself is an open question," he declared. "I am inclined to think that in Nebraska, at least, there is such an appreciation of frankness and fair dealing that the politician who relies solely upon the tricks of his trade may be due for a great shock.

His Election Predicted.

"Recently I met a very able and experienced citizen, an outstanding leader who appears to have the faculty of divining what is the composite thought of Nebraska. He stated it as his settled conviction that I would be nominated in the primary and elected in November.

"He went on to explain that the matter closest to the hearts of Nebraska citizens is the wish and determination to keep us out of war. With that I, of course, fully agreed."

For the future, Senator Burke merely has pledged himself to continue to give his best judgment on every question that is presented.

Gives Insurance Warning.

Nebraska is the home of several large insurance companies and Senator Burke has warned in his report of the monopoly investigation in Washington, D .C., that, despite the soundness of the companies, they are marked for government control.

"The drive against the insurance companies," he said, "which undoubtedly will result in a proposal for legislation to give the Securities and Exchange commission and possibly other agencies authority over them, is not actuated by any concern for the safety of the funds of policy holders, but is part of a much broader movement to vest in the government complete economic power."

VIEW WISCONSIN VOTE AS G. O. P. VICTORY OMEN

Garner Showing Puts Hole in Third Term Boom.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Washington resounded today with the implications of the primary vote in Wisconsin yesterday. Outstanding conclusions drawn from the results of the balloting were:

1. By decisively defeating Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey takes a long lead in the race for the Republican nomination for President.

2. The polling of close to 30 per cent of the Democratic vote by Vice President John N. Garner in competition with President Roosevelt gives the third term movement a serious setback.

3. The polling of a considerably larger vote for Republican than for Democratic candidates indicates that the swing away from the New Deal evidenced in the 1938 elections still is in progress and that Wisconsin probably will go Republican next November.

Surprised by Decisive Margin.

Republican leaders were greatly surprised by the size of Dewey's victory over Vandenberg. They are inclined to regard it as enormously significant.

There were strong reasons to believe that Vandenberg would make a more compelling appeal to the Wisconsin electorate than Dewey, and even the least optimistic Vandenberg partisans expected the senator to obtain a substantial share of the delegates.

The returns indicating that Dewey had won all the delegates by thumping majorities fairly dazed the Vandenberg followers and caused some of them to declare privately that the senator virtually has been eliminated as a serious presidential possibility.

Senator Vandenberg himself met his colleagues and newspaper reporters with customary urbanity and good humor, professing to be undaunted by the primary returns, but declining to discuss the matter for publication.

Still in the Race.

Howard Lawrence, chairman of the Vandenberg committee in Lansing, Mich., declared the senator still is in the race.

"I want to thank the thousands of Wisconsin Republicans who joined with us in our belief that Senator Vandenberg should be nominated for President," said Lawrence. "We did not win in this preliminary skirmish, but this voluntary movement attracted a powerful following considering the fact that Senator Vandenberg took no part in it."

As a result of the primary in New York yesterday, Dewey is assured of the votes of upward of 77 of the 92 delegates from that state to the Republican national convention. He has entered the New Jersey primary where he has no opposition up to date.

The Garner vote in Wisconsin upset the equanimity of the third term boosters, who had expected the President to snow under the opposition to his renomination. They had not expected Garner to poll more than 10 per cent of the total vote. They didn't find it so easy to laugh off the 30 per cent opposition recorded by the Garner vote for the reason that if anywhere near that number of Democrats should refuse to vote for Mr. Roosevelt in the November election, he would be disastrously defeated.

Red Cross Stations

Establishment of Red Cross emergency first aid stations at seven locations in the Cook county forest preserves was announced yesterday by James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross. The stations will be at division headquarters as follows:

Division 1 — River and Foundry roads, north of Des Plaines. 2—Devon and Milwaukee avenues. 3—Belmont avenue and the Des Plaines river. 4—17th avenue south of Cermak road, North Riverside. 5—Wolf road and 95th street, at Maple lake. 5A—87th street and Western avenue. 6—Schwab road, Thornton.

BUILDERS DEMAND CANDIDATES PUSH ROAD PROGRAM

The Illinois Road Builders' association asked its members yesterday to pay close attention to the attitudes of primary candidates on problems which hinder highway modernization.

"This association takes no part in politics," Taylor G. Soper, executive secretary, explained, "but it is vitally interested in development of a highway system adequate to meet the present needs of the Illinois motoring public.

"We have worked for years to push a program based on the long range needs of motorists. Such a program could be hamstrung within a few months if key officials, from precincts on up to Springfield and Washington, are elected with the wrong attitude toward the roads—and especially toward the fate of the road tax dollar."

BUILDING BOOM—IN TAX PRISONS—IS ENVISIONED

Unless the New Deal is stopped there soon will be a building boom in prisons for debtors who cannot pay some government taxes, Charles W. Hadley, a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general, declared last night. He spoke at a G. O. P. organization meeting at 7055 Wentworth avenue in the 17th ward.

"Under the New Deal," Hadley said, "the power to tax has become the power to jail the citizen too poor to pay certain taxes. Following the practice of the old world despotisms, the New Dealers, both in states and the nation, have usurped the power to jail citizens for failure to comply with rules, regulations, and edicts not on the statute books.

"In many of these cases the citizens are denied the right of a fair trial. Their prosecutors, judges, and juries often are the same men—who are government employés."

ROCKFORD CLOTHIER DIES.

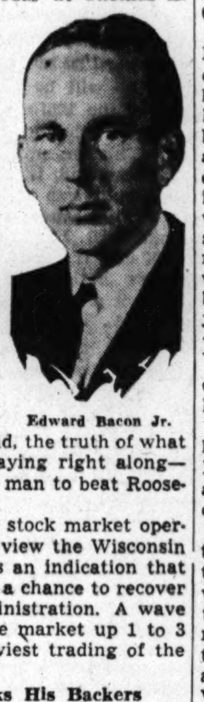
Awaits Influx of "Fence Sitters" Into Camp.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 3.—There was much jubilation today at Thomas E. Dewey headquarters over the candidate's overwhelming victory in the Wisconsin presidential primary.



Edward Bacon Jr.

Dewey's managers derived especial satisfaction from the heavy vote rolled up by the racket smashing New York district attorney in comparison with that of President Roosevelt in the Democratic primary against Vice President Garner. It showed, they said, the truth of what they have been saying right along—that Dewey is the man to beat Roosevelt.

Even New York stock market operators appeared to view the Wisconsin primary results as an indication that business will have a chance to recover under a new administration. A wave of buying sent the market up 1 to 3 points in the heaviest trading of the year.

Dewey Thanks His Backers

Dewey, his face wreathed in a smile, expressed his gratification.

"I'm deeply grateful to the people of Wisconsin for the confidence they have shown in me," he said.

Dewey sent telegrams of thanks to his winning delegates and to Edward Bacon Jr., his Wisconsin manager, and to Carl Rix, a chief adviser in the campaign.

Dewey's managers, interpreting yesterday's results, expressed the belief that the Wisconsin victory will convert a number of fence-sitters and that Dewey will amass a huge vote next Tuesday in the Illinois preferential primary where he is unopposed and will defeat Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg again in the Nebraska primary on the same date.

Edwin F. Jaeckle, chairman of the executive committee of the Republican state committee of New York, said the "Dewey success in Wisconsin is a trend that augurs well for the Republican party this year."

Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms, co-manager of the Dewey campaign, prepared to leave tomorrow for a tour of Oregon, Washington, and Colorado, speaking to Republican groups and conferring with party leaders.

It was Mrs. Simms who cheered several members of the Dewey party last Friday night when the Milwaukee auditorium was only half filled for his appearance. They called her up at the New York headquarters and she told them not to worry, that it was a good crowd considering the hot mayoralty fight, and once more predicted the Dewey victory.

CHARGES C. I. O. UNION PLOTTING WITH REDS TO THREATEN CANAL

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—Representative Frank B. Keefe [R., Wis.] asserted in the house today that "the present leadership" of the National Maritime union [C. I. O.], "conniving with the agents of Stalin," was attempting to place itself in position to tie up the Panama canal in the event of a national emergency.

Keefe mentioned Joseph Curran, president, and Harry Bridges as among the leaders to whom he referred.

He said that Curran and Bridges had sent to Panama Harry Stoudt, who Keefe declared was a graduate of a secret communist party waterfront school, to organize on behalf of C. I. O. maritime unions.

"The present leadership [of the National Maritime union and affiliated organizations], while professing to have the interests of the seamen at heart," Keefe said, "has for years been secretly conniving with the agents of Stalin to exercise complete control of our merchant marine, and in the event of national emergency which might involve war with the soviet, would be in a position by means of sabotage to completely wreck not only our merchant marine but perhaps its most important adjunct, the Panama canal."

DEWEY MANAGER HAILS RESULTS IN WISCONSIN POLL

The victory of Thomas E. Dewey in Wisconsin's election Tuesday supplied convincing evidence that he is the choice of Republicans for the Presidency and that he can win it, Leonard C. Reid, Illinois manager for Dewey, asserted yesterday.

"I believe Illinois Republicans will second the motion of their Wisconsin brethren at the primary polls next Tuesday, and will return a flood of ballots marked for Dewey," said Reid.

Reid said Dewey is winning the nation now and and if nominated will win in November.

START BUILDING NEW SCHOOL FOR CRIPPLED SOON

James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, announced yesterday that ground will be broken soon for a new high school for crippled children. The site is on property recently purchased by the board adjacent to the Spalding school at 1628 Washington boulevard. The estimated cost of construction is $400,000. The new school will provide accommodations for all crippled children now in the Morrill branch of Lindblom High school and in the Sabin branch of Tuley High school.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1940, by The Chicago Tribune.

DISCLOSE SMITH PROMPTED SUIT ON SLUSH FUND

Reveal He Hinted Action While in Exile.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—Further inquiry into the strange death of F. Lynden Smith disclosed today that he himself prompted the suit for accounting of the 2 per cent slush fund brought against him and eight other high Horner appointees in which State Policeman Sylvester Steskal is the plaintiff of record.

Smith, director of public works and former Horner campaign manager, was found dead in a bathtub of St. John's hospital on the morning of March 9, officially a suicide. On the same day, incidentally, the first testimony was taken from his co-defendants, headed by Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman and Patronage Boss William Walsh.

Plans Revealed in Florida.

Smith, while a political exile from the Horner camp for the duration of the present primary campaign, told a few trusted intimates at his Florida retreat last February of the possibilities of such litigation tying up Democratic funds collected from state employés. It is now learned that he thereafter conferred by long distance telephone with a Springfield lawyer, not Arthur M. Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, attorney of record for Steskal, said this afternoon that he never conferred with Smith. This statement conforms with other information. Fitzgerald said the state policeman walked into his office and retained him without telling of any outside assistance in financing the suit.

Smith, as director of public works, was Steskal's boss. Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, whose gubernatorial candidacy is regarded as having been benefited by the litigation, has denied any forehand knowledge of the litigation.

Tells of Irregularities.

Whether Smith planned to tell from the witness stand all of his secrets of the state house slush fund is now a matter of speculation. The complaint charges that the defendants diverted money to their own use.

Smith told friends of several irregularities in the handling of Democratic campaign funds. His version of United States Senator James Slattery's strong box episode is now being repeated in part at political meetings by Lieut. Gov. Stelle.

Smith, who had accepted much blame for state house scandals rather than harm the ticket he supported, demonstrated in his final months that he was ready to shift some of this responsibility. It was learned after his death that he had talked with federal men about the incomes of some of his estranged political associates and about alleged alliances between labor racketeers, politicians, and certain interests doing business with the state and with the political machine.

Honorary Colonel

DOROTHY ANNE YOUNG.

Lexington, Ky., April 3 [Special].—Dorothy Anne Young, Glencoe, Ill., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Young, has been elected honorary cadet colonel in command of the University of Kentucky R. O. T. C. regiment. As sponsor of the entire military unit on the university campus, Miss Young will head all military parades with the cadet colonel of the regiment and preside at all social functions held in the military department at the university. She is a senior in the college of arts and sciences of the university.

PROF. T. V. SMITH RAPS STELLE IN BACKING HERSHEY

Danville, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Congressman T. V. Smith started from here today on a one-man campaign thru southern Illinois counties in behalf of Harry B. Hershey, Democratic candidate for governor, James M. Slattery for United States senator and the candidates associated with them. Smith addressed a Democratic rally tonight in Centralia and during the rest of the week will appear in Fairfield, Eldorado, Elizabethtown and Metropolis.

At a rally here last night Smith, who is a professor at the University of Chicago, drew a contrast between the two gubernatorial aspirants.

"Do we want a man for governor who is one type of man on the night shift and another on the day shift?" he asked. "Or do we want a man like Harry Hershey, who is not ashamed of himself on either the night or the day shift?

"The former friends of the present lieutenant governor [Stelle]—and I mean friends he once had in Chicago—turned him down when he asked them to support him for governor. They turned him down because he double crossed them once too often. Downstate party leaders wanted to demote him, so he deserted Democratic leadrship. Why? I don't know. I only suspct."

LUCAS RIDICULES STELLE'S WAR ON BEDSIDE CABINET

Accuses Hershey's Foe of Chicanery.

United States Senator Scott Lucas joined the regular Democratic forces battling the insurgent Democrats in Cook county last night and turned loose a scathing attack on Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, insurgent leader. In a radio address Lucas accused Stelle of political chicanery and charged him with keeping in jobs, while he was acting governor, the men he now berates as dictators.

"Why all this hullabaloo about a little group of men surrounding the governor?" Lucas demanded. "They are not asking the people of Illinois to select them to any state or federal office. They are the persons who logically would be expected to carry on when Gov. Horner's physicians ordered him to relinquish some of the numerous responsibilities of his office in the interest of his own health.

Worked with Them 5 Months.

"They are the same men with whom John Stelle worked for five months while he was acting governor when Gov. Horner was recuperating in Florida. If they were so politically immoral and so devoid of the virtue that men must have in public office; if they were corrupt, is it not somewhat strange that Mr. Stelle did not discover that fact while acting governor and discharge these men? He had the responsibility and the full power to issue such orders.

"Did he ever at any time make a statement to the public complaining about these men before he became a candidate for governor? Would he have condemned the so-called 'palace guard' had he been chosen as the harmony candidate for governor."

Hold 16 Meetings.

Five groups of regular Democratic candidates appeared before 16 ward and township meetings in Cook county, carrying the fight against their insurgent foes.

Senator James M. Slattery, seeking to succeed himself; Harry B. Hershey, candidate for governor on the harmony ticket; State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis, candidate for lieutenant governor; Congressman John C. Martin, candidate for state auditor, and State Senator Harold G. Ward, candidate for attorney general, were the state ticket candidates who led these squads. They covered all the north and northwest country towns, and massmeetings in the 6th, 27th, and 21st wards.

Hershey Discusses Labor.

"My sympathy for the cause of labor and the common people is not something new, nor just a pose for this campaign," he said. "My friendship for the cause of people who work dates from my youth. I was reared in a community of working people. I know their problems, their heartaches, their sorrows, and their joys. And I have their friendship. This is evidenced by the fact that labor in my own community and labor thruout the state have indorsed my candidacy."

Senator Slattery voiced praises for the manner in which President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull have met the emergencies of the European situation in the last year.

WIVES OF INSURGENT DEMOCRATS FETED BY WOMEN SUPPORTERS

Women supporting the insurgent Democratic forces feted the wives of two of the three insurgent candidates at a reception in the Hotel Sherman. Hundreds shook hands with Mrs. John Stelle, whose husband is campaigning for governor, and Mrs. Benjamin S. Adamowski, wife of the candidate for United States senator. Mrs. Edward J. Barrett, wife of the state auditor, seeking reëlection, was ill and unable to attend. The three candidates appeared briefly to greet the women.

COURT REFUSES NEW SHANAHAN WEDDING RULING

The Illinois Supreme court refused yesterday to reconsider its decision of Feb. 13 holding valid the deathbed marriage of David E. Shanahan, former speaker of the Illinois house of representatives, to his secretary, Helen Troesch. The court ruling in effect upheld the legality of Shanahan's will, in which he left most of his $850,000 estate to his widow. The will was drawn Oct. 5, 1936, the day of his marriage and 13 days before his death. The rehearing was asked by Mary and Margaret Flynn, cousins of Shanahan, who were principal heirs under a former will.

UNSHACKLE U. S. TRANSPORTATION, BROOKS DEMANDS

Asks Freedom for Lines to Spur Recovery.

Wayland Brooks, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, demanded in four meetings last night that the government remove all shackles from the nation's transportation systems.

Afterward he left for Cleveland, O., where he will be guest speaker tonight at the 100th anniversary celebration of the historic Tippecanoe club. This organization, the oldest Republican club in the central west, made Republican history with its slogan, "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too." Brooks will be heard on station W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system's nationwide network from 8:45 to 9 p. m., along with Senator Robert A. Taft and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio.

On Downstate Stations.

Six other stations in the downstate area will broadcast the program from 8:30 to 9 p. m. They are WDWS, Champaign; WDAN, Danville; WGIL, Galesburg; WHBF, Rock Island; WCBS, Springfield, and KXOK, St. Louis.

Brooks spoke last night before a combined meeting of the 22d and 23d wards, at a 47th ward meeting, at a Berwyn meeting, and at a rally in the Stevens hotel.

Asks End of Meddling.

"Ours is a nation on wheels," the candidates declared. "We must regulate, but must stop all meddling and interference with our transportation.

"More than a million men would be added to the personnel of the railroads alone were the restrictions removed and the management permitted to supply the service for which their plants are best suited.

"Not only would this work for the good of the nation as a whole, but it would permit Illinois and the central west to send their products to market at a cost enabling them to compete profitably with the other sections of the country."

A. C. LEWIS PREDICTS G. O. P. WILL WIN IN NOVEMBER ELECTIONS

A. C. Lewis, a Republican candidate for state treasurer, returned to Chicago yesterday after completing his campaign in 101 downstate counties. He predicted victory for Republican candidates in the November election.

"The people of Illinois, in overwhelming numbers, are turning to the Republican party as the political instrumentality which can bring a return of prosperity," Lewis said. "Thruout the farm districts I found the farmers were completely disgusted with New Deal regimentation and burocratic control.

"The business men are fed up with New Deal control, directions, and reports. They complain they are forced to spend more time in making what they deem useless government reports than they do in conducting their own business."

Lewis said he found the laboring man is dissatisfied with WPA and wants to regain his job in private industry.

Mary was a magnet to men

Mary, Queen of Scots, drew men to her by an irresistible charm. At her feet were Frederick, King of Denmark; Eric, King of Sweden; the Earl of Arran; Darnley, Bothwell and others. For this Queen was a woman "with white skin and soft hair"—and the great gift of friendship.

The first makers of Highland Queen whisky named their forthright Scotch for Mary. That was long ago. But this Scotch is still faithful to its traditions—a comradely Scotch, light and delicate, yet retaining rare flavor and bouquet.

OFFER NEW DATA TO PROVE GREEN AIDED BY RIVALS

Women Ask G.O.P. Chiefs to Study Evidence.

The Women's Regular Republican organization of Oak Park called upon the Republican state central committee yesterday to assemble and pass upon evidence which the women assert is proof that the Kelly-Nash-Horner Democratic organization is supporting Dwight H. Green's candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

The request, by Mrs. John K. Russell, chairman of the Oak Park group, was made after reports had reached the women that some of the committee members had criticized A. K. Stiles, state chairman. Stiles last week examined the evidence and said he believed the charges against Green to be "well founded and substantially correct."

Obtain New Evidence.

Mrs. Russell said yesterday that as the result of subsequent findings, her group is prepared to submit new evidence that:

1. Men high in command at Green headquarters and 16 ward leaders have been connected with the city and state Democratic machines or shown to be actually on the Democratic pay rolls.
2. Kelly-Nash-Horner leaders, precinct captains and workers are soliciting votes for Green.
3. Green is strongly allied with New Deal Democrats in Washington and has benefitted financially from his associations with them.

The first two charges, Mrs. Russell asserted, are supported by documentary evidence.

Miss Olive Sterritt, 519 Aldine street, signed a sworn statement that a Kelly-Nash precinct captain solicited her vote for Green, in whose home ward she lives. William H. Rankin signed a statement that Marvin J. Bas, president of the 42d ward organization supporting Green, was Democratic ward leader of that ward in 1936 and urged Republicans to vote Democratic.

Charge Democrats Aid.

Mrs. Russell said also that a canvass by her group had revealed among leaders of the veterans' division at Green's headquarters the names of Hamlet Ridgeway, Emmet Grady, and John Guminski. In her possession, she added, is a photograph showing all three with Mayor Kelly, taken while they were working for his reëlection.

In support of the third charge, Mrs. Russell showed a check for $10,000 made out to Green by the Utilities Power and Light corporation and cashed by him. The Oak Park organization is prepared to prove she said, that Green was retained as attorney for the corporation at the request of Walter J. Cummings, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, and that he also was closely associated with William J. Froelich, Cummings' personal attorney.

Club Assails Record.

The Amalgamated Improvement associations, also announced yesterday that it has documentary evidence that Green's candidacy is "enmeshed in utility and traction manipulations." The statement said:

"This damaging evidence of Green's connection with utility interests should warn taxpayers, car riders, gas and electric users, they cannot afford to permit the election as governor of a utilities corporation lawyer, giving him power to appoint a state commerce commission that would favor the utilities at the expense of their customers."

Senator Taft Withdraws; Leaves Jersey to Dewey

Trenton, N. J., April 3 [Special].—United States Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio today withdrew his name from the New Jersey preferential primary as a candidate for President, leaving the field open to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York. In a letter to Secretary of State Thomas A. Mathis today, Senator Taft stated that petitions filed in his behalf by a group of citizens an hour before the midnight deadline on Monday were presented without his knowledge or consent.

LYONS PROMISES TO PUT STOP TO NEEDLESS TAXES

Pledges to End Fund Waste in State.

When Republican administrations are installed next January in Springfield and in Washington a stop will be put to the waste that is to blame for needless taxation, Richard J. Lyons declared last night in his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

Lyons spoke before the Building Trades council in the Stevens hotel and later on the south side and in Berwyn. He asserted that the government would be operated for the people after Jan. 1, and that they would be freed from exploitation, including the 3 per cent sales tax on food which now amounts to 17 million dollars a year in Illinois.

Pledges No New Burden.

"This saving," the candidate said, "will not result in putting any burden on small home owners, farmers, or any other group of citizens. The Illinois sales tax yields money that is not needed."

After quoting from reports of the state department of finance to show that 87 million dollars in sales taxes went into the treasury last year, Lyons continued:

"The pretext was that the money was needed to care for our needy and our aged. The fact is that only 48 millions were alloted by the state for relief. That leaves 29 millions, spent for assorted other purposes, including pay roll padding and waste.

"It is obvious that the 17 million dollar food tax can be dispensed with and that there still will be enough money to care for the needy and the aged better than they are being cared for now. Those 17 millions will improve the living standards of the people of our state.

Business Stimulation Seen.

"It will be money made free to be turned into the channels of trade to stimulate business and help the unemployed. I don't think any one will deny that the small business men of Illinois could use their share of this increased spending. It is to these little business men that we must look for a big rôle in restoring prosperity in state and nation."

Lyons will speak tonight at 1016 North Dearborn street at a mass meeting for Young Republicans.

Wife of Former Plastic Surgeon Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Edna Purdy Walsh Fernel filed a divorce suit yesterday in the Circuit court at Freeport in Stephenson county against Dr. Jean Paul Fernel of Chicago, formerly a plastic surgeon. Mrs. Fernel, who charged cruelty, has been a resident of Freeport for more than a year.

CRIME RECORDS OF ENUMERATORS HOLD UP CENSUS

Crystal Falls, Mich., April 3 [Special].—Taking of the census in this town of 2,500 population has been delayed because of complaints concerning the characters of the two enumerators. One is a confessed embezzler and the other once was convicted of bootlegging.

The enumerators are Alex Ross, 30 years old, and Frank P. Lee, 45, both Democrats. Ross was indicted by a federal grand jury last year for the embezzlement of $1,700 from the First National Bank of Crystal Falls, of which he was assistant cashier.

Ross waived preliminary examination last November before United States Commissioner George P. Quinnel at Marquette, Mich. Shortly afterward he confessed to the embezzlement. He is at liberty on $1,500 bond and is scheduled to go on trial this month.

Lee was convicted of bootlegging during the prohibition era and was fined.

The two were named enumerators by William L. Johnson, also a Democrat, who is census supervisor for the Ironwood district.

Judge Refuses to Ban Movies of Sick Boy, 12

Federal Judge William H. Holly denied a temporary injunction yesterday to restrain Paramount Pictures, Paramont News Films, and Balaban & Katz theaters from showing newsreel pictures of Sheldon Belaffsky, 12 years old, who is in Mount Sinai hospital suffering from a rare disease, staphylococcus septicemia. The court's ruling does not affect a $25,000 suit brought in behalf of the boy, charging that his privacy was invaded and his life endangered by photographers who entered his room without the consent of his parents.

GREEN ASSAILS STATE PLUNDER IN INSURANCE

Demands Politics Be Taken from Department.

Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor, charged yesterday that the Horner administration has used the state department of insurance for political plunder. He spoke at meetings in Belvidere, Boone county, Rockford, Winnebago county, and then returned to the Chicago area for meetings in Berwyn, Cicero, and Forest Park.

"The handling of the department of insurance is one of the most important business tasks of the governor," Green said. "Insurance represents one of the greatest means for protection and for the accumulation of savings by our people.

Demands Better Supervision.

"The present practice of the state house gang in gathering all the insurance business of the state for two or three political favorites must end. The supervision and control of insurance should be placed upon the highest possible business plane.

"The present administration has been brazen beyond words in using the department of insurance and the insurance on state contracts as part of the political plunder it demanded and received.

Free Bureau of Politics.

"Insurance reaches into nearly every home in the state. There are nearly 64,000,000 policyholders in the United States. The department of insurance of the state of Illinois should be headed by men of the highest standing in this business and who are free from a political background or control."

Green said the practice of using the department as a political plum would be ended with his election as governor.

LEOPOLD DECLERCQ DIES.

Atkinson, Ill., April 3 [Special].—Leopold Declercq, 79, last person born on the rock island in the Mississippi river before it was taken over for what is now one of the nation's largest arsenals, died yesterday in his home west of Atkinson. He had lived in this community more than 75 years. Seven children survive.

HAT COMPANY SHUTS DOWN AS WORKERS STRIKE

The American Needle and Novelty company, hat manufacturers at 2331 North Washtenaw avenue, was closed down yesterday after employés called a strike, which was abetted by Thomas Gawel, maintenance engineer in the building. Gawel, who lives at 1911 Crystal street, has two daughters, Theresa and Jean, who are among the strikers.

The United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, won a labor board election at the plant last week, but its spokesmen asserted Tuesday that the company refused to grant a 25 per cent wage increase. According to company officials, Gawel, who also belongs to an A. F. of L. union, turned off the gas and elevator power in the building Tuesday and threatened to bomb it.

He then barricaded himself in the basement. He was arrested by Sergt. James Lynch and was arraigned yesterday before Judge Joseph Hermes in Shakespeare avenue court on a disorderly conduct charge. Judge Hermes freed him after he learned that Gawel had been discharged from his post as maintenance engineer.

MAN—IN SEVEN PARAGRAPHS

By CALEB

SCIENCE, through its magic instruments of history, archaeology, paleontology, geology and philology, has peered backward down time's stairway into the chaos-pit whence came Man. Divided into twelve enormous episodes, or "Ages," here is the picture:

Two thousand centuries B. C. (Eolithic Age) lived the Piltdown man, in the Third Ice Age. He chipped flint, worked bone and wood, was definitely sub-human, and dwelt in caves. Science calls him Eoanthropus, the "dawn man," and he was more nearly ape than human. The first skeleton of him was discovered in Sussex, England, in 1911.

One thousand centuries B. C. (Chellean Age) finds our ancestor still a cave-dweller, eating raw or putrid flesh, roots and fruit, and shaping flint for tools and weapons. The ice-sheets have now withdrawn for another eighty thousand years.

Five hundred centuries B. C. (Mousterian Age) marks the end of the Neanderthaler—who has now advanced to the discovery of fire (pre-history's sublimest event), has adopted skins for clothing, and indulges in ceremonial burial . . . three great steps forward.

Two hundred and fifty centuries B. C. (Aurignacian Age) witnesses the Cro-Magnard's arrival as "the true human." The 10,000 years of the Fourth Ice Age descend, but his faithful ally is the reindeer, from whose antlers he fashions implements; and in addition he has discovered the art of drawing, learned to paint himself with red ochre, and created trinkets and statuettes.

During the next one hundred and thirty centuries (Salutrian and Magdalenian Ages), he invents bone whistles, needles, bows and arrows, fishhooks, buttons and pins; encloses paint in tubes of bone; domesticates the horse; and steps timidly out of caves into huts. Forty centuries more (Azilian Age), and he has built rafts and boats, become a weaver, discovered rollers or primitive wheels; and perhaps gained the ability to write. Sixty centuries later (New Stone Age), he emerges a tiller of the soil, milks cows, owns dogs, uses gold, makes pottery and stringed instruments, and has buildings for worship.

Ten centuries more (Bronze Age), and he smelts metals; works with copper, tin and antimony; uses bone studs, and invents trumpets and teapots. Finally, between 1000 B. C. and 1900 A. D. (Iron and Aluminum Ages), he achieves printing, machines and mechanical transport; graduates into science; discovers electricity; and develops air transport and radio-activity. . . . Yet the crowning irony of this whole magnificent, two-thousand-and-nineteen centuries-long saga is the fact that to this evolving immortal war was unknown—until his civilization began!

ADAMOWSKI HITS MACHINE RULE OF CENSUS TAKERS

Charges Workers Forced to Aid Campaign.

Benjamin S. Adamowski, insurgent Democratic candidate for the United States senate, charged yesterday that thousands of federal census takers in Illinois are being forced to do political work for the Kelly-Nash and Nudelman Democratic organizations. Adamowski said this is a violation of the Hatch "clean politics" act and promised he will demand a Washington investigation of the situation.

Adamowski also expanded his charge of Tuesday that the regular Democratic forces are now engaged in the biggest slush fund levy in the history of the state. Not only are civil service workers being forced to pay into the new slush fund collection, but Republican officeholders left in by the Democratic administration were being levied upon, he said.

Recalls Earlier Charge.

Adamowski recalled that he had issued a warning several weeks ago that census workers would be used in the present primary. His charge then brought a response from Washington that these workers, who are on the job only from April 2 to April 16, must not engage in political activity.

"The people of Illinois are being given another demonstration of machine politics," Adamowski said. "Despite provisions of the Hatch act the federal census is being used as a political football by the cohorts of the Kelly-Nash-Nudelman forces.

"A few weeks ago I said these positions would be used as political plums; that many of the census enumerators were being chosen for their political allegiance to the proper persons rather than for their qualifications to carry out this important work. This is another example of the desperation to which the opposition has been driven by the Stelle-Adamowski-Barrett ticket.

Pledges to Take Action.

"The citizens of Illinois can now see why my opponent, Senator James M. Slattery, and Senator Scott Lucas fought the amendments to the Hatch bill which would have included state employés partly paid in federal money in its provisions. I pledge that as nominee for United States senator, it will be my pleasure to contact officials in Washington to take action against persons who have violated the provisions of the Hatch act in this primary campaign."

Adamowski said state employés were making their payments in Springfield yesterday at the offices of George Sprinkel, Sangamon county Democratic chairman, in the St. Nicholas hotel annex.

"The state employés must pay the Sangamon county chairman 2 per cent of their pay for seven months, or 14 per cent of the current check," he charged. "In Cumberland county they are paying the county chairman 10 per cent; in Clark county, they are being forced to pay 30 per cent.

"They are not only collecting by force from civil service workers, but even from holdover Republicans. They are desperate for money to be used against insurgent candidates next Tuesday."

GERMAINE AUSSEY.

New York, April 3 (AP).—John Ringling North, head of Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus, will marry Germaine Aussey, French movie actress, friends disclosed today. Miss Aussey, a 26 year old brunette, now is in Italy making a picture.

The 37 year old circus executive, nephew of the late John Ringling, met Miss Aussey in Paris this winter while on a European tour seeking circus talent.

North was married once before to Jane Donnelly of Pittsburgh. They were divorced in 1930.

TWO ISOLATED AT MANTENO; TYPHOID FEARED

Discovery of two suspected cases of typhoid at the Manteno state hospital was reported yesterday by Dr. Walter Baer, acting managing officer of the institution. The patients, a man and a woman, have been isolated pending an analysis of blood cultures by the state health department laboratories here.

Last summer a typhoid epidemic at Manteno cost 60 lives and resulted in the indictment of A. L. Bowen, state welfare director, on a charge of gross omission of duty. The state, at Bowen's first trial, blamed a polluted water supply for the epidemic. The trial ended in a jury disagreement after 96 hours. Date for the second trial has not been set.

Dr. Baer asserted there was no cause for alarm that another epidemic was pending. He said state health department tests have shown the water supply safe for drinking. New chlorination and filtering plants were put in operation a month ago. The two patients suspected of having typhoid were vaccinated against the disease last August.

GOLD STAR MOTHER DIES.

Cambridge, Ill., April 3 [Special].—Mrs. Sarah Clark, 83 years old, widow of a civil war soldier and a Gold Star mother, died this morning in her home at Cambridge. She was born in Arkansas on June 5, 1856, and married John Clark in 1878. She had lived in Cambridge since 1914. She leaves five sons and two daughters. One son was killed in the world war.

PREDICTS SWING FROM INDIANA'S LITTLE NEW DEAL

Young G. O. P. Official Rakes Rule of Machine.

The little New Deal in Indiana was arraigned for its sins last night by James E. Tucker, secretary of state, who addressed more than 600 persons at a banquet sponsored by the Women's Republican club of Hammond in the Masonic temple in that city. Tucker, 31 years old, is the only Republican now holding a high elective state office in Indiana.

The machine, headed by Paul V. McNutt, federal security commissioner and aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, is the prime mover in the Indiana New Deal and is supported by the 2 per cent club which levies on state pay rollers, Tucker said.

Raps Party of Despair.

"But against this machine, in 1938, the Republicans, without any money or patronage, returned more candidates to the legislature than did the Democrats," Tucker asserted. "The New Deal, in Indiana and Washington, has stamped itself as the party of despair."

He referred to the action of Frederick Van Nuys, one of the United States senators from Indiana, in recommending to President Roosevelt the appointment of John T. Rock as collector of internal revenue at Indianapolis.

"Van Nuys not only besmirched the name of Indiana," Tucker said, "but he threw a Rock at it. Rock has a record of gambling and liquor convictions, and Van Nuys laughs that off as boyish indiscretions. The people are tired of Van Nuys' indiscretions and will prove it at the next election.

He's Tired of Roosevelt.

"Sherman D. Minton, the other Indiana senator, fought the Hatch bill, designed to curb pernicious political activity by state machine pay rollers. Minton said he would be driven out of office if the Hatch bill passed. Thank you for that prophecy, Mr. Minton.

"Indiana and the rest of the country are tired of the Roosevelt family. We are particularly tired of President Roosevelt, the man on the flying trapeze, who swung from domestic problems to attempting to be a great world figure."

Brothers Burn to Death When Home Is Destroyed

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 3 [Special].—Irving Kellogg, two years old, and his brother, George, two months old, burned to death at their home in Comstock, a suburb today when lightning struck the two room home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvinius Kellogg. The mother was absent getting water when the house burst into flames. The house was consumed in 15 minutes.

NO SECRECY, NO CLIQUES, IS NEW MAYOR'S PLEDGE

Milwaukee to Install Zeidler April 16.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Administration without secrecy, without party control, and without cliques, was the promise made today by Mayor-Elect Carl F. Zeidler, 32 years old, in his first public statement following yesterday's unexpected defeat of Daniel Webster Hoan, for 24 years the Socialist mayor of Milwaukee.

Practically complete returns from yesterday's election showed Zeidler polled a majority of a little better than 11,000 votes. Of the 435 precincts in the city, 432 gave Zeidler 111,292, and Hoan 99,991. Zeidler carried 18 of the 27 wards.

The mayor-elect will have the support of a nonpartisan and sympathetic city council. Nonpartisans won 20 of the 27 seats yesterday. Seven seats went to Socialist and Farmer-Labor-Progressive candidates.

Inauguration Is April 16.

Zeidler will be inaugurated April 16, and until then he plans, apparently, to go along somewhat as he has during the campaign. He dropped in unexpectedly today at a meeting of the fund report committee of the Salvation Army, thanked the 150 persons present—whether they supported him or not—and said he wanted to make his first post-election public appearance at such a worthy gathering. Tonight he went to a Knights of Pythias meeting. Zeidler is a true nonpartisan, having no affiliation with any organized political party.

Between now and the time he becomes the actual mayor, Zeidler is expected to be in frequent consultation with his campaign advisers and with students of city government.

Pledges Coöperation.

"The nation watched the election in this city yesterday," Zeidler said in his statement. "Now the entire nation is going to watch Milwaukee go to work.

"The city government is going to coöperate with the citizens in making our program work. We will work out our problems together. In public meetings and over the air I shall keep in touch with you.

"There will be no secrecy, no party control, no cliques. The city is the cradle of democracy, and here in Milwaukee we must be dedicated to the task of preserving the American way of government. We are proud of our city's achievements.

Average Citizen in Mind.

"We are going to strive to keep its fine records and there are other fine records to aim for. The finest of these is written in the security and happiness of the individual citizen.

"In the months to come, when we discuss plans for tax reduction, or departmental consolidation, or the labor mediation board, or property reassessment, or the youth program, you and I must keep one picture in our minds behind all these problems.

GUTKNECHT EXPLAINS PLAN TO HELP CURE OF YOUNG CRIMINALS

Judge John Gutknecht, candidate for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney, said last night in a radio address that he will seek to establish a temporary detention home and a Cook county farm for boys if he is elected state's attorney.

"I believe in punishment—corrective punishment," he said. "The first offenders must be straightened out if possible. I favor and will work for the establishment of a temporary detention home for first offenders. This will be for young boys who need a taste of being locked up and deprived of their freedom. But they will not associate there with boys who are not first offenders.

"Then I will work for the creation of a Cook county farm for young boys, a detention home that is a farm where hard work and strong sun can sweat out of these budding criminals the wrong tendencies that prevent their developing into good citizens."

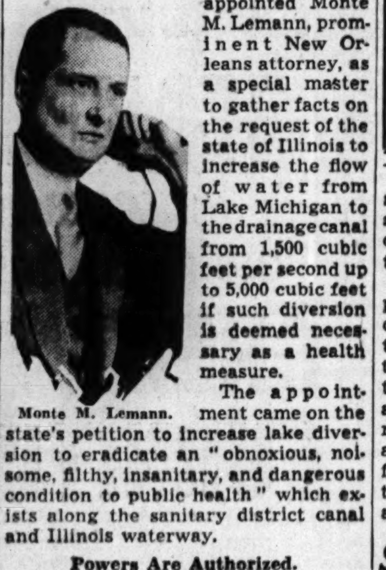
LAKE DIVERSION MASTER NAMED BY HIGH COURT

Hearings Will Be Held on Increase Plea.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The United States Supreme court today appointed Monte M. Lemann, prominent New Orleans attorney, as a special master to gather facts on the request of the state of Illinois to increase the flow of water from Lake Michigan to the drainage canal from 1,500 cubic feet per second up to 5,000 cubic feet if such diversion is deemed necessary as a health measure.



Monte M. Lemann.

The appointment came on the state's petition to increase lake diversion to eradicate an "obnoxious, noisome, filthy, insanitary, and dangerous condition to public health" which exists along the sanitary district canal and Illinois waterway.

Powers Are Authorized.

The court expressed doubt that the city needs additional diversion, but nonetheless appointed the special master to obtain facts on which a decision could be made in the petition brought by Illinois and contested by other lake states.

The special master was authorized to employ stenographic and clerical help, fix times and places for taking evidence, to issue subpenas to witnesses, including those of his own selection, and to administer oaths.

He was requested to deliver his report as speedily as possible. The report is to be printed by the Supreme court. The master is to be allowed expenses and "a reasonable compensation."

The order specifically charged Lemann to report on "the actual condition of the Illinois waterway by reason of the introduction of untreated sewage, and whether, and to what extent, if any, that condition constitutes an actual menace to the health of inhabitants of the complaining communities, and also with respect to the feasibility of remedial or ameliatory measures available to the state of Illinois without an increase in the diversion of water from Lake Michigan."

Court Issues Statement.

In announcing the special master's appointment the court said in part:

"By the decree of April 21, 1930, the state of Illinois and the sanitary district of Chicago were enjoined from diverting, on and after Dec. 31, 1938, any of the waters of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence system or watershed thru the Chicago drainage canal or otherwise in excess of the annual average of 1,500 cubic feet per second in addition to domestic pumpage.

"That date was fixed as affording adequate time, upon a liberal estimate, for the completion of the entire system designed for sewage treatment, together with controling works to prevent reversals of the Chicago river in times of storm.

"The state of Illinois has failed to show that it has provided all possible means at its command for the completion of the sewage treatment system as required by the decree as specifically enlarged in 1933. No adequate excuse has been presented for the delay.

"Nor has the state submitted appropriate proof that the conditions complained of constitute a menace to the health of the inhabitants of the complaining communities, or that the state is not able to provide suitable measures to remedy or ameliorate the alleged conditions without an increase in the diversion of water from Lake Michigan, in violation of the rights of the complainant states as adjudged by this court."

SENATORS BOOST HARBORS BILL BY 25 MILLION MORE

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—A senate appropriations subcommittee voted, 5 to 4, today to add $25,000,000 for rivers and harbors projects to the war department civil functions bill, a measure which it already had increased $45,000,000 above the house approved total.

As tentatively approved by the subcommittee, the bill calls for expenditures of $273,472,567, compared with budget estimates of $220,082,250. Chairman Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.] said the subcommittee expected to complete its action tomorrow and turn the measure over to the full committee.

Thomas said the projected increase in the rivers and harbors allotment would provide funds to start about 50 new projects, including a $4,000,000 improvement of the Missouri river from Kansas City, Mo., to Sioux City, Ia., and a $2,035,850 project on the upper Mississippi from the mouth of the Missouri to Minneapolis.

PREPAREDNESS IS BEST GUARANTEE OF PEACE: FORD

Preparedness is America's best guarante of peace, Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding the 6th corps area, said last night at the monthly meeting of the Cook county council of the American Legion in the city council chambers. His speech was in commemoration of Army day on Saturday, the 23d anniversary of America's entrance into the world war.

"The world war taught us a costly lesson in our neglect of national defense," Gen. Ford said. "We learned that trained men and equipment can't be improvised at a moment's notice. Patriotism and courage are not enough—we must have our men trained and our materials ready."

AFTER WEATHER WE'VE HAD, THIS IS A HEAT WAVE

A high temperature of 76 at 1 p. m. yesterday made the day the warmest of 1940. It was also the second warmest April 3 since records were first taken here in 1871; the warmest was 77 in 1921. Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that today would be much cooler, with a maximum under 55. The normal high for the date is 49. The forecaster explained that a mass of cold air centered over Wyoming and Montana yesterday morning was moving toward Chicago. There were heavy snows in North Dakota and Minnesota.

HEALTH MENACE SEEN AS SEWAGE FUND RUNS SHORT

Only Legislative Act Can Keep Plant Open.

Unless the Chicago sanitary district is given additional operating funds immediately, 300 tons of raw sewage now taken into its southwest side treatment works daily will be dumped after May 1 into drainage canals connecting with the Des Plaines and Illinois rivers, officials of the district said yesterday. The health hazard to the residents of Chicago and 23 downstate counties bordering on those streams will be unavoidable unless a special session of the legislature speedily provides the funds, they said.

"We need $1,400,000 to operate the new treatment plant for the eight months beginning May 1," said William Trinkaus, chief engineer of the sanitary district. "The only way we can get the money is for the state legislature to authorize an additional levy. If we do not get the money, the southwest side plant must shut down.

Summer Menace Feared.

"Little water moves thru this channel since diversion from Lake Michigan has been reduced by a United States Supreme court order. With hot weather coming up, the dumping of the sewage into the rivers will create a definite health menace."

Early in February Ross A. Woodhull, president of the sanitary district, said he had been expecting Gov. Horner to call a special session of the legislature ever since October to deal with the problem. It was learned yesterday that district officials have been urging the seriousness of the situation upon Gov. Horner's advisers for several months without result. Yesterday Sam Weinshenker, senior attorney for the district, went to Springfield for further conferences in connection with reports that a special session will be called soon.

Levy Knocked Out.

Lawrence J. Fenlon, an attorney for the district, said the shortage of funds resulted from a legislature tangle at the close of the 1939 session.

"When we opened the southwest side plant," he explained, "we went before the legislature to get $1,400,000 more, and both houses unanimously approved a pegged levy for us.

"On the last day of the session the legislature passed a tax preadjudication bill and companion measures which, by their language, accidentally knocked out our pegged levy."

CHINESE WRECK 30 JAP PLANES IN RAID ON MAIN BASE IN NORTH CHINA

CHUNGKING, China, April 4, Thursday (AP).—The Chinese air force was reported officially today to have destroyed 30 Japanese planes in a raid yesterday on the Japanese army's main North China air base at Yangcheng, south of Shansi province. In additional raids the Chinese said their airmen bombed and fired Japanese gasoline tanks and munitions dumps at Yochow, Hunan province. The Shansi raid was described as retaliation for Japanese attacks on unfortified cities, including Sian and Loyang.

LINK HERSHEY'S GAIN IN POLL TO SLUSHFUND NEWS

Stelle Loses More Ground as Straws Are Counted.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

In the Democratic governorship race, John Stelle, insurgent candidate against the Chicago-Springfield machine slate in the primaries, slipped several points yesterday in the Tribune's straw poll. Harry B. Hershey, his opponent supported by the organization, made corresponding gains.

Results in today's table of new straws gathered in Chicago parks and at street corners, give Stelle 39.42 per cent. In the tables of new straws printed Friday, Stelle had a Chicago high of 46.98 per cent. Hershey has 60.57 per cent of today's new batch; he had 53.02 per cent of Friday's.

Cite Fund Developments.

Politicians raise the question of whether the gain for Hershey and the drop for Stelle is indicative of developments in the slush fund scandals at Springfield, and whether the machine is being oiled up. Last Sunday Judge L. E. Stone of the Sangamon Circuit court indicated he would release from injunction all but $5,000 of the slush fund that has been tied up since Feb. 26.

In recent days, charges that an unprecedented new gouge is being made on state employés, including 12,000 civil service workers, have been made.

In the downstate tables, too, Stelle is losing ground. Until yesterday he was leading Hershey in the downstate poll. On Tuesday he had 55.64 per cent of the new downstate vote; yesterday 46.40; today he has 44.82.

Lyons Leads in Home Area.

In Lake county, his home, Richard J. Lyons led Dwight H. Green, his opponent for governor in the Republican primaries, in yesterday's results of the Tribune's straw vote. A poll in Waukegan gave Lyons a large margin. Another in Woodstock, in the adjoining county of McHenry, went 2 to 1 for Lyons. Momence, in Kankakee county, where Lyons has strength, gave a 2 to 1 poll for Lyons. In 19 downstate cities in today's tables, Lyons has 49.88 per cent of the vote. Green has 50.12.

In 26,466 Republican downstate straws so far compiled and printed with today's, however, Green has 56.78 per cent; Lyons, 43.22.

With 26,846 Republican straws in Chicago now reported, Green has 61.52 per cent; Lyons, 38.48 per cent. Out of 57,966 votes in Chicago, the suburbs, and downstate, Green has 59.43 per cent; Lyons, 40.57.

BAR GETS 1,000 CREDENTIALS FOR POLLS WATCHERS

A Chicago Bar association committee, headed by Tappan Gregory, president, yesterday obtained 1,000 credentials from the board of election commissioners for distribution to watchers in the primary next Tuesday. The watchers were recruited by the joint civic committee on elections, which represents the bar association and four other organizations.

It is planned to have at least one watcher from this group in every precinct where trouble might occur. Headquarters will be maintained at the bar association office, 29 South La Salle street.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, head of the election machinery, said this is the first time all civic watchers will be assigned thru a central committee, given uniform and detailed instructions, and required to turn in written reports immediately after the primary.

CITY IS EXPECTED TO GET THE $1,580 FOUND IN GARAGE

It appeared yesterday that the city would be the gainer of the $1,580 which John Novak found stuffed in an old sweater sleeve in the garage behind his home at 5751 North Menard avenue on Monday.

Police learned that Michael Ruggentaler had used the garage for his motorcycle before his death in 1938. His stepmother, Mrs. Anna Ruggentaler, who operates a tavern at 1914 North Leclaire avenue, said he had received $5,000 on his 21st birthday, shortly before his death, and frequently hid his money in old clothes.

Mrs. Rugentaler did not claim the money, however. And Novak, too, will not get any of it, police said. It probably will go to the city treasurer's fund.

LOESCH BLAMES LABOR CRIME ON LAX PROSECUTION

Backs Ditchburne Race for State's Attorney.

Few labor crimes have been solved in Chicago because of the close association between labor gangsters and law enforcing agencies, Frank J. Loesch, veteran crime fighter, charged yesterday in a radio address. He spoke in behalf of Harry S. Ditchburne, a Republican candidate for state's attorney. Loesch is president emeritus of the Chicago Crime commission.

Loesch recalled the murder of Marinus Hvid, garage owner, who was clubbed to death three months ago by labor goons. He said police admit they have uncovered no clews to the slayers.

"A real state's attorney could either jail, electrocute or drive these labor goons from our gates," Loesch said. "A fearless, courageous, and honest state's attorney could accomplish that feat and the war on crime would be over.

Tells of Victory Elsewhere.

"This has been done in other large cities. Why hasn't it been done here? Few such killings in Chicago have been solved or the murderers tried and electrocuted. Why? Because of the close and corrupt association between labor gangsters and law enforcing agencies."

Loesch said the two principal candidates for the Republican nomination of state's attorney are Ditchburne and Judge Oscar Nelson. He charged that Judge Nelson's past record has shown him to be a "fence straddler in politics—sometimes a Democrat and sometimes a Republican.

"Judge Nelson's record has always been associated with organized labor, some good and some not so good," Loesch said. "In looking over some of his past connections it appears back in 1905 he was associated with 'Skinny' Madden, then notorious head of the Teamsters' union.

Associates of Nelson.

"Others of his associates were the famous Big Tim Murphy, president of the Gas Workers' union, Mike Boyle of the Electrical Workers' union, and Dapper Dan McCarthy of the Plumbers' union.

"No man should be state's attorney of this county who has any official connection with organized labor, good or bad. He immediately places himself on a spot for public criticism and suspicion."

Policeman Is Suspended After Story of Shooting

Policeman Joseph Meagher, attached to the Central station, was suspended by Commissioner Allman yesterday pending an investigation of circumstances under which Meagher was wounded early Tuesday. Meagher said two strong arm robbers stopped him in the 1100 block of Fullerton avenue. One wrested the policeman's gun away and shot him in the left forearm. The robbers fled, leaving the gun on the sidewalk, and Meagher retrieved it, firing four shots after them, according to his report to the commissioner.

END DEFEATISM, RALPH CHURCH'S PLEA TO YOUTH

Urges G.O.P. Support to Restore Nation.

Washington, D. C., April 3 [Special]. — Representative Ralph E. Church, candidate for the Illinois Republican nomination for United States senator, tonight appealed to the youth of America to dispel the pall of New Deal defeatism which clouds their future and the future of America.

Making the eighth of a series of campaign broadcasts to Illinois voters, Church said the 1940 election is a challenge, above all, to youth. He said that by supporting the Republican party young people could convert the nation again into the land of opportunity it was before the New Deal came to preach the gospel of dispair.

Church used as his text a statement by Aubrey Williams, head of the National Youth administration, who said, "Thousands of young men and women leaving our schools each year are destined never to become self supporting and independent."

Remarking that his dismal prophecy was the only prospect the New Deal holds out to the youth of America, Church continued:

"There never has been a time in our history when we so urgently need to rededicate ourselves to American ideals and to renew our faith in the future of America as a land of opportunity."

Church said there can be no hope for the youth of America when those composing the national leadership take the position that young men and women are never going to become self-supporting.

He said that it should be equally self evident that there can be little hope for the nation of the future so long as every impulse of initiative is to be stifled under a huge and overpowering national debt.

CRASH KILLS BENTON FARMER.

Benton, Ill., April 3 [Special].—Randal Davis, 50 years old, farmer-miner residing near Benton, died last night of injuries suffered when an automobile in which he was riding struck an abutment. W. C. Plasters, Thompsonville, driver, and Hughey Furlong, Parrish, were seriously injured.

NELSON ASSAILS HUGE BACKLOG OF UNPAID TAXES

The civil duties of a state's attorney are as important as his criminal duties, Judge Oscar F. Nelson said last night at several ward meetings in his campaign for the Republican nomination for state's attorney. One of these civil duties, he said, is the prosecution of tax suits.

Collection of a major part of the 100 million dollars due the county in back taxes would put 10,000 building trades workers back on the job if the money should be used to lower current taxes, Judge Nelson said.

"Much of this sum," he said, "could be liquidated thru foreclosure, especially on valuable income property held by large estates and corporations that escape payment of taxes because they are able to employ expert legal counsel to protest assessments. The little fellow who pays most of the taxes anyway cannot afford to protest his comparatively small overassessment.

"Real estate now is carrying the greater part of the burden. Investment in it is not profitable, so construction is at a standstill and building labor is unemployed. A cut in the tax rate would release millions for building."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—BLAZE NOT PUT OUT

TVA POWER PUTS HANGMAN'S KNOT OUT OF BUSINESS

Jackson, Miss., April 3 (AP).—Grimly humorous debate, in which "cheap TVA current" was offered as argument for electrocution, preceded completion of legislative action today on a measure to substitute the electric chair for hanging in Mississippi.

Dr. James C. Rice of Natchez, a constant critic of utilities companies, joined in the wise cracking with an observation that he could not approve the measure "for fear it is a power bill." The bill, passed 30 to 9 by the senate, will become law unless vetoed.

"Maybe it is true," said Senator Arthur Shook, "that we can save money by using the chair, especially if we use some of that cheap TVA current they're always talking about."

Senator Rush Knox said the last white hanging in Mississippi cost the state $400.

ST. LOUIS PAPER FIGHTS RULING OF CONTEMPT GUILT

Charges Verdict Is Blow to Press Freedom.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3 (AP).—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch was fined $2,000 and two executives of the newspaper were fined and given jail sentences today by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Rowe, who found them in contempt of court for editorially criticizing dismissal of an extortion case in his court. Judge Rowe caused the citation to be filed by the prosecutor and he, himself, sat in judgment.

Judge Rowe.

Asserting the contempt conviction is a challenge to the American principle of freedom of the press, Publisher Joseph Pulitzer prepared an editorial for publication tomorrow declaring the newspaper would not be "intimated, shackled, or gagged."

Pulitzer is the son of the founder of the Post-Dispatch. The editorial will be the first signed by him to be printed in the newspaper.

Judge Rowe based the contempt action on two editorials and a cartoon criticizing dismissal in his court of an extortion charge against State Representative Edward M. Brady.

Editor Gets 20 Day Term.

Ralph Coghlan, editor of the editorial page, was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $200, and Daniel R. Fitzpatrick, noted cartoonist, was sentenced to 10 days and fined $100. A contempt citation against Managing Editor Ben H. Reese was dismissed.

As soon as Judge Rowes decision was announced, the newspaper's counsel prepared the necessary papers and two attorneys drove to the state capital at Jefferson City, where applications for a writ of habeas corpus for Coghlan and Fitzpatrick and a writ of certiorari for the newspaper were filed with the Missouri Supreme court.

The Supreme court ordered the two newsmen freed on $500 bond each pending a hearing on Judge Rowe's contempt judgment and issued a stop order blocking temporarily enforcement of the fine against the Post-Dispatch.

Warns of Peril to Freedom.

Pulitzer, in his editorial, declared: "If a newspaper is to be gagged by being haled into court to answer a charge of contempt whenever a judge has felt the sting of editorial criticism, that means the end of the power of the press to tell the people about the failures and evils of their courts. That means the end of freedom of the press.

"We do not believe that American courts or the American people will accept such a revolutionary departure from American principle. On behalf of American newspapers in general, big and little, rich and poor, powerful and obscure, we accept this challenge.

"The Post-Dispatch will continue honestly, fairly, and sincerely to criticize the courts.

"The Post-Dispatch will not be intimidated.

"The Post-Dispatch will not be shackled.

"The Post-Dispatch will not be gagged."

Nature of Case Told.

The case from which the contempt action evolved was that of Brady and John P. Nick, deposed head of the Motion Picture Operators' union in St. Louis, who were indicted jointly on an extortion charge, resulting from an alleged payment of $10,000 by theater owners in 1936 to forestall a wage increase.

Judge Rowe last Jan. 11 sustained a defense demurrer at the trial of Nick and on March 4, at Rowe's suggestion, Prosecutor Franklin Miller dropped the charge against Brady.

The Post-Dispatch editorial of March 5, dealing with dismissal of the Brady case, was headlined, "A Burlesque on Justice." Fitzpatrick's cartoon the next day was captioned, "Burlesque House in Rat Alley." An accompanying editorial compared Judge Rowe's action with that of Circuit Judge Ernest F. Oakley, who in a civil suit found Nick had received $10,000 secretly from the theater men and ordered him to pay the money to the union.

ASSERTS BANDIT IS CONVICT WHO FLED ALCATRAZ

Tulsa, Okla., April 3 (AP).—A taxicab driver, critically wounded, tonight identified his assailant as Ted Cole, notorious Oklahoman who escaped from Alcatraz prison.

Deputy Sheriff Hoyt White Jr. of Osage county said the cab driver, Don Calvin, 34 years old, based his identification on newspaper pictures of Cole. Both Cole and Ralph Roe, another Oklahoma desperado who fled the federal prison, were reported seen in this area yesterday. Cole and Roe generally were believed to have perished in the waters of San Francisco bay after their disappearance from Alcatraz in December, 1937.

NEW KANSAS CITY MAYOR PLEDGES CLEANUP AT ONCE

Warns: Must Get on Budget Basis.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3 [Special].—John B. Gage, mayor-elect of Kansas City, promised today to put into effect his cleanup pledges immediately upon taking office on April 17.

As he plunged into the task of preparing to take over city affairs, which have been ruled for 14 years by the Pendergast Democratic machine, Gage reiterated his ultimatum: "Every city employé who connived to violate the city charter must go."

"The first job, however, is to elect a city manager and place the city on a sound budget basis," the mayor-elect asserted. "Starting as we are from scratch we will want a sound budget ordinance at once.

Gage's Majority Is 20,000.

"We are trying to formulate our plans, based on our pledges for a city hall cleanup, so we can move rapidly as soon as we take office. I will have no favors to ask and I will make no recommendations for a city manager or any city official."

Gage headed a successful Fusionist ticket which rode to victory in yesterday's balloting. Unofficial returns from the city's 462 precincts gave Gage a majority of about 20,000 votes over Flavel Robertson. Both mayoralty candidates are lawyers and Democrats. All candidates on the Fusionist ticket, with the exception of one city council aspirant, were successful.

Legal Action Promised.

One of the pledges of the new administration is that prompt legal action will be taken in an attempt to recover at least a part of the money that poured from taxpayers' funds into the pockets of political favorites who reigned under the blessing of Boss Tom Pendergast.

In delivering his message of thanks to the voters last night, Gage sounded a note of menace for followers of the old machine in recalling that one of his neighbors was slugged at the polls yesterday.

Charles Frayer, 60 years old, of 1700 Hastings street, who was sent to the bank Monday with $170 belonging to his employer, Ben Friedman, owner of a tavern at 1658 18th street, disappeared en route. Yesterday he was found by Friedman, sitting in another tavern at Madison street and Racine avenue, but $57 of the money had gone down the hatch. He was charged by Marquete police with larceny.

Admits Thefts to Help Mother; Put on Probation

John Bednarz, 18 years old, 1823 North Winchester avenue, pleaded in the Boys' court yesterday that he turned thief to prevent the eviction of his sick mother from her home. A burglary charge was reduced to petty larceny and Judge J. M. Braude placed him on probation. Bednarz admitted he had stolen $53 from a grocery at 4010 Armitage avenue on Feb. 25.

REFUSES TO BARE NAMES OF YOUNG UNIVERSITY REDS

Witness Defies Dies Quiz; Risks Contempt Charge.

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—A young Boston communist told the Dies committee today that the young communist league had branches at Harvard university and some of the other well known schools of the country. He defied the committee, however, to make him tell the names of the students involved.

Thomas F. P. O'Dea. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

The witness, who might face a contempt citation by the committee, was Thomas Francis Patrick O'Dea, president of the young communist league of Massachusetts.

He refused to answer an inquiry as to whether he would support this country in the event it became engaged in war with Russia. As to the identity of league members at Harvard, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Massachusetts State, Boston university, Amherst, and Radcliffe the witness declared:

"They are entitled to their scholastic course and the right to a job later and I'll not be a party to putting anybody on a blacklist."

He Lectures Committee.

Again, when committee members questioned his contention that the communist party always had been a party of peace, he lectured the committee: "I don't see why we have to discuss history here; this is not a history class."

At still another point O'Dea termed as ridiculous a question by Representative John J. Dempsey [D., N. M.] as to whether he supported every statement made by Earl Browder, head of the communist party.

Dies Hints Contempt Citation.

Committee members did not submit to these rebukes quietly. Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] called down the witness repeatedly, other members flared back at him also, and Dies indicated at the conclusion of the hearing that the group would cite O'Dea shortly for contempt.

The league leader was accompanied to the hearing by Sol Cohn, the same attorney who has appeared with other recalcitrant communists.

Contempt citations against George Powers and James H. Dolsen, Pittsburgh communist leaders, already have been referred by the house to the district attorney for presentation to the grand jury.

FIVE DIXMOOR OFFICIALS FREED PENDING APPEAL

Charles Special, president of the village of Dixmoor, Charles A. Braun, former police magistrate, and three village policemen were allowed writs yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield which grant them their freedom until the court rules on their appeal. The five were convicted in Criminal court in November, 1938, of conspiracy to operate a speed trap. Special and Braun were each sentenced to a year in jail and fined $2,000. The policemen, Tony Bader, Robert Grecco, and Charles Paduano, were each sentenced to one year in jail and fined $500.

EXECUTION STAY DENIED TO THREE TAVERN SLAYERS

The Illinois Supreme court at Springfield ruled yesterday that Frank Michalowski, 25 years old; Victor Wnukowski, 24, and Henry Drewek, 22, must died in the electric chair in the county jail April 12 for the murder of Viggo Peterson, 64, of 2650 Cortland street. He was shot to death last Oct. 13 in a tavern holdup at 1859 North Washtenaw avenue. The court denied a stay of execution to the three slayers, who were convicted last Dec. 9 by a jury in Criminal court.

Burglar with Little Feet Takes $1,700, Trips Away

Miami Beach, Fla., April 3 (AP).—A dainty footed burglar blamed for a series of thefts in this area escaped early today with $1,700 in cash and jewelry taken from a night table between two sleeping women. Mrs. J. D. Fulton and her daughter, Mrs. Paul Ware, both winter visitors from Chicago, were the victims. Detective Chief Earl C. Carpenter said investigators found prints from a size 4½ shoe in the soil beneath a window. Similar prints were found at the scene of three burglaries at Coral Gables and another at Miami Beach last week.

FILM CZAR BIOFF LOSES ROUND IN PANDERING FIGHT

Court Refuses Freedom Pending Review.

Willie Bioff, Hollywood union leader, lost another skirmish yesterday in his fight to escape serving six months in the Bridewell for pandering. The Illinois Supreme court in Springfield refused to permit him to remain at liberty pending a review of his conviction 18 years ago.

On March 15 Bioff asked for a writ that would have freed him from the old sentence. This was denied by Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court. However, Judge Prystalski deferred signing an order remanding Bioff to jail until next Monday. Unless Bioff begins some new legal maneuver by Monday it is likely he will be arrested and jailed immediately upon the court signing the order.

Plan to Ask Rehearing.

Bioff's attorney, State Senator Abe Marovitz [D., 19th], high priced Criminal court lawyer, said he would ask the Supreme court to reconsider its decision. Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, said he would oppose any such move and ask that Bioff be taken in custody as soon as Judge Prystalski signs the order.

Bioff had asked the Supreme court for a writ permitting him to remain at liberty on his present bail of $5,000 pending a review of his conviction in 1922.

Denial by the court of the writ does not deprive Bioff of the privilege of a review, but at the office of the clerk of the court it was said that it would probably take the Supreme court until next October to review the case and submit a decision. By that time, Bioff would have completed his Bridewell term.

Bosses 35,000 Craftsmen.

Bioff, as personal representative in Hollywood of George E. Browne, president of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employés, bosses 35,000 Hollywood craftsmen. He returned here Feb. 20 to fight serving his old sentence.

Bioff was convicted in the Municipal court in February, 1922. He was committed to the Bridewell, but released pending an appeal to the Appellate court after serving only a few days. The sentence was affirmed in October, 1922, and a mandate was issued to the sheriff to return Bioff to jail on March 2, 1923.

The mandate was never served, Bioff's appeal bond was released, and he went his way.

OUR HOT AMBASSADORS.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hull were grateful Tuesday for American aviation and the trans-Atlantic Clipper. They could put Mr. Bullitt on the Clipper and get him out of the country in a flight back to France. The urgent business which suggested that the ambassador get out was pending in congress, where Representative Hamilton Fish was demanding his appearance before the house and senate foreign affairs committees and where Senator Robert R. Reynolds was preparing to have him brought up for questioning on his war activities.

Mr. Bullitt was too hot to keep in Washington, and no boat would have been quick enough to get him away. The Clipper could turn the trick neatly before Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hull singed themselves tossing him from one to the other.

While Mr. Bullitt was preparing to take it on the wing Mr. Kennedy from London was making a flying trip to Paris. Apparently he did not intend to be discovered there; when he was it was explained that he had flown to see his private secretary, Eddie Moore, who was ill. Other reasons for the trip, however, occurred to the correspondents finding Mr. Kennedy in the French capital. They concluded that he had come over to see Anthony Drexel Biddle Jr., the American ambassador to Poland, who is in France because the transplanted Polish government has a temporary site on French soil. Mr. Kennedy might want to know more about the documents the Germans say they obtained in the Polish archives in Warsaw, and frame his alibi accordingly.

Mr. Biddle got out of Poland as the Germans advanced. He was the one person available to Mr. Kennedy who might have information regarding these papers. Mr. Kennedy might inquire of Mr. Biddle whether he thought the documents would stand up under examination and what was in them. How much did they have on Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Bullitt? Did Mr. Biddle, by any chance, know how many indiscretions were to be found in the communications?

In Berlin the Nazis have shown the foreign correspondents four cellars full of documents which Count Hans Adolf von Moltke, German ambassador to Poland, says are amazingly revealing.

The authenticity of the papers is not established. Count von Moltke says no one could have forged so many tons of official documents. Of course, some one could have forged a few of them. But of the authenticity of the diplomatic fright there is no doubt whatever. Mr. Hull's disturbance is authentic. Mr. Bullitt's flight out of the country is authentic, and Mr. Kennedy is giving a very realistic exhibition of a careerist who doesn't know what is coming next.

Americans didn't get on the trail of diplomatic and state department intrigue in the other war until it was over. Then, from the evidence given investigating committees and from the confessions made in memoirs, they discovered that the Wilson administration had been making plans for American intervention with military forces at the very time the people were reëlecting a President because "he kept them out of war." Before Mr. Wilson entered that political campaign he and Col. House had assured Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, that if Germany would not make peace American troops would move. The only qualification Mr. Wilson added was "probably."

Now there is a threatened premature disclosure of similar promises and commitments. Whether the documents offered by the Germans are authentic or not and regardless of the purpose for which they are made public, the consistency flowing from the public and private statements of the White House, state department, and diplomatic corps into the alleged reports to the Polish foreign office is in itself damning.

The new developments give added significance to the speech of James Cromwell, minister to Canada, another hot American diplomat, in which he assured Canadians that the fight was ours and make no mistake about it. Altho rebuked by Mr. Hull, Mr. Cromwell returned to his post in Ottawa, well pleased with himself and carrying no weight of Mr. Roosevelt's anger. None of these representatives of the state department has said more than Mr. Roosevelt has said from time to time to indicate his thought and purpose. They have faithfully reflected what he told the alarmed senators who, visiting him at his own request in the White House, heard him say that a war against Hitler would be America's war. That was before the war started. The senators were given the blueprints in advance.

There is a feeling in congress that, altho Mr. Bullitt has escaped, Mr. Sumner Welles, Mr. Hull's undersecretary, sent by Mr. Roosevelt on a fact finding trip to the war capitals and to Italy, should be questioned for information to which the country might be entitled. No reports of indiscretions have followed Mr. Welles, who probably knows his business too well to be trapped, but his mission was so consistently a part of the interventionist designs that it remains under question.

As the hands of the clock travel the apprehensions of the people increase. No trust can be reposed in the men who are running our foreign affairs. They will maneuver this country into a position, if they can, from which retreat will be difficult unless disclosures come quickly enough and are used to defeat secretive intrigue and conspiracy. And while hot American diplomats are found sizzling, mention might be made of Mr. Earle, at present minister to Bulgaria, who made his flight some time ago to diplomatic sanctity in the Bulgarian hills to escape indiscretions committed as a New Dealer while he was governor of Pennsylvania. While his associates have been spending their time in the criminal courts he has been enjoying the sanctity of the legation in Sofia.

WHO IS GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS?

Six months ago it was agreed that there was need of a special session of the legislature. Gov. Horner was in agreement. The urgency was well represented. For one reason or another the call was delayed. It did not come in the late fall. It did not come in the new year. Reasons for the change of plan began to appear. One of them was the death list at Manteno. Another was the slush fund collection. Another was the uncovering of a state policeman in a jury fixing case and the discovery that he had escaped serving a sentence for felony. His real political sponsor was never revealed.

Other reasons came to light. F. Lynden Smith, director of public works was sent out of the state—for his or other persons' health. He came back and died—by his own hand according to a coroner's jury; of natural causes according to four pathologists. The inability of Gov. Horner to carry on the work of his office became evident in the delegation of his authority to persons who have no warrant to act as governor in his place.

This is the situation now: The hands and the voices in the chief executive office of Illinois are not the voice and hands of the governor. Lieut. Gov. Stelle has advised the officers of the general assembly that he will call a special session after the primaries. They will accept the call. When the de facto governors of the state learned of the lieutenant governor's purpose a statement was issued that Gov. Horner would issue a call after the primaries.

The legislature should be in Springfield. It should ascertain the facts regarding the administration of the executive department. It should act as the occasion may require.

JUKE BOX TROUBLES.

The juke box, or coin phonograph business, is at the moment very much in the eye of the public, including those members of the public sitting on the grand jury. It has been hit all at once by tax trouble, labor trouble, and racket trouble.

The industry should take a certain measure of pride in this trio of aggravations. They are the signal that it has arrived. The boys see a good thing, and are trying to move in on it. If it's any consolation to the nickel music trade, you don't see the boys trying to move in on the buggy whip industry. They're only after live ones.

The city council thinks it has a live one, and wants to slap a $50 tax on every juke box. The operators, who are wailing that this will break them up in business, should reflect that there is a campaign on. The boys in the back room are always a little extravagant in their first proposal of a tax. That gives them room to maneuver. If the right people were seen the tax might drop to $25 or less. It's been done before.

The electricians' union also sees a live one, and announces that it takes a union electrician to keep a juke box running. Mike Boyle and his boys may be right. A juke box is crammed with complicated electrical jiggers and the owner of a stable of them could make a worse bargain than hiring a good electrician to keep them in shape. But if, as reported, the union is taking an interest in the juke box owners' joining a trade association that dictates the manner in which the nickels are split, it is stepping out of line.

Tavern owners who were entranced by the flow of nickels and sought to put in their own machines have run into racket trouble. The sales methods used in the field often vary considerably from those of a Fuller brush man.

This is to be expected since there is a natural economic link between juke boxes and slot machines, and the tried and true methods of the latter racket come naturally to the slot machine operator who takes on a line of juke boxes. Only a minority of coin phonograph operators are in the slot machine racket, but most of the slot machine operators run phonographs. The latter give their business a respectable front.

The sinister company that their gay and innocent product is keeping may well be a matter of concern to the coin phonograph manufacturers. With the exception of Jimmy Roosevelt's new partners, the Mills company, none of them makes slot machines. They can divorce the two products in the hands of operators if they are more particular in extending credit. Until they do this, they may reasonably expect that a few of the rocks shied at the racketeers in the business may hit them in the pocketbook.

Editorial of the Day

EASY PAROLE BAN JUSTIFIED.

[Detroit Free Press.]

We who look to government agencies to protect us from criminals find something reassuring in the news that no pardons were granted convicts in Michigan last year and that only four commutations of sentence and 2,113 paroles were given out.

Those on the inside of prisons looking out naturally take a different view. They do not like things where they are; and a recent complaint in a paper printed in the prison at Jackson is rather enlightening, tho not in just the way the editor intended.

This prison editor says hotly that "if you are going to keep a man in prison forever, you may as well kill him when he is convicted and get it over with painlessly."

He says that "taking all the years from a man's life for a 'mistake,' [that is, for murder] is too much penalty."

"Prison for the man who must serve a definite sentence is cruel enough," he continues, "but prison for the man who feels in his heart that he must stay there forever, until he dies, is wanton, merciless, and horrible to contemplate."

That life in prison is unpleasant and drab is no news. And we have no desire to gloat over those who have to endure it.

But it should be evident that the words just quoted are a rather thorogoing justification for the careful and conservative attitude with respect to prison releases taken by the present administration in Lansing.

The cry of dismay from the prison is not about anything that has been happening thruout the years, but about what threatens to happen in the future.

As late as 1938 a "lifer" was almost a myth in Michigan penitentiaries. Those given life sentences in the courts served on the average between 10 and 12 years before being pardoned or paroled.

And it is a fair assumption that the approximately 200 per cent increase in Michigan prison population in 18 years [noted by a prison paper at Marquette also highly in favor of liberal paroles] has been due in considerable part to a belief among criminals that a person could kill a man or woman in Michigan, and, if caught, get away with little more than a sharp slap on the wrist, penalties for other offenses being proportionate.

WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE.

When and if the La Salle theater succumbs to modernism and is replaced by a garage—a mournful event that seems to be imminent—some one with a taste for the legends of Chicago should carefully collect and annotate its annals for preservation by the historical society. For there many of the city's folk songs had their birth; songs that have survived their period and are still alive for the children and grandchildren of the playgoers who heard them first.

The La Salle theater shows were born and bred in Chicago—or most of them were, at any rate, until Morris Gest and William Elliott brought into it such fancy Broadway articles as "Oh, Boy!" Its fame was founded on the middle class musical comedies staged by Mort Singer and Harry Askin; and these frolics—titles too numerous to mention—were staples of entertainment for the entire middle west.

About the turn of the century this structure sheltered a billiard hall, a bowling alley, and an upstairs beer hall with a stage. Some one [we think his name was William Block] had the happy notion of turning it into a small theater and giving homemade shows. A year or two later Mort Singer, with his brothers Will and Harry, came down from Milwaukee; and then the La Salle, in its artless, West Madison street style, started to make history. Two youths who had written the first Blackfriars show at the University of Chicago—Frank R. Adams and Will Hough—came to Mort Singer with a libretto to sell, and that's why "The Time, the Place, and the Girl" is so well remembered in this region.

Well, it's a long story, and we do not intend to tell it here. Prof. Napier Wilt, out on the Midway, has all the programs in his files, and Mort Singer is hale and hearty. Hop to it, historians!

The La Salle theater was "the Globe" of Henry Kitchell Webster's novel, "The Real Adventure" [1915], and his book of short stories, "The Painted Scene" [1916].

LINES TO A FIBBER.

Lady, when your love has fled,
And you say, "I'm glad it's dead!
"My heart is whole, my eyes are dry!"—
Lady, that's an awful lie!

"Now I'll have a lot of fun!
"And never see him more, I hope!"—
Lady, wash your mouth with soap!

Running Down the Juke Boxes.

The reporters who write "juke box" are close in their conclusions as to the etymology of the word [April 2], but a little afield. Years before those instruments of torture destroyed the properly austere atmosphere of the barrooms and put an end to all quiet contemplation and learned, philosophical discourse, the southern Afro-American gallant, planning a Saturday night's diversion with nothing more serious on his mind than visiting a few dance halls and there disporting himself with the bronze belles, usually said:

History in Police Stations.

Remember way back when [1908-'09] Lieut. [later Capt.] Thomas F. Cronin commanded the old 11th precinct police station at 5000 South State street and was known to his lads as the Tin Soldier because he called all of his boys Tin Soldiers?

And he took all of his Tin Soldiers over to the Transit house at 42d and Halsted streets [destroyed by fire, 1910] and had their picture taken. There were about 100 in the group.

I wonder if I could obtain a copy of that picture? I was there. An Ex-Cop.

[Suggestion: Browse around in the old police stations of the region. They often contain valuable historical material, such as the photograph of the company that marched to the Haymarket riot, found in the Des Plaines street station a year or two ago and now hanging in the police commissioner's office.]

Duke Bakrak Becomes an April Fool.

When we were kids, "April Fools'" day was clean fun. Our innocent little pranks were just too ducky. I'll never forget tha time we waxed our sidewalk and old Tim Callahan slipped an split his head open. An then the time we put mice in teacher's drawers [no, smarty, desk drawers] an when tha 1st one hops out poor ole Dribble-puss keels over in a dead faint.

But what I'm leading up to is this day and age where nobody uses any discretion whatsoever. Fer instance, last Monday tha phone rings for me an a bird informs me that it's the Internal Revenue Dept. Beads started on the ole brow. He starts by asking me how I figure $280 depreciation on my car each year while their records show it was a used car when I bought it and only cost $185. Next he wants to know to what charities did I give $150. By this time I've got visions of working for a new firm either "Leavenworth, Inc.," or maybe "The Alcatraz Chain" people. All of a sudden tha guy says, "You old so and so—this is Dad Boas talking—April Fool," and hangs up.

Dad's a harmless old fuzz-button but a real swell guy. Been running a little Gordon print shop fer nigh onto 60 years, specializes in calling cards, and once a year gets to print his lodge's dance tickets. Lately he's taken his little boy Willie into the monopoly.

The first day his Dad let him go soliciting, he sells me 500 calling cards fer $2 and when he delivers them the letter "B" is left off my last name. I'm plenty sore and bawl hell out of him an here's what I get:

"So what? Nottin worse shood happen you. There's 10 letters in your name, aint it? I left out one, so take 10% off tha bill. An if I ever shood sell you again I hope I drop dead. Good-bye, Mr. Chisel."

Lately I find out Willie's birthday is on Apr. 1. A very dirty trick was played on Dad.

GUARD THE BLOOD SUPPLY TO THE FEET.

The subject of painful feet is of widespread interest. In many instances poorly fitting footgear is at fault; in others, however, a circulatory defect is responsible.

A good blood supply to this area is a necessity—that is, if we expect to walk with comfort. Nevertheless, we blame fallen arches for aching and profound fatigue—when the true cause is a malady known as thromboangiitis obliterans. In the presence of too little circulation no amount of strapping, adjustment of shoes, or arch supports will be of the slightest avail. The disease referred to is one in which certain vessels are either destroyed or reduced in caliber. Furthermore, there may be periods in which a true spasm will contract normal conduits, thus depriving the muscles of nourishment temporarily. Unless the condition is corrected or relieved in severe cases, gangrene may develop.

Apparently the disorder is on the increase. It is not confined to any particular age, altho the largest number of victims will be encountered between 30 and 40. Men are more frequently affected than women.

Among the causes excessive smoking is listed prominently. The occasional indulgence in tobacco is not considered important, but "chain" addicts are more susceptible. Nevertheless, infection is thought to play a rôle as the blood channels undergo actual degeneration.

What are the symptoms? A sense of exhaustion—which may be experienced chiefly from the knees downward—may be the first manifestation. Sometimes only one leg will be involved or the "all gone" feeling may come at intervals. But the most common and most significant complaint is the sharp, cramp-like pain felt in the foot or the calf—known as intermittent claudication. This is made worse by exercise, vanishing with rest. As the ailment progresses, however, getting about becomes more difficult because—even after a short distance—the brief but agonizing stab may come. If nothing is done—within two or three years—discomfort will be noted while the victim is inactive.

Among other beginning signs we must include cold extremities. Those who assert that they are persistent sufferers, especially during the winter months—with some numbness and tingling—should give at least a moderate amount of attention to the circulation.

The vital thing is to catch the tendency early and the feet must be given as much consideration as any other region of the body. We cannot restore blocked arteries, but we can make the most of all the vessels that remain. If trouble is discovered or even suspected, we can take precautions which will insure safety. Protective measures against chilling are demanded. If a hot water bottle or a heating pad is used in bed, the degree of heat should be low in order not to burn the skin. Extra care will need to be taken on breaking in new shoes—which should be worn for no longer than an hour or two at a time. The extremities should be bathed daily with warm water and soap, dried thoroly, and then rubbed with 30 to 50 per cent alcohol. Later, lanolin, or some other mild ointment, may be applied to the parts.

Until improvement is well on the way, smoking is interdicted. The reason for this is that recovery proceeds more rapidly when tobacco is omitted. Strangely enough, typhoid vaccine seems to be helpful and small doses may be administered directly into a vein. Each injection is followed by a slight rise in temperature and with marked salutary effects.

We should understand that this disturbance has nothing to do with the integrity of the heart. The pump is working satisfactorily, but it is unable to provide the "ground gainers" with nutriment because their arteries have become narrowed.

WASSERMANN TEST.

M. B. writes: How soon after exposure will a Wassermann test reveal syphilis?

REPLY.

Approximately three weeks. As a rule negative reactions reported during the first month are not regarded as good evidence.

VITAMIN B.

E. J. writes: Are vitamin B complex tablets fattening? I have taken 3 bottles in the past month and gained 4 pounds.

REPLY.

In and of themselves—no. However, they may promote absorption and hence storage of needed food elements. With some, they stimulate appetite.

CHLORINE IN WATER.

G. F. writes: Are vitamins destroyed by using water for cooking that has been treated with chlorine? If the chemical will destroy vicious bacteria will it not also kill the vitamins?

REPLY.

SUPPORT NOT HARMFUL.

M. B. writes: Is wearing a girdle harmful?

REPLY.

Not at all if used as a support for the abdominal wall. A constricting garment—of which one is constantly aware—may interfere with the circulation.

RINGING THE CHANGES.

Miss M. writes: What is the difference between skim, whole, and buttermilk?

When most of the butterfat has been removed the fluid is termed "skim." In buttermilk the cream is absent and the liquid has undergone fermentation [souring]—usually with lactic acid bacilli. Whole milk is the natural product—with all the ingredients intact.

ARE FATHERS PARENTS?

Chicago, April 2.—As a former member of Parent-Teacher associations in progressive eastern cities, I attended many meetings where fathers, as members, provided such associations with considerable constructive assistance.

The hours of meeting set by the moguls of Chicago P.-T. A.'s preclude employed fathers from attending such meetings.

Is there some special reason why fathers should not be permitted to meet and become acquainted with the person or persons active in molding the lives of their children?

Once in a very great while P.-T. A. rings in a so-called "parents' night" at which fathers are invited to bring a quarter to sponsor something or other, but never to meet the teacher. Is this back-handed way the only way that fathers may attend?

WATCHING THE PENNIES.

Chicago, April 1.—The busy housewife goes to the butcher shop, satisfied that the scales are all right because the city inspector watches that part of the business. Having made her purchases, she checks the sales tax, probably makes a few remarks about it, and goes out pretty well satisfied that all's well.

If she checked on what the butcher charged her for each item she would not be so happy. The schedule on the back of the scale is figured to give the butcher the best of the deal. A chicken weighing 4 pounds 3 ounces at 33½ cents a pound costs $1.44, which makes the price of the chicken 34 cents a pound. I called the butcher's attention to this and he said "That's what the scale says and I haven't time to figure each item." I have had several experiences of this kind.

Is it any less painful to be gypped this way than by short weight? And why doesn't the inspector check the scale schedule? The thrifty housewife should check into this.

THE WISDOM OF BOLIVAR.

Chicago, April 1.—I quote to you from the speech of the famous South American, Simon Bolivar, on the opening of the congress of Angostura in 1819:

"The continuation of authority in one individual has frequently been the undoing of democratic governments. Repeated elections are essential in popular systems, because nothing is so dangerous as to permit a citizen to remain long in power. The people get used to obeying him and he gets used to commanding it, from which spring usurpation and tyranny."

HORRIBLE SUGGESTION.

Deerfield, Ill., March 30.—Franklin D. Roosevelt is approaching the end of his second term as President. He knows that the pendulum swings and the people want a change. He has borne the burden and heat of the day and deserves a rest. But how can he think of retiring when the job is likely to fall into the hands of an ignorant, inexperienced young gulpin like Dewey, and get the country into chaos? Why don't the Republicans nominate a man of wisdom, experience, and seasoned responsibility like George Norris and let the weary warrior take off his armor and lay down his burden and rest in peace?

MR. KRUETGEN'S TOAST.

Chicago, April 1.—An article in The Sunday Tribune stated that Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen offered a toast to the President of the United States, at a banquet in the Germania club, on last Saturday night.

The article further stated that four or five of those present failed to stand during the toast and even went so far as to turn their backs to the toaster.

I do think that regardless of the time, place, or nature of the affair, the postmaster should have called for an apology or insist that the offenders leave the banquet room before he proceeded with the toast and before he relinquished the floor.

2. The owner at the time of buying the property had all transfer papers made out in his name only, for the sole purpose of being able to resell should the opportunity come for making a profit on the resale, and [3] was told by two different lawyers that the sale could be made without his wife's signature.

TELLS WHAT CITY NEEDS TO GET U.S. AIR LABORATORY

Plane Engine Research Plant to Be Set Up.

Clinton M. Hester, administrator for the Civil Aeronautics authority, discussed yesterday the elements to be considered in selection of a site for the proposed new aircraft engine research laboratory of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. Hester, a member of the committee, spoke at a luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Palmer house.

Chicago is one of 50 cities thruout the country which are seeking the laboratory. The important items in choosing the site, Hester said, are accessibility to the aircraft industry's engine production plants; invulnerability to attack from the seacoasts; proximity to technical schools or other laboratories where trained scientists would always be available, and the availability of ample sources for machine tools.

Cities Represented in Washington.

E. P. Querl, manager of the industrial department of the Association of Commerce, has made several trips to Washington in recent weeks to talk to various members of the advisory committee about Chicago's chances for getting the laboratory.

The laboratory has been recommended to congress by virtually every aviation service and department in the country. It was suggested originally by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh after his survey trip thru most of the European countries more than a year ago.

Plane Plant Authorized.

At that time Lindbergh said the present plant at Langley Field, Va., was not sufficient to keep the United States abreast of aviation progress elsewhere.

Last year congress authorized funds for building a new airplane research plant and the national advisory committee ordered it located at Sunnyvale, Cal.

WARNS OF LOSS IN TAX IF COURT ORDER STANDS

Mayor Kelly and members of the city council were warned by County Assessor John S. Clark yesterday that Chicago and other municipalities in the county face deficits for 1938 and 1939 unless the Illinois Supreme court modifies or reverses a recent tax ruling.

John S. Clark.

The court exempted from personal property taxes the stock of companies incorporated outside Illinois in cases where the companies' tangible property in the state is assessed. This would result in a loss of three million dollar revenue in the county annually. Of this sum, it is estimated, $2,190,000 would be lost to the city and the city schools.

A rehearing has been asked by State's Attorney Courtney acting in behalf of Clark. The Supreme court, which convened Monday, has not announced its decision on the petition.

"I am calling this matter to your attention," Clark wrote in a letter to Mayor Kelly, "because all municipalities have levied against the 1938 and 1939 taxes, and the fact that the money already has been spent will cause a deficit for the years in question."

FEDERAL MILK RULE ILLEGAL, DAIRY CHARGES

Brief Attacks Delegation of Power Under AAA.

The Wrightwood Dairy company, which is fighting the federal government's efforts to enforce a marketing order regulating milk handlers and producers in the Chicago area, charged yesterday in a brief filed in the federal District court that congress had made an unlawful delegation of power to the secretary of agriculture under the agricultural adjustment act.

The dairy, at 2942 North Ashland avenue, was cited several months ago for failure to file with the Chicago market administrator monthly reports on its business. Government lawyers appeared in the District court demanding a temporary injunction without an extended hearing, contending that immediate action was mandatory under the agricultural adjustment act.

A Setback for Wallace.

But Judge Charles E. Woodward said the dairy was entitled to a full hearing. This ruling, based on a recent higher court decision in a similar case in New York, was the first setback for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in this area in his efforts to control the milk industry.

Later Judge Woodward, to clear the way for final arguments, overruled the dairy's request that the case be dismissed. Yesterday's brief answering this ruling will be the basis for later arguments.

The 20 page brief was drawn by Attorney Alvin E. Stein, who said that a victory for the dairy probably would mean an immediate reduction in milk prices in Chicago, since the present fixed price to the farmers—$1.70 per 100 pounds—is abnormally high.

Claims Exemption from Act.

The dairy contends that, since it buys its milk from Illinois producers and all its sales are within the state, it is not engaged in interstate commerce and does not come under the act.

Concerning the broad powers granted to the secretary under the AAA, the brief states that these provisions and others in the act constitute an unlawful delegation of legislative power to the secretary and the President to exercise discretion "without regard for the constitutional rights of the handlers and consumers."

The monthly reports which the government is seeking to force the dairy to file are important in determining the price for milk paid to farmers, officials explained.

RULING STRIKES AT LADLED MILK IN ROAD STANDS

Attorney General John E. Cassidy, in an opinion yesterday, upheld the contention of the state department of public health that it is illegal to remove milk from sterilized containers and rebottle it for sale. The ruling was interpreted as a blow at roadside milk station which sell milk in other than the original containers.

Director A. C. Baxter of the state health department had sought a legal basis for forcing a number of roadside depots in the Chicago area to stop handling milk without regard to health safeguards. Baxter said certain milk stations advertised as pasteurized milk and milk products, wares which had been contaminated by being ladled out of sterilized containers for bulk sale after rebottling.

The term "pasteurized," Cassidy's opinion said, may not be used in connection with milk or other products not pasteurized according to state law. Sale or distribution of bulk, loose, or dripped pasteurized milk or pasteurized milk products, it continued, is prohibited except for such products consumed on the premises and served from a container approved by the state health department.

Winter Bows Out Under 18 Inches of Snow in Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3 (AP).—Winter staged a final fling in Western Canada today, blocking roads with snow and disrupting rail communications but cheering farmers who feared a dry spring. The snow fall reached a depth of 18 inches in some areas.

WITHIN A MONTH PAPER BOTTLES WILL BE IN NEWS

Aldermen to Renew Milk Study.

Within another month the city council health committee probably will resume discussion of the sale of milk in paper containers.

Ald. Joseph C. Ross [40th], committee chairman, gave indication yesterday that by that time the committee will take up again a proposed amendment to the city milk ordinance to permit the paper containers. The proposal has been shuffled among many hands and pigeonholed in various city departments for many months.

Passed Back and Forth.

Last October it was approved by the board of health. After it was passed back and forth between the board and the city law department it was sent to the council and referred to the health committee.

Ross wanted the proposal discussed at that time. The committee overruled him however, deciding to await the outcome of a court case seeking to force the city to allow the paper containers.

This case, brought by Fieldcrest Dairies, Inc., is now heading toward a conclusion. Fieldcrest sought permission of the board of health to sell milk in Chicago in paper containers. It was turned down.

Expect Findings Soon.

Then Fieldcrest took its fight to federal District court. There Judge Charles E. Woodward turned the case over to Master in Chancery Jacob I. Grossman. Master Grossman heard numerous witnesses and now has received final briefs from both sides. He is expected to present his findings in about two weeks, and these will be reviewed by the judge.

The board of health questioned the sanitary nature of the containers and held the milk ordinance provided for the sale of milk in glass bottles only. Fieldcrest, arguing that the paper containers have been found satisfactory, pointed to their use in 485 cities in the country, including 70 Chicago suburbs.

Hollywood, Cal., April 3 [Special].—A commotion was caused at a movie preview when Richard Brunnenkamp, 19 years old, University of California student, handcuffed himself to Ann Sheridan and then swallowed the key. While the bracelets were being cut by a locksmith, the youth explained he did it on a $1 bet. Miss Sheridan, considering the act a compliment, bought Brunnenkamp a supper.

Evansville Man Sentenced to Life for Holdup Slaying

Las Vegas, Nev., April 3 (AP).—A jury convicted George H. Emanuel, 23 years old, of first degree murder today, but fixed his punishment at life imprisonment, as recommended by District Attorney Roland H. Wiley and agreed to by defense counsel in final arguments. Emanuel, formerly of Evansville, Ind., confessed slaying and robbing Floyd Brumbaugh of Tulare, Cal., a carpenter, who gave him a ride on the desert near here Feb. 5. Brumbaugh formerly lived at Goshen, Ind. Emanuel at one time lived in Chicago.

HIT-RUN DRIVER GIVES UP AS HIS 2D VICTIM DIES

Convicted Three Times on Traffic Charges.

A coroner's jury will inquire today into the circumstances under which a man jailed three times—twice for drunken driving and once for reckless driving—killed a mother and her daughter in a hit-and-run accident. The driver, who surrendered yesterday, is said by police to have confessed that he had been drinking before the fatal accident.

He is Norman Haiges, 37 years old, 130 South Leavitt street, a partner in an oil reclaiming business. His victims were Mrs. Margaret Baine, 45, and Miss Lydia Baine, 25, typists who lived at 2619 Jones street.

Waiting for Street Car.

The two women were on their way home from work Tuesday night and were waiting for a street car at the northeast corner of Van Buren and Halsted streets.

Haiges drove his truck in front of a northbound Halsted street car, swerving to the wrong side of the street to avoid it. The truck struck down the two women and Joseph Dugo of 1226 Vine street, a watchman standing with them.

The truck then plunged across to the south side of Van Buren street and over the curb. Two hundred feet father on it wrecked itself against a pillar. Mrs. Baine died in the accident. Her daughter died in County hospital yesterday.

Driver's Brother in Custody.

Haiges' brother and business partner, Ralph, 32, who was riding with him, has been in custody since the accident. Norman Haiges' record in Safety court follows:

June 3, 1936—Sentenced to 10 days in jail for drunken driving.

March 28, 1938—Sentenced to 90 days for reckless driving, after his arrest on charges of drunken and reckless driving. Incomplete records indicate the sentence was vacated after he served 23 days.

Jan. 12, 1939—Sentenced to 30 days for drunken driving.

Despite his record and the fact that his driving privileges were once revoked, Haiges had a driver's license.

Haiges' wife is out of the city, according to Alexander Napoli, assistant state's attorney. The four Haiges children, found unattended at home, were taken to the juvenile home.

Killed as Train Hits Truck.

Michael Speropolus, Batavia fruit merchant, was killed last night when his truck was struck by a Chicago bound Chicago, Aurora & Elgin passenger train at Wheaton. The one car electric train was derailed, but the passengers were uninjured.

Ben Tresider, 33, a Chicagoan, was killed yesterday when his car struck a tree near Cambridge, Wis.

Andrew Wajcules, 17, Milwaukee, who ran away from home Tuesday with two companions, was killed when a transport truck on which he and his friends had hitched a ride overturned on state highway 17, just outside of Kankakee. The driver, Albert Stevens, 22, of Rensselaer, Ind., said that a high wind made the truck sway.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 234 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 180 were killed in Chicago, where 5,167 were injured in the same period.

TWO NAVY FLYERS DIE AS BOMBER DIVES TO ROAD

Norfolk, Va., April 3 [Special].—Two naval airmen were killed today when their scout bomber dived with the motor wide open from a height of 600 feet to a concrete road. The pilot was K. L. Willingham, 34 years old, of Akron, Ala., chief metalsmith, and the passenger, Pete Delfatti, 20. Kalmath Falls, Ore., aviation machinist. The plane apparently stalled and the pilot opened the throttle wide in a futile attempt to regain flying speed.

Army Lieutenant Killed in Crash.

Cleveland, O., April 3 [Special].—Lieut. J. W. Phelps Jr., of Berwyn, Pa., was killed today when his army pursuit plane crashed and burned in a residential section. The plane was one of 18 pursuit ships from Selfridge Field, Mich., that were maneuvering over Cleveland with two bombers. A thunderstorm caused a cessation of the maneuvers and during the storm Phelps' plane crashed. Witnesses said the plane caught fire in the air.

$5,000 FIRE ON FARM.

Damage estimated at $5,000 was caused yesterday by fire which swept thru a large barn on the John C. Schuett estate near Woodstock, in McHenry county.

LOSES LICENSE PLATE IN CRASH; SEIZED; JAILED

When Tony Koren, 1920 22d place, fled in his car at 4:30 a. m. yesterday after striking another car at Augusta boulevard and Damen avenue, he did not know that the bracket holding his front license plate had been snapped in the collision and hooked on the rear bumper of the car he hit.

The other driver, Leo Robbins, 4311 Flournoy street, found the plate dangling from his bumper. It was simple for police to pick up Koren. Judge Frank Padden in Safety court sentenced him to 10 days in the county jail for reckless driving and revoked his driving privileges for 30 days.

Francis Welch, 7113 South Vernon avenue, was sentenced to five days in jail for reckless driving. Robert Rudin, 2031 North Neva avenue, and Carl Rinker, 5739 Ridge avenue, were fined $100 each for driving while intoxicated and placed on probation for one year.

BANDIT INVADES 2 BEAUTY SHOPS; ROBS 22 WOMEN

Twenty-two women patrons and beauty operators were forced to pool their money and give it to a bandit in two beauty shops yesterday. Police believe both robberies were committed by the same man.

Six women were ordered into a back room at 3936 School street. The gunman compelled Manager Delores Caesar, 29 years old, to give him the contents of the till and then collect the money from the women's purses. He escaped with $18 loot.

Sixteen women were victimized a short time later at 2658 North Sawyer avenue in the same manner. The robber complained that the women were delaying him and running up a cab bill for him.

TRACTION LINES DISAGREE ON CITY FRANCHISE STAND

Submit Counterproposal Telling Views.

The city's transit lines yesterday submitted a counter proposal to the city's demands for terms of a unified traction franchise made Friday.

The companies' proposal disagreed with the city's stand chiefly on who shall pay for equipping the subway and for maintaining and repaving the pavement on street car rights of way. The lines also asked that their obligation to modernize the transit system be defined in the franchise. Suggestions on rates of fare, compensation for use of streets, and a pension plan for the lines' 20,000 employés will be made today.

Comparison of the two groups' stand on points discussed yesterday follows:

EQUIPMENT OF SUBWAY.

CITY'S PROPOSAL—That the new company pay the $9,000,000 cost of laying tracks and equipping the 25 stations in the city owned subway to be operated by the company.

COMPANIES' REPLY—That the city should pay the equipment cost, because the $20,000,000 cash renewal reserves held by the lines will be needed to help modernize the system.

PAVING.

CITY'S PROPOSAL—That the new company pay for maintenance of paving on street car rights of way and for repaving where tracks are torn up for bus substitutions.

COMPANIES' REPLY — That charges for paving maintenance and repaving should be paid by the city. They estimate the cost, exclusive of repaving where buses are to be substituted, at $900,000 a year. They suggest that the new company pay for a temporary surface over street car tracks where buses are substituted, but ask the city to pay for permanent repaving when undertaken.

MODERNIZATION.

CITY'S PROPOSAL—That the new company agree to spend for improvements $60,000,000 in the first three years and $42,000,000 in the next five years.

COMPANIES' REPLY—That the new system will make every effort to carry out the $102,000,000 modernization plan, but that the franchise should specify that the company's obligation to modernize depends on its ability to borrow money at reasonable interest rates.

The lines contend that if they meet the city's demands on fares, compensation for use of streets, and a pension plan, the new system's earnings may be too low to enable it to borrow the money needed for modernizing. The city has asked that the company keep present fares until Jan. 1, 1942, that it pay 1.5 per cent of its revenues to the city for compensation until 1943 and 3 per cent thereafter and set up a pension plan.

Corn Allotments Pared.

April 3, 1940.

CORN acreage allotments under the federal crop control plan have been pared down to the point where many farmers who formerly followed the program are wondering whether they should continue with it for 1940 and collect government subsidies or ignore it and grow more corn. They have until May 1 to decide.

The 1940 corn acreage allotment for Illinois is 6,513,876 acres, a reduction of 794,406 acres, or 10.89 per cent, from last year.

Illinois farmers last year planted 8,051,000 acres of corn, according to government figures. This was 742,718 acres, or 9.3 per cent, more than the allotment. If they carry out their March 1 cropping plans for this year, they will exceed the 1940 corn allotment by 893,124 acres, or by 12.1 per cent. These figures indicate that fewer farmers in the state intend to sign up with the control plan this year than last.

Cuts Not Uniform.

The cuts in allotments for this year as compared with last are not uniform thruout the state. They vary with counties, altho all the 99 counties included in the commercial corn area have smaller allotments than last year.

In Cook county, for example, the 1940 corn allotment is only 42,774 acres, compared with 50,877 acres last year, a cut of 16 per cent.

Farmers in the county are not happy about it. Most of them operate small farms and many keep dairy cows. They need silage and grain for their herds. These farmers say it will be difficult for many of them to plant within the reduced acreage allotment and have enough corn left for grain after filling their silos.

However, interviews with farmers in the northern part of the county indicate that a majority of them plan to follow the program this year. Here are some typical examples:

Fred Schoenbeck of Arlington Heights has signed up, altho the corn allotment on his 80 acre farm is 20 per cent less than last year. He has been allotted 20 acres. His allotment last year was 25 acres.

Henry O. Gathman of Itasca farms 80 acres and has only 16 acres corn allotment. "I am giving the control plan a trial this year for the first time," he said, "but I don't think it is well suited to a small farm like mine."

"My corn allotment was cut from 20.3 acres to 17 acres," said William Lemke of Mount Prospect. "I have signed up, but I cannot again if there is a further cut in the corn acreage. It takes 6 acres of good corn to fill my silo."

Can't Afford It.

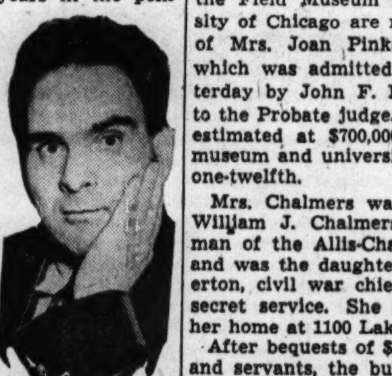
August Langhoff of Palatine never has followed the program and does not intend to this year. "I pay cash rent for my corn land and I do not feel that I can afford to pay for the land and then not use all of it," he said.

Arthur Harting, who farms 85 acres near Arlington Heights, says he has signed again, altho his corn acreage has been cut 16 per cent from the 24 acres allotted him last year. He thinks more of his neighbors will follow the control plan this year than last.

County officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration say they expect participation in the program thruout the county to exceed that of last year.

ADMITS KILLING WOMAN, 65; GETS 199 YEAR TERM

Samuel Delao, 50 years old, was sentenced to 199 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge John Sbarbaro in the Criminal court on his plea of guilty to the murder of Mrs. Helen J. Sharp, 65 years old, mother of Mrs. Cleo Pallas, 43, with whom he had been living.



Samuel Delao.

Withdrawing a petition for a sanity hearing, Delao told of beating Mrs. Sharp to death Jan. 3 with a billiard cue in their home at 207 West 25th place. The body was found by a junk man the next day. It had been crammed into a trunk in an alley at the rear of 3539 Wells street.

Delao said Mrs. Pallas had nagged him for a year and a half to get rid of her mother, threatening to leave him if he didn't. There was a $500 insurance policy on Mrs. Sharp's life. In his original story, Delao had said only that Mrs. Pallas had a guilty knowledge of the crime. She is to be tried tomorrow on a charge of being an accessory.

CRASH KILLS FATHER OF NINE.

Valparaiso, Ind., April 3.—Frank Briggs, 47 years old, Valparaiso farmer and Gary steel worker, was killed today when he drove his automobile into the side of a train at Sedley, west of here. His widow and nine children survive.

Keeley, assistant to the Probate judge. The estate was estimated at $700,000, of which the museum and university each will get one-twelfth.

Mrs. Chalmers was the widow of William J. Chalmers, former chairman of the Allis-Chalmers company, and was the daughter of Allan Pinkerton, civil war chief of the federal secret service. She died Jan. 24 in her home at 1100 Lake Shore drive.

After bequests of $70,000 to friends and servants, the bulk of the estate will be divided by a granddaughter, Mrs. Joan Williams Merrill of New York, and a grandson, Norman Williams Jr., of Woodstock, Vt.

I envy those who always know
That black is black
And white is white,
And day is day
And night is night,
And wrong is wrong
And right is right,
And things are thus and so.

I only wish that they could see
That they are they and I am me.

"Behind the Baton."

The program notes of the Chicago Symphony orchestra were neglected by the concert goers at last week's concert in favor of a new page that has appeared in the program—a chart, or plan, of the orchestra, with the names of the musicians and their instruments and their positions plainly printed on it. It is just one of the innovations that mark the progressive trend of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, now about to celebrate its fiftieth year of giving the middle west fine music.

It is fun learning the names of all the musicians one has enjoyed listening to for years; that the red-headed musician whose head shines among the violas is named Lehnhoff; that the two men who look alike, one in the flute section, one playing violin, are both named Johnson—brothers, Royal and Ralph; to find Composer David Van Vactor's place among the flutes and to wonder, idly, if the Fahsbender in the basses is any relation to the singer of that name who used to sing Elektra in Munich, whom one's companion at the concert went to hear eleven times during university days in Munich.

And by the way, if you're interested in music don't fail to read Men in Music by Brockway and Weinstock.

In Hopeful Accents.

When the Barnard school caught fire the evening of Feb. 11 a little girl and her mother were in the crowd that assembled to watch the blaze.

"Do you suppose any teachers are in there?" inquired the little girl eagerly.

Three Fingernail Movies.

We've had four bell, and three star, and three handkerchief movies. But a few night ago a young woman leaving Esquire theater said to her companion: "That was one of the best pictures I've even seen. I got so excited I bit off three fingernails.

Simple Fruit Salads Offer Taste Appeal

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Fruit salads are none the less appealing and palatable when they are made very simply. Sometimes a simple fruit salad fits into the dinner menu much more appropriately than a more elaborate combination of fruits. If the fruit is fresh, carefully prepared and dressed, and if the greens are crisp and cold the salad cannot fail to please.

These fruit salads are seasonable now and appropriate for almost any dinner or luncheon menu in which fruit is not served as the dessert.

SIMPLE FRESH FRUIT SALADS.

1. APPLE AND MINT. Cut rings from red skinned apples and place two or three on greens for each salad. Fill centers of rings with diced apple mixed with chopped celery and French dressing. Sprinkle with finely chopped mint.

2. APPLE AND DATE. Combine diced apple with chopped dates and nuts and mayonnaise.

3. APPLE, BANANA, GINGER. Combine diced apple, diced banana, a little finely chopped candied ginger and fruit salad dressing.

4. AVOCADO, GRAPEFRUIT, AND ROMAINE. Fill an avocado half, peel on or off, with about three sections of grapefruit. Serve on romaine with French dressing.

5. AVOCADO, PINEAPPLE, TOMATO. Combine slices of these three fruits [yes, tomatoes are a fruit] on watercress and add French dressing.

6. AVOCADO BALLS IN PIMIENTO RINGS. Marinate avocado balls for half an hour in lemon French dressing and pile into thick pimiento rings on chicory.

7. BANANA AND TOMATO. Arrange alternate wedges of peeled tomato and pieces of banana of about the same size, rolled in chopped nuts, on lettuce and dress with mayonnaise.

8. BANANA, CREAM CHEESE SPREAD. Split bananas lengthwise and fill with pineapple cream cheese spread. Slice off rather thinly, making a ring of slices on each greens-covered salad plate. Beat currant or cranberry jelly into the dressing used with this salad, or add mayonnaise and top the mayonnaise with a dab of the brightly colored jelly.

9. GRAPEFRUIT AND ENDIVE. Radiate endive leaves on salad plate to resemble petals of a flower. Into each place a grapefruit section. Place a maraschino cherry in the center of the arrangement and dress with a honey French dressing.

10. ORANGE AND CELERY. Slice oranges onto watercress, sprinkle over with finely chopped celery, lay a strip of pimiento over each salad, and add French dressing.

11. ORANGE AND PRUNE. Use three slices of orange for each salad. Watercress, chicory, romaine, or lettuce may be the greenery. Top each orange slice with a cooked prune which has been stuffed with cottage cheese seasoned with chives. Serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.

12. ORANGE AND HEARTS OF ENDIVE. Lay orange sections or slices on crisp hearts of endive, split in quarters lengthwise. Use French dressing. Wine dressing, claret, for example, makes this an interesting salad for a party occasion.

Illinois Water Color Exhibit Sparkling, Vivid

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The annual water color exhibition by the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts has just opened at the Stevens hotel to continue to April 30. It is a sparkling, vivid, colorful show.

At the far end of the galleries the little room has been turned over to E. G. Dannhausen for a one man show and his water color sketches and pen and ink drawings are well worth seeing. The sketches are remarkably fine. They are nicely handled and both subject and technique meet in most of them so cunningly and so perfectly that it is hard to pick a flaw.

Among the finest are "Milwaukee River," "Farm Near Lemont, Ill.", "Farm in Michigan," "Rock Island as Seen from Washington Island," and "Fishing Harbor, Port Washington, Wis."

The All-Illinois show has the distinction of presenting two new painters of unusual ability, Ralph J. Rice with "My Little Chickadees" and "Pond in Winter" [both gems of the first water] and Mary Stringfellow, who shows a peculiarly sensitive and delicate landscape, "Snow in the Country." Ted Vognild is right in tune with dog show time, her "Mickey" and the threesome of puppies are fascinating. Florence Ezzell Stevenson is one of several artists who share honors with the flower show at Navy pier, and her paintings of hollyhocks are richly beautiful.

Other flower pictures which are intriguing are "Iris," by Clara Hohlt Fahrenkrug; "Pink and White Mallows," by Nina K. Griffin; "Peonies," by Jessie Field; "Delphinium," by Alice Mason; "Autumn Wild Flowers," by Susan R. Howe; "Tulips," by Virginia B. Herbert, and "White Geraniums and Old Shawl," by Carolyn B. McCracken.

Richard Chase shows "Old Barnyard," in spite of its name one of THE pictures in the exhibit. Julia Sulzer Griffith shows "Float," a stunning water scene in grays. Orval Caldwell has a telling picture in "Judd's Farm," sober, solid, consistent.

Charles Longabaugh with "Taxco" and "San Juan de Capistrano" proves again the fine artist he is. Donald Mills with "Winter Quarters" and "Fields in December" provides two more four star pictures for this excellent exhibit.

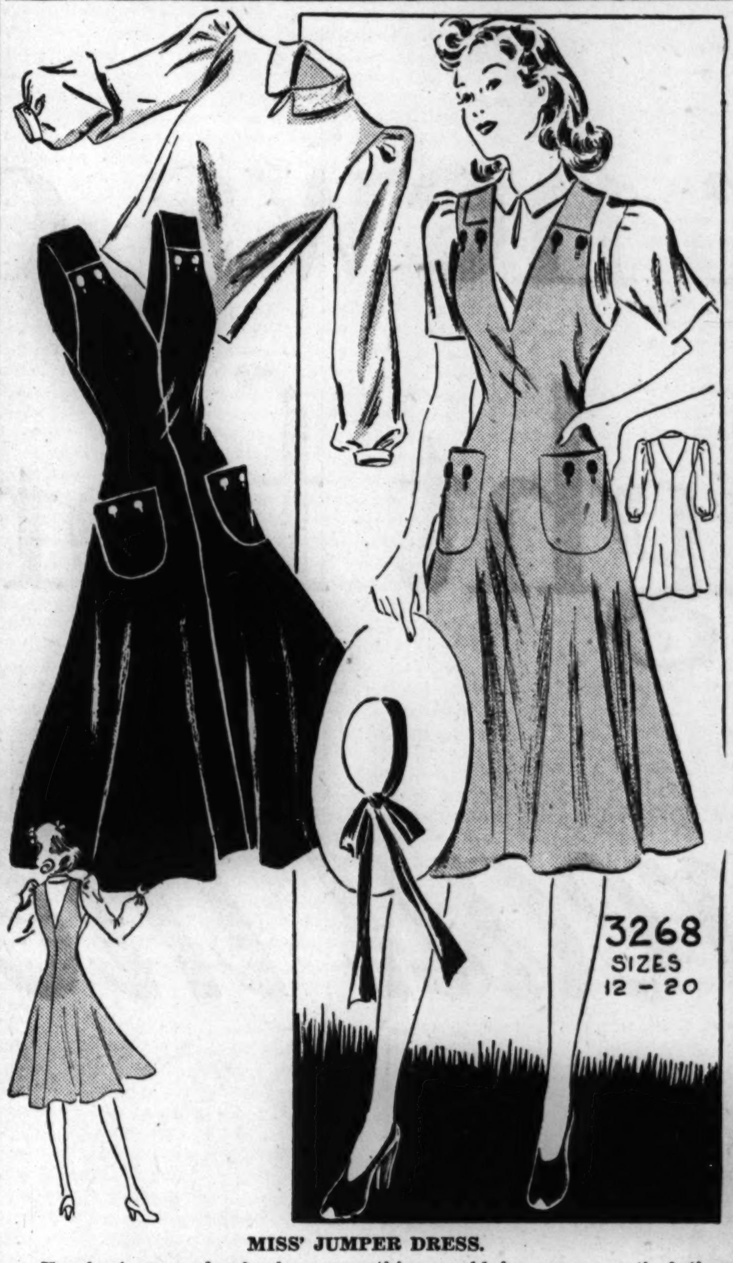
For Business and Classroom



MISS' JUMPER DRESS.

For business and school wear nothing could be more practical than the youthful and girlish jumper dress. It's a versatile mode which allows for the wearing of various sweaters and blouses, thus broadening the wardrobe at little expense. This particular version has a princess line jumper skirt with buttoned shoulder straps and similarly trimmed huge pockets. The neckline is deep V front and back and the shoulders are the secure kind that "stay put."

The blouse beneath may be silk or cotton, with either long or short sleeves. The original costume unites a navy blue woolen skirt with a white piqué blouse. The buttons are red. Silks may be used for the skirt, if you wish, and if you're looking ahead to summer keep the lovely cottons in mind.

Style No. 3268 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 1½ yards of 39 inch material for short-sleeved blouse; 3 yards for jumper.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Child's Sense of Touch Must Be Gratified

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Letters on one subject, or about children of one age range, sometimes come to my desk in flocks! It was such a flock of missives about "my little son, who is driving me frantic," or "my daughter, who is becoming unmanageable," that gave rise to the recent series of articles about "the young child and his mother."

In those articles I tried to cover all the angles of the subject that are the most trying or least understood. One point, however, I merely mentioned, so today I want really to go into it.

We know, if we think about it for a minute, that the baby gains his knowledge of the world about him thru his senses, and we know that they number five.

But when the baby begins to walk and is old enough to circulate about the house, the one sense of them all which suddenly seems to us to work overtime, is his sense of touch. We don't find ourselves saying "Don't look!" or "Don't listen!" or "Don't Smell!" [altho we may say the equivalent of "Don't taste" occasionally]. But the one thing we do find ourselves saying dozens of times a day is "Don't touch."

One reason for this is that the use of the sense of touch is the only one of the five senses which interferes much with our adult convenience. Yet this sense of touch is extremely important, because it is the one that finally verifies or completes for the young child his knowledge of this new world, I mean the knowledge which comes to him thru the avenue of his other senses: those of sight, smell, taste, and hearing.

In regard to these small children just past babyhood, the tenor of many letters has been: "My little girl wants to touch everything, my pots and pans and groceries and sewing and books. She's driving me almost crazy. How can I teach her not to touch things?"

The answer is, "You can't," or at least I hope you can't. Perhaps it would be better to say you shouldn't.

Why? Because your child should touch things. That's what his hands are for. Your business then is not to starve his sense of touch, but to satisfy it, intelligently and within reason. If you do, your troubles in that direction will cease almost entirely, because the child with a satisfied sense of touch does not act in the way these disturbed mothers so eloquently describe.

Tricks of the Trade.

Dayton, O., April 3.—Every profession has its own tricks. . . . Some of the tricks force their way into everyday conversation. . . . You've often heard, or perhaps employed, the warning: "Don't up-stage me." . . . It's another way of telling a person not to put on the ritz. . . . Actually, "don't up-stage me" referred to a trick of the trade in the legitimate theater, a trick that was employed by some of the greatest artists. . . . Up-stage is that part of the stage most distant from the footlights [the back of the stage]. . . . Suppose Sarah Bernhardt was playing a scene with a pretty fair actress, near the footlights. . . . That at least would be the position in which the scene started. By the simple, and deadly, expedient of moving up-stage, Madame Bernhardt would compel the other actress to turn her face from the audience. . . . Continued long enough, Miss Bernhardt's up-stage progress would force the other actress almost to turn completely around. . . . So when performers warned another not to "up-stage" them, it was generally a prelude to a cat and dog fight.

In the movies, where players realize the importance of getting their faces on the screen, watch any two stars in a love scene. . . . If they are of equal importance, observe how they try to maneuver the other one's back toward the camera. . . . When stars insist on their own cameramen, it is because that cameraman will protect them on lighting and in those clinches where a rival player may be trying to steal a scene. . . . In "The Fighting 69th," Jimmy Cagney did a pretty good job in one scene with Pat O'Brien. . . . As O'Brien [Father Duffy], talked to him, Cagney calmly cleaned a rifle barrel. . . . No matter what O'Brien said, your gaze was riveted by Cagney's swabbing of his gun. . . . Spencer Tracy, Jack Oakie, Adolphe Menjou, George Raft and Joan Crawford are five of the most adroit trade-tricksters. . . . W. C. Fields and Mae West tried every trick the business ever has known when they were teamed in a picture.

Some tricks of the trade are employed by major studios to protect their investment in a star. . . . The cutting room generally is the surgical ward where such protection is achieved. . . . When "A Free Soul" was made, it was obvious that newcomer Clark Gable, a comparative unknown, was stealing the picture from Norma Shearer. . . . The studio bosses decided that the only way to arrest this was to make audiences dislike Gable. . . . The script was altered so that Gable was called upon to hit Norma, hit her hard. . . . They figured audiences would loathe any man who struck a woman. . . . The picture was previewed. . . . When Gable slugged Miss Shearer, the audiences applauded and cheered. . . . It was a trick of the trade that backfired. . . . Norma told me the story.

Glamor girls, when they're photographed in bathing suits, always arch their insteps and point the toes down. . . . It gives them a better ankle and leg-line. . . . This summer, when you girls are posing for photos at the beach [you know those poses where you're sitting on the edge of a swimming pool], point your toes. . . . You'll be amazed at what trim ankles you obtain. . . . You'll rarely see the cinema cuties pose for a picture with a hat on. . . . Remember, as the cinema cuties do, that hat styles change awfully fast, and a year from now that picture of you may look like something that Donald Duck whipped up. . . . If you're being photographed with celebrities, stand between them. . . . Then when the picture is printed, you'll be in it. . . . If you're on either end, it's too much of a temptation to picture editors and city editors to save newspaper space, and clip you off.

If you ever are asked to pose for a newsreel, remember that the one quality that screens most effectively is sincerity. . . . So when you talk, think of the words that you are saying. . . . Too many politicians when they preen for the newsreels just try to remember their lines and as a result appear a trifle half-witted. . . . All of us who meet a great many people try to remember names because it is flattering to the individual. . . . Occasionally, you forget a name, you're bound to. . . . Trick of the trade, in this emergency, is not to stall around and pretend a knowledge that is not there, but extricate yourself by a frank confession. . . . The victim prefers that, because from then on at least, you can call him by his or her monicker. . . . By the same token, when you meet somebody after a lapse of time, you can save embarrassment by telling your name immediately. . . . You can make deep friends of a lot of important people by that routine courtesy.

Eyeshadow Helps to Conceal Faults in the Facial Contour

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

There's more to eyeshadow than greets the observer's eye, it is said. There's the trick of highlighting the good points of the eyes and minimizing their not-so-good ones. One of the makers of eye beauty aids makes the following suggestions for enhancing eye beauty.

For eyes too far apart: Keep the eyebrows fairly close together and of normal thickness. Fill in toward nose with eye beauty pencil if necessary, and extend a bit beyond outer corner of eye. Apply shadow on upper lid near nose. Blend upward halfway to brow and face off three-fourths of way across eyelids. Concentrate mascara on lashes nearest nose.

For eyes too close together: Keep brows wide apart and moderately heavy. Extend beyond outer corner of eye, using pencil if necessary. Apply shadow near center of upper lid, blending up about halfway to brow and extend slightly beyond eye. Apply mascara heavily to lashes toward temple.

For long or too large eyes: Arch the brows high above the eyeball, keeping fairly thick thruout. Do not extend beyond eye. Apply shadow more heavily at outer corners, but do not extend beyond eyebrows. Concentrate mascara on outer end of lashes. Or, if you wish to shorten the eye, concentrate toward the nose.

For round eyes: Make slight peak well past center of eye. Lengthen natural line with pencil, using final, short, upward stroke. Apply shadow heavily and high at inner corners. Blend lightly to outer corner, where it should again be applied heavily. Apply mascara on extreme tips of lashes and at inner and outer ends of brows.

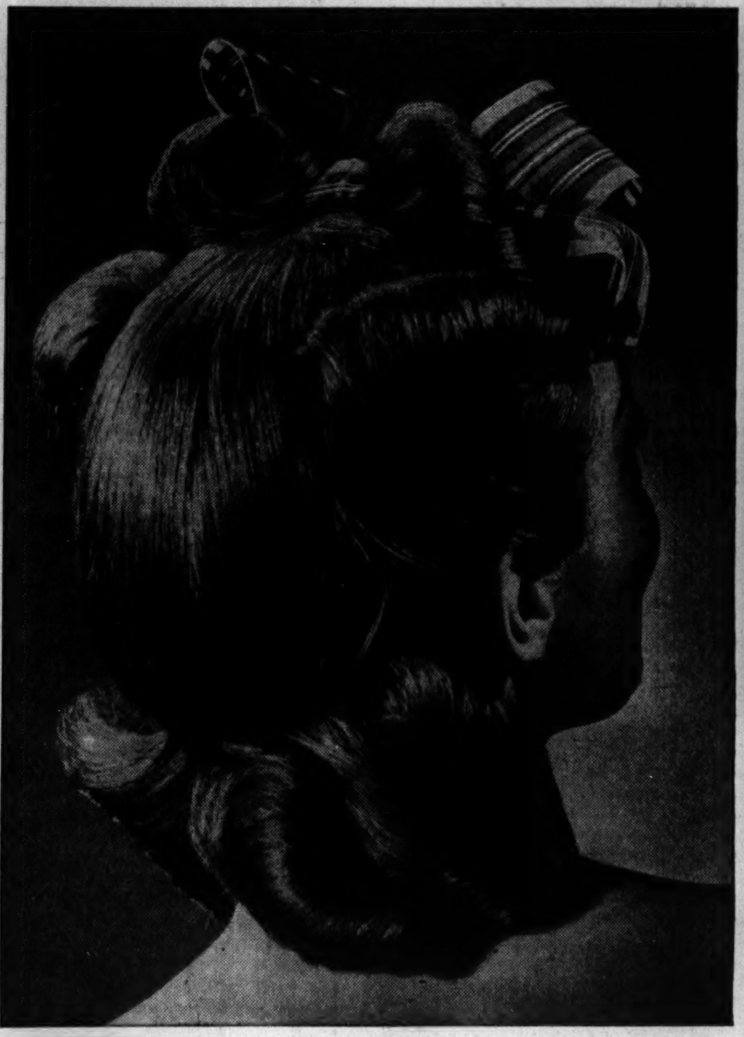
For narrow eyes: Arch brows in a double, uneven curve, higher above the outer end of the eye. Keep brows moderately thin. Apply shadow heavily across lower part of lid only, slightly higher toward nose and tapered down to outer corner. Apply mascara heaviest on very tips of lashes toward nose.

For deep-set eyes: Keep brows far apart in slight curve of medium thickness, tapering upward at end. Spread shadow lightly across upper lid above crease, shading only upward. Concentrate mascara on lower lashes if eyes are too deep-set.

Lithuanian Consul Here to Be Honored at Banquet

Petras Dauzvardis, Lithuanian consul in Chicago, will be honored at a banquet Sunday in the Shoreland hotel under the auspices of the Lithuanian Chamber of Commerce of Illinois. The occasion is the conferring of the third degree of the Order of the Grand Duke of Gediminas upon Dauzvardis by the Lithuanian government.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★



[Paul Garrison Photos.]

Hair bows are back in their old role of "beau catchers" this year. This charming hairdress for the young woman, with soft curls low in the back and a suggestion of high puffs on the top and at the sides, is made even more effective by the interlacing of striped taffeta ribbon that makes a bow above each temple.

You've got to wear more bows this spring and summer if you are going to cater to fashion's whim. Bows in your hair and on your lapel, down the front of your dress, and even on your ears. But what bows! When you see the collection at one of our salons, your puzzle will be not which one to wear but how you can wear all of them.

Cute as anything and smarter than that, are the bowknots of batiste, striped in three gay colors. They come in sets of three, each bow graduated in size. You can wear all three of them on your shoulder, lined up in military manner, one below the other, or down the front of your dress, or you can wear just one of them. They're made of strips of material about one-half inch wide and are starched or stiffened enough to hold their shape in a perky way, and they're waterproof. If you like polka dots, there are bows of white batiste with mixed blue and red dots and of blue and red with white dots; also plain ones of pique in white and colors.

You'll like the larger bowknots of sparkling metal cloth or of flattering velvet as a finishing touch to the evening coiffure. Each one is fastened to a clip that holds it firmly in place and you can perch them where you will. If you think two bows are better than one, you'll find two velvet bows with a connecting band that follows the contour of the head. You wear it across the back or with one bow placed high on the head and the other one worn low at the side.

If you're young, you'll match up the bows pinned on your costume or in your hair with cunning earrings. They're tiny bowknots made of the same materials as the larger bows.

Beau catchers, if there ever were any, are the sport caps for summer wear, also of batiste and pique. One version made of strips of white pique fits the head like a small boy's cap. Like spokes in a wagon wheel, the bands of material run from the crown to the encircling band, and where they join is a tiny bow. Truly, a halo of bows.

Chiffon, Lace Win Favor for Evening Gown

BY REA SEEGER.

Chiffon and lace, two flawless materials for figure line flattery, are better this season than ever before. Luscious colors, tints that rival a full blown garden for fragile pastels, in exquisitely beautiful patterns, combine both in the collections of dinner and evening gowns and in the lengths off the bolts for individual costumes. Silver gray, dove gray, and gunmetal are subtle shades for dinner clothes, the new models that are fitted in knee length sheaths to break into full flounces or gores from the knee to anklelines.

Wide skirted dance and party gowns for the young shoppers are made of snow white lace, yards and yards of the lovely stuff used in the picture book full skirts and the off the shoulder bodice tops. Chiffon is used half and half with lace for some sophisticated evening costumes, one black beauty using the acid contrast of vermilion head or shoulder lace veil.

Sheer chiffon blouses come in one color and the always fresh appearing white dotted chiffons. Deep blue with white dots, as well as other dark colors, serve as airy and effective suit blouses, especially the models cut with a demure high neckline and long sleeves gathered into cuffs trimmed with circular ruffles that almost cover the hand.

Snow white chiffon blouses are more than plentiful, most of them tucked into a tailored simplicity ideal for suit wear. Shell pink, pale blue, very pale beige and gray run along in second place for fashion popularity.

Mrs. M'Cormick Paintings to Be Put on Display

BY JUDITH CASS.

BY THE END of this week or the first of next, governing members of the Art institute and friends of the late Mrs. Robert R. McCormick will receive invitations bidding them to a preview of an exhibition of paintings or, by, and collected by Mrs. McCormick. The preview will be at a tea from 3:30 until 5 o'clock in gallery 53 on Monday afternoon, April 15. The exhibition will be shown in that gallery until June 2.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, whose husband is president of the institute, and Col. McCormick will receive, and to Mrs. Walter S. Brewster has been entrusted the task of arranging the tea table. Chauncey McCormick, a vice president of the institute, and Mrs. McCormick will be at home from Florida by the time the exhibition is opened. They are expected at the end of this week.

The Chauncey McCormicks have a great personal interest in the exhibition aside from his official capacity, for Col. McCormick and Chauncey McCormick are cousins, and the two families are neighbors in Wheaton. Mr. McCormick was one of those instrumental in persuading Col. McCormick to allow the paintings to be exhibited publicly. The collection is a noteworthy one, because it is seldom that any one who collects paintings also has a real talent for painting.

It also is unusual for a collector to assemble her own collection. The unusual combination of being a capable painter and a connoisseur of remarkable insight made the paintings that Mrs. McCormick chose outstanding ones. Most of the paintings that she bought for her husband are from the nineteenth and twentieth century French school, altho there are some portraits by the Scottish Raeburn and the Spanish Goya.

Redon, Modigliani, Renoir, Matisse, Utrillo, Dufy, Survage, Léger, Chirico, Gauguin, Cezanne, Le Douanier, and Rousseau are represented in the show. Glyn Philpot's portrait of Mrs. McCormick is in it, and so is a portrait of Col. McCormick that his wife did.

Gun Bought Grant

By Luke Short

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Framed by his enemy, Santee Bales, Sam Teacher, outlaw cowboy, shoots the bank robber dressed to resemble him. The governor agrees to give Sam $25,000 in addition to full pardon for all the crimes accredited to him if he will persuade obstinate Matt Drury to sell the railroad the right of way through one of his canyons. Sam gets a job on Drury's ranch and has a run-in with his worthless son, Steve, and his pretty but spoiled daughter, Celia. Instead of firing Sam, Drury takes his advice and gives Steve a small stake of his own; and he tells Celia she has to run the house. Both children leave home in a huff, Celia getting a job in a restaurant and Steve getting into a crooked poker game with Bales and ends up the big loser, having to go into partnership with him. Bales persuades Steve to get the grant for the canyon property so they can make the governor pay them instead of Sam. Sam is captured by Bales and his men, who steal his gun and leave him tied up. When Sam breaks loose and reaches town he is arrested for the murder of Steve as his gun is found near the murdered man. Matt wants Sam hanged but his foreman, Pearly, is convinced of Sam's innocence and resigns to help find the real murderer. He buys a stable next door to the jail and digs Sam out, and they concoct a plan to outwit Bales. With dynamite they change the course of the river that determines the boundary of the land Bales plans to sell the railroad. Bales learns that the river is needed for irrigation and plans to get a court order to change the course of the river back again. Celia gets homesick and visits her father. While she is there, Pearly and Sam appear at the ranch and tell Drury of Bales' scheme and try to persuade him to guard the canyon while Sam kills Bales. Drury refuses but Celia realizes they are right and begs them to protect her father and his interests. Sam encounters a miner driving a wagon load of gold ore and makes him head for the river bed.

INSTALMENT XXVIII.

A COURT ORDER.

"You goin' thru with this?" George asked desperately.

"Not me. You are. You're goin' to drive this load of ore where I tell you to, and earn fifty dollars. I give you the money for the ore, so no harm's done except you had a change of scenery. What's the matter with that?"

George looked earnestly at him and saw no weakening in the face. Then he looked at the gun and decided that it meant business. He looked at the road, and it challenged him. He was single, strong, and could get a job anywhere in case he was fired over this. So he picked up the jerkline, rose out of his seat and braced his feet. "Be damned to you," he said. "I can drive that old road wet or dry. Hang on."

He cursed the mules and shook out his whip, popping it with a crack that made the timber ring. The mules, once they knew that a change had come over their lives, lunged into their collars.

The wagon lurched off the road, hung on two wheels, righted itself, and plunged on. The old road was grown over with second growth pines that scraped the mules' bellies and tickled them. George sat down, put a foot on the brake, and let them have their head. Sam glanced back once, in time to see Pearly filling in the wagon tracks and smoothing them over. With a few hours of this rain, which would blot out even the tracks on the road, it would take some careful observing to see where the wagon had left the road.

And then Sam turned his attention to the ride. Ascending the road, it had looked steep, but not too steep. Now it looked like a precipice. As the wagon gained way and the mules stretched out, Sam had a hard time remembering that he was supposed to be holding a gun on the driver. His first impulse was to jump, his second to drop the gun and hold on with both hands. But George sat there with a grim smile on his face, the smile of a man who is taking a dare and will see it thru to the bitter end. Sam took a deep breath, decided not to look at the road, and held his gun pointed at George's belly. The minutes were the only things that were slow in that ride. Twice Sam got ready to jump as the heavy wagon careened on two wheels. Once George lunged to his feet, braced himself like a sailor on the slanting deck of a ship. His jaw sagged open and his jerkline slacked. They passed the tree, and the rear hub chewed a piece of bark out of it with a rending sound. It came so close that Sam's lead horse shied away. And then the wagon settled down again with a crash, and George's whip cracked out. The mules leaned into the collars on a small upgrade, and Sam breathed freely again.

After that they were leveling off for the flats. When they finally pulled clear of the timber and then the foothills, George pulled the teams up to blow them. He glanced at Sam with a triumphant expression and wiped the rain from his face. "Wasn't so bad," he drawled, but there was a queer pitch to his voice that told Sam they had been lucky to get thru.

Pearly caught up with them at noon when they were several miles along the rim. The going was easy here in spite of the mud, for a few inches under its surface was the trap rock of the rim.

In midafternoon they came to the new Rio Medio. It had spread out now so that it was only a shallow stream whose banks were not yet wholly defined. A quarter mile to the south of the road it tumbled off the rim. The wind caught it then, whipping it out in long streamers and splashing it onto the plains below in ragged banners. Further on it collected in a small lake and spilled out from it in a meandering stream that headed roughly southeast.

They camped that night after dark in a clump of cedars near the rim where Pearly had cached grain for the mules and food for themselves. George, now that he had got used to the idea of the ore wagon being stolen, was amiable enough. It was a wet raw night, with the rain whipping in under the tarp they had rigged up for a shelter, and they were glad to climb into dry blankets after they ate. Pearly, the lightest sleeper, slept on the guns in case George decided to make a break, but George did not stir.

The rain still held on the next morning, and for a reason George could not explain, this fact seemed to make both his captors happy. They helped him harness the teams, and an hour after daylight they were on their way again, to where George had given up even trying to guess. In midmorning Sam gave orders to leave the road and work toward the foothills, and a little after noon they came to the junction of the foothills and the empty canyon bed of the old Rio Medio.

George looked down into the canyon and shook his head, "This is as far as we go, mister," he announced.

"Can you get down into the canyon?"

George nodded gravely. "Sure. Only we're goin' to stay there once we're down. I can take this damn thing down anything. It's gettin' up that can't be done."

George, who had already resigned himself to this idiocy, shrugged and dismounted to rig up a roughneck with a log and chain. Once it was adjusted, he whipped the mules over the sloping rim and the ponderous wagon slid down into the canyon. George looked at the stream, which was flowing a couple of inches of water on its shallow bed, looked at the opposite canyon wall, and put down the jerkline. "All right," he said wryly, "now what you goin' to do? Rustle up another dozen mules?"

"Turn downstream," Sam called from the slope.

George did as he was bid and then stopped while Sam came over to him. "I want you to drive real slow down this stream bed. You get that? Real slow. Wait till I give you the word to start."

Pearly joined him, carrying two shovels, and they both climbed up on the load and removed the tarp.

"All right," Sam said.

George got the mules in motion, and then turned around to observe Sam and Pearly. They were leisurely shoveling out ore into the stream bed and scattering it in a wide arc. George watched them for many long minutes, paying more attention to them than to the mules, who were splashing water shoulder high.

Finally, when George could stand it no longer, he pulled up the mules. Gravely, as if talking to children, he said, "Look. Didn't nobody ever tell you that you can't plant that stuff? Ore don't grow into gold watches if it's watered. Ain't nobody ever told you that?"

Sam looked at Pearly, and they both laughed. Sam only said, "Turn around and keep those mules movin'. Drive right on down this canyon until you're free of it."

Santee Bales arrived late at night in Trabajo and went immediately to the sheriff's office on the chance that Lovejoy might be there. But the office was dark and he went back to the hotel, every restless move proclaiming his impatience.

He was waiting on the doorstep of the sheriff's office the next morning, his face bland and important looking. Against the heat of the morning, which had come on the heel of the long rain, Santee was wearing a black broadcloth coat.

He flourished a paper in Sheriff Lovejoy's face and said, "Sheriff, prepare for a shock."

"They ain't caught Teacher, have they?" Lovejoy asked.

Santee laughed. "O, no. Nothing like that. But Teacher doesn't matter any more. That paper you have in your hand is a writ from the court in Santa Luz. It's an order restraining any one from diverting the waters of the Rio Medio from its course."

"Unh-hunh," Lovejoy said.

"This," Santee added, bringing out an envelope, "is a court order directin' you to divert the Rio Medio back in its rightful channel."

Lovejoy read this, too. "All right," he said. "Only how'm I goin' to do it?"

"Dynamite. Blow out that dam."

"The Inter-Valley Irrigation company."

"And who is that?"

"Me. I incorporated a few of these Mexican farmers down south here into a company, hired a lawyer in Santa Luz, got an injunction and a court order, and promised to pay the bill for diverting the water back into its rightful channel. Since the case wasn't contested, I swung it in a morning."

is away from Lake Forest. April 4 is the birthday of Mrs. William E. Clow Sr. and of her son, Kent; April 5 is William E. Clow Jr.'s birthday, so usually Mrs. Clow and her sons celebrate together. This year, however, Kent Clow and his family are not returning from Sea Island, Ga., until next Monday, and Mr. Clow Jr. and his bride also are away.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Clow's only daughter, Mrs. Donald Douglas, is at home to celebrate with her mother today, for the Douglases returned from a vacation spent at Sun Valley last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clow Sr. and her sister, Miss Martha Sarver, recently returned from six weeks at the Lake Placid club in Florida.

Fashion Group to Write Spring Style Program Today.

Things political are engrossing every one's attention just now, so it isn't surprising that The Fashion Group is making some nominations today at its annual fashion show to be held at luncheon time in the Congress hotel. The candidates that will be presented to the women who assemble in the Gold ballroom at 12:30 o'clock will be fashions, however, and not men or women; fashions that have been chosen from the collections of American and European designers to represent the group's fashion platform for spring.

Mrs. John L. Cochran, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr., Mrs. Robert M. Adams, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. Chauncey B. Blair, Mrs. James S. Kemper, Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams III., Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, and Mrs. John B. Adams are some of the many who have reserved tables for the luncheon and show.

The Cercle des Jeunes of the Alliance Francaise will meet for the last time this season at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Marthe Gassman will speak on "The Science of Handwriting." Among those of the group who will be hostesses at tea following the program are Miss Marie Louise Hulburd, Mrs. Mary Seymour Adams, Miss Anne Stuart, Miss Eleanor Litsinger, Miss Denise Root, Mrs. Edward Byron Smith, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., and Mrs. Garfield King.

At 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning Henri David will read "News from France," as presented in letters by Mrs. John Storrs.

Mrs. Bennett and Daughter Win More Show Ribbons.

Mrs. Edward H. Bennett and her daughter, Miss Betty Mead, will have several new ribbons and prizes to bring home to Lake Forest when they return from North Carolina May 1. Mrs. Bennett on Vicky won the Tryon hunter trial at the recent Pinehurst show and a few days later Miss Mead, also on Vicky, won the ladies' hunter class and the hunter hack class. Mrs. Bennett, Miss Mead, and Boylston Tompkins Jr. were the winning team in the hunter team classes. While the feminine members of his family are busy hunting and collecting prizes Mr. Bennett is devoting himself to painting.

Check off as many of those "musts" on your list of things to do as possible today.

April is a big month for those born today, and also for all those having a 4-year. Watch finances especially, and don't try to expand beyond sound, practical bounds. You may feel the urge to ta'e the reins and ride reckless, but, if you do, you are heading for trouble. Be wise, but, above all, be practical. This is the year for digging into the corners, putting things in order, and holding to the budget.

HAROLD TEEN—DOUBLE FOOEY

According to CULBERTSON

Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.

Some of the bidding practices that gain popular approval are based on the most abysmal ignorance. Take, for example, the artificial club bid which seems to be enjoying a vogue among many players who make no pretense of being experts. In certain circles this bid seems to be regarded as a panacea for virtually all opening bid troubles, that is, when the player is in some doubt over whether he has a safe rebid, he "solves" everything by blurting out "one club." In different parts of the country this pernicious convention is used with various ramifications; for instance, I understand some misguided players use it as a hybrid and greatly inferior Vanderbilt club convention, demanding a one diamond response if partner holds less than so many tricks, or a variety of other responses, depending on aces and kings. What the one club enthusiasts overlook is that, in relegating this bid to the realm of artificial conventions, they destroy clubs as a suit to all intents and purposes. In a sense, therefore, they are confined to the real bidding of only three suits, whereas their opponents probably have four suits at their command.

I do not wish to indicate that I never make a one club bid on a short suit as a preparedness measure, but I most emphatically do state that this practice is being overdone to the extent of several thousand per cent. I have seen any number of catastrophes follow the indiscriminate use of a one club opening. Today's hand is just one of many thousands.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	4 diamonds	5 clubs	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

I think it must be admitted by even the most fanatic devotee of the "one club system" that North was in quite a spot over West's four diamond preempt. Surely, he could not just close his eyes, select one of his anemic four card major suits, bid it at the four level, and pray that partner could stand it, or if he couldn't, would be so clairvoyant as to know that it was a four carder and hence take proper measures. North realized fully that South's club bid might have been a short and, perhaps, worthless suit, but what good did this knowledge do him? Was he supposed to tamely pass over the four diamonds because he could not be sure what suit North-South had a game in? Perhaps the users of this pernicious system can find a sound bid for North to make. I confess that I cannot.

The fact remains that North did decide in favor of five clubs, a decision which, in my view, cannot be criticized, and that from that point on neither North or South dared to stab at another suit. South felt that North might have five or six clubs and that, if he bid one of his own majors, he might be only stepping from the frying pan into the fire. The crux is that after the opening club bid, chaos reigned instead of logical partnership bidding.

On a diamond opening by West and a diamond continuation, South found himself with a contract virtually impossible to handle, and he went down five tricks. He could have saved a couple, but even this hardly would have been comforting, considering that four spades or four hearts would have been cold as ice.

The entire blame, in my opinion, must be put on South for having failed to realize that a one spade opening was perfectly correct, with the intention of bidding two hearts over any normal response North might make.

The Housewife

If you have a maple bedroom and are looking for an attractive maple radio to go in it you'll be interested to know you can find this item installed in a good looking, butterfly type of drop leaf maple table. The table is good size and will hold a lamp and some books and magazines, if you wish. The radio is installed beneath its top surface. The maple has been given a pleasing, mellow toned finish. This radio table is not cheap, but it is not extravagantly priced, either.

Gen. Robert E. Wood to Head Paderewski Relief Fund Drive

Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., presided yesterday afternoon in the Stevens hotel at the first meeting of the Chicago committee for the newly organized Paderewski fund for Polish relief. He has been appointed vice chairman of the fund's middle west unit by Col. William J. Donovan, national president.

The Chicago committee will seek to raise $1,000,000 for direct aid in Poland. Arrangements already have been made in Poland for the distribution of the fund by American administrators, according to Gen. Wood. The Polish relief fund organization headed by Chauncey McCormick has been absorbed by the Paderewski organization and will act as one of the distributive agents in Poland.

Present at the luncheon meeting yesterday were Mrs. Robert Pirie, Countess Anthony Potocki, M. K. Reckord, A. H. Kuliokowski, Dr. Ralph Habas, and the Rev. Robert Stewart of Wheaton.

Chase House Luncheon.

Members of the Chase House auxiliary will sponsor a luncheon-bridge at 1 o'clock tomorrow at Christ church parish house in Winnetka. Mrs. Frederick H. Hill is president of the group.

On the House

Double duty rooms in our houses are on the increase. One idea which has already been put into use in some of our small homes is a double duty "stateroom." . . . Such a room, next to a kitchen, can be some 8 by 10 feet, and serve as dinette, reading room, card room, or child's study by day. . . . And by night it can serve as a bedroom, with practical spring cushion seats built in, Pullman or trailer fashion, with a removable table between. . . . These seats fold down when night comes, and you have a comfortable bed!

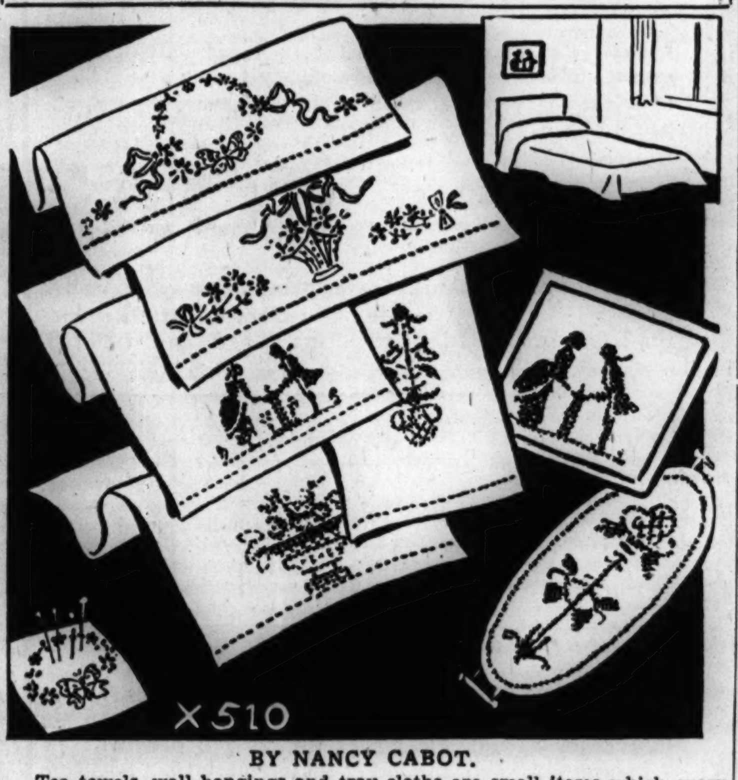
Versatile Embroidery Pattern



BY NANCY CABOT.

Tea towels, wall hangings and tray cloths are small items which every embroidery worker enjoys creating. The hot iron transfer pattern offers a variety of embroidery to suit any purpose. The butterfly and wreath are ideal for towels and, for a change, may be coupled with the dainty flower basket. Cross-stitch comes in for its share of popularity, and the simple floral motif may be used for a wall hanging and worked in a variety of colors. The dainty colonial figures may be employed for any purpose, from a wall hanging to a pillow. Unusual and most attractive is the tray cloth done in a conventional tree design.

For the hot iron transfer pattern, No. X-510, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Your Manners at a Dance Are Revealing

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"The way you dance often is the key to your personality and character." So says handsome young Bob Crosby, band leader.

If what Bob says is so, then, young women, you should analyze yourselves and do your utmost to improve your dancing habits and manners.

"I have no statistical data or unimpeachable authority on which to base my claim," says Crosby, "but I'm pretty sure that many a romance started at a dance. The dance floor is a natural meeting place for young people, and there's nothing like good music to put people in a convivial mood.

"I figure that, since the dance has established itself as an important, American social meeting ground, a lot of critical judgment, a good deal of sizing up, takes place above the music of an orchestra. In my spare time I've analyzed boys and girls, their manner or lack thereof, in dancing, and I'm convinced that from the manners and taste shown on a ballroom floor much is portrayed by the dancer.

"Dancing calls for poise, good taste and charm, and that goes even for jitterbug dancing. Hardly to be recommended are: The girl who waxes affectionate; couples who try to hog the limelight; the girl who wiggles so that too liberal a portion of her leg is visible; and, lastly, raucous yelling or shouting to some friend across the floor.

"Personally, I get a 'kick' out of watching people dance and am not too concerned about how they act while tripping the light fantastic. But, as I said before, a lot of girls are judging boys, and vice versa, and it would seem to be a pretty good idea to make a good impression at all times."

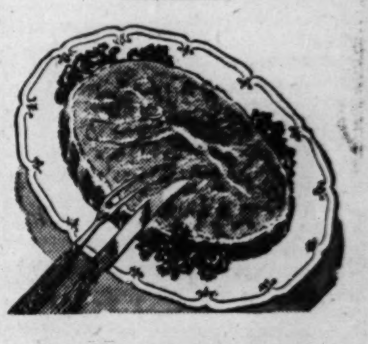
WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

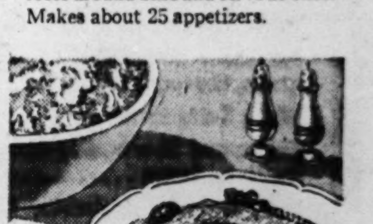
Quite modestly, I may say I have one of the most complete culinary libraries in the country. I have recipes from every race and country with the exception of our cannibal friends. Most of these depend on correct seasoning for their goodness. It will pay you to learn the art of seasoning but I urge you to use every restraint while learning it.

George Rector
Food Consultant
Wilson & Co.



HERE'S A GOOD ONE!
Broiled Ham Steak With Crushed Pineapple
If the family's taste is at all on the tart side, they will appreciate a thick Wilson Tender Made Ham steak broiled with crushed pineapple. Have the Tender Made Ham Steak cut a good inch thick. Bring to room temperature. Score fat with a sharp knife. Spread lightly with melted Clear Brook Butter. Place in preheated broiler (450° F.) about 3 inches from heating unit. Broil 7 minutes, then turn and broil the other side for 5 minutes. Reduce heat, spread ham with 1 cup drained crushed pineapple, with 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Cook until lightly browned. Garnish. Serves 4.

JIFFY APPETIZERS
No appetizer should take longer to prepare than it does to consume. Tamale-ettes come well within that specification. Simply open a can of Wilson's Hot Tamales. Unwrap each and cut in four or five pieces. Wrap each piece snugly in half a strip of Wilson's Certified Bacon and fasten with a toothpick. Place on a grill about 3 inches from source of heat, and broil until brown and crisp, turning frequently. Impale on a sugar loaf cabbage. Place radish roses around base and serve at once. Makes about 25 appetizers.



RUM TUM DITTY
An excellent dish for the late supper. It should be accompanied by a mixed green salad or a crisp cole slaw.
1 can condensed tomato soup
½ cup water
2 medium-sized onions
½ lb. Wilson's Certified American Cheese
2 Clear Brook Eggs
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon white pepper
Bring water and soup to boiling point. Add onions, thinly sliced, and cook about ten minutes or until onions are tender. Then add cheese which has been put through a ricer, stirring constantly until melted. Separate eggs; beat yolks with seasonings; add to cheese mixture and stir over low heat until mixed. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into hot cheese mixture. Serve on toast, rusks or crackers. Garnish with parsley. If prepared in advance, keep slightly warm in double boiler and reheat before serving. Serves 5-6.

CHICAGO WELCOMES EUROPEAN BOXERS TODAY

SOX WHIP CUBS, 6-4; TAKE 2 GAME LEAD IN SERIES

THE GUMPS—ADDING INSULT TO INJURY!

PASSEAU GOES ROUTE; WRIGHT DRIVES IN 3 RUNS

Dietrich and Smith Pitch for Winners.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

El Paso, Tex., April 3.—The White Sox made it three in a row over the Cubs this afternoon with a 6 to 4 victory in the final game of their spring city series. The Cubs must now sweep the three games in Chicago April 12, 13 and 14 to overtake the Sox.

Claude Passeau, who became a papa this morning, pitched the entire game for the Cubs, the first pitcher to go all the way for either of the Chicago teams. He had some tough going in the first inning, in which Taft Wright doubled with the bases full to tie the score at 3 to 3. The American leaguers added one in the second and two in the third. After that Passeau tolerated no scoring.

The Cubs made three runs in the first half off Bill Dietrich, and tho they loaded the bases in the second, their only scoring after the first was a homer by Bill Nicholson at the start of the fifth inning.

Smith Stifles Cubs.

Edgar [Lefty] Smith, the pudgy southpaw, who has been training according to a strict routine outlined by Manager Jimmy Dykes, showed pleasing effects of his reformation.

Smith took charge of the pitching in the sixth and almost completely stifled the National leaguers. Passeau doubled in that inning, but was stranded on third. Billy Herman singled in the ninth with one out, but expired on first. These two were the only Cubs to reach base, a tribute to the portly Mr. Smith's belated discovery of the whereabouts of home plate.

Here's the way the two three run clusters were accumulated:

Stan Hack opened with a single to right and Billy Herman walked, whereupon Augie Galan singled to center, Hack scoring and Herman reaching third. Nicholson popped to Tom Turner, then Dom Dallessandro rolled out to the infield. Don Kolloway tried to force Galan at second, but his throw to Luke Appling was late. Herman scored on the belated fielder's choice. Al Todd singled to center, scoring Galan, and the bases were loaded after Bob Sturgeon beat out a single off Dietrich's glove. Passeau lined to Kreevich.

Wright Gets a Potent Hit.

After Kolloway and Joe Kuhel had been retired by the infield Mike Kreevich and Julius Solters singled and Appling walked, loading the bases. Wright then doubled to center, scoring Kreevich, Solters and Appling with the tying runs. Wright was retired, tho, when he tried to reach third. Sturgeon, who took the throw from Galan after running deep into center field, made a beautiful relay to Hack.

The Sox took the lead in the second inning, again starting things after two were out. Dietrich doubled to center and scored on Kolloway's triple to left.

At the end of the third inning the Sox were ahead, 6 to 3. Kreevich walked and went to third on Solters' single to left. Solters stole second and when Sturgeon let Todd's throw go into center field, Kreevich scored and Solters went on to third. He scored while Appling was being retired on an infield roller.

Taylor Made Score for Leafs

Going into the Toronto Maple Leafs' lineup against the New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden last night, Young Billy Taylor (right) made good by shooting the puck (arrow) past Goalie Davey Kerr for a score in the first period, but the Rangers went on to win, 6 to 2, and take a 2 to 0 lead in the Stanley cup playoffs.. At left is Alex Shibicky (No. 4) of the Rangers. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Hayes Happy; Eye Infection Is Clearing Up

Jack Hayes.

An infection, the source of which has not been discovered, has settled in the pupil of the eye, Dr. George J. Musgrave reported. X-rays taken of Hayes' teeth gave no clue to the infection. Today a dentist will give Hayes' molars a vitality test, just for final proof that they are not the seat of the trouble.

Eye Clears Noticeably.

Hayes' second examination revealed that a solution prescribed earlier in the day had cleared up his eye noticeably. Most of the swelling and inflammation had disappeared. Dr. Musgrave said that the trouble was not caused by specks of coal dust from the White Sox train, as first thought.

Infections of this type sometimes clear up in two or three days, Hayes was told. This was cheering news, because the veteran is anxious to return to the Sox before too long a period has elapsed. He wants to be sure that he, and not Don Kolloway, the 21 year old rookie from Blue Island, will be at second base when the championship season starts.

This year's White Sox team was described by Hayes as appearing to be the strongest since he joined the Comiskey forces in 1932. He included Kolloway, his second base rival, in an analysis.

Says Knee Is O. K.

"Don looks like a good ball player," said Jack. "His only fault, as I can see, is in throwing, but I'm sure he'll improve there. Bob Kennedy, the third baseman, and Tom Turner, the catcher, also look like genuine finds."

The 1940 club impresses the veteran because of increased reserve strength over that of other seasons. Hayes is confident his right knee, weak for two years as a result of an injury, is as strong as ever.

GOLFDOM'S ELITE GATHER TODAY AT MR. JONES' PARTY

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Augusta, Ga., April 3.

Mr. Robert Tyre Jones Jr.
Requests
the pleasure of your presence at the Augusta National Golf club on Thursday, April 4, 1940.

Tomorrow afternoon 59 gentlemen—13 of them representing Chicago—will answer the above invitation in person in the first round of the seventh annual Masters' golf tournament, most select function in the game. The party will endure for four days at the rate of 18 holes per afternoon. Chief favor for the guests will be first prize of $1,500.

The host, Mr. Jones, who used to bat a golf ball or two around himself, will join in the fun, too. Mr. Jones, since his retirement in 1930 as the No. 1 party boy of them all, indulges in this sort of thing only once annually. He was the inspiration for this entertainment, and it is his presence that makes it the fête it is.

Nobody crashes this highly social gathering. There are no entry fees. You might wave a million dollars at the doormen here and still you wouldn't get in. You must have one of the aforesaid invitations, and the only way you can get them is to have won one of the major championships or to have finished so close that you must be considered an eligible for golf's blue book.

Three Special Guests.

All but three of the guests here won their invitations automatically. The three special visitors who were asked because of their exceptional performances within the last year are Bill Holt of Syracuse, N. Y., British semifinalist last year, and Professionals Lloyd Mangrum of Oak Park, Ill., and Willie Goggin of San Francisco, Cal., who did themselves proud on the winter circuit.

The guest list is the largest in the history of the masters' party. It is also the most quality laden in the seven year career of the show. Never before has it had such an array of able amateurs. There is—for one—big, blond Jim Ferrier, the Australian youth who has most of the pros in the British empire scared of him. There are Marvin Ward of Tacoma, Wash., and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., champion and runner-up in last year's American amateur. There is Chick Evans of Chicago, winner of the 1916 Amateur and Open

Rangers Win from Leafs Again, 6 to 2

New York, April 3 (AP).—The New York Rangers, paced by Bryan Hextall, overpowered the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6 to 2, tonight to gain their second straight victory in the final playoff series for the Stanley cup and the world professional hockey championship.

Hextall, the National Hockey league's leading scorer, slammed three goals past Goalie Turk Broda of the Leafs and drew an assist on another. In addition, he was indirectly responsible for a couple of other goals.

Red Horner, Toronto defense ace, was given three penalties, each time for tripping Hextall, and three of the Rangers' goals were scored during Horner's resulting absence.

The Leafs fired home the first two goals of the game, but couldn't get another tally after the first six minutes as Davey Kerr, the Ranger net minder, turned in a great performance.

Young Billy Taylor, recalled from Pittsburgh for the game, and Hank Goldup, another youngster getting his first taste of Stanley cup warfare, made it 2 to 0 at the start. The steady pressure of the Ranger attack broke thru the defense that had been so effective in the opening game, however, and turned the contest into a rout.

The Rangers took the opener last night, 2 to 1, in overtime and will go to Toronto Saturday to complete the best-of-seven series.

Shows Aggressiveness in Drill for Europeans.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Leon Haire, a tall and agile St. Louis colored boy, seems likely to get the job of fighting Federico Cortonesi, Europe's featherweight champion, in the International Golden Gloves bouts next Wednesday night in the Stadium. And Leon showed yesterday that he's the boy to do it.

Coach Johnny Behr and his assistants, Fred Caserio and Paddy Kane, didn't fool around when they picked out a sparring partner for Leon. They brought out the veteran Jimmy Martin, who fought on the Golden Gloves team of 1936. And Leon didn't fool around, either. With that long left flashing like a rapier he found his target again and again. He shot over repeated one-two punches that were straight and hard.

Haire's Getting Better.

The choice of Haire became a probability when Roy Lewis of Muncie, Ind., the Chicagoland 126 pound champion, developed a foot ailment that has kept him idle during most of the workouts.

Haire has shown so much improvement in recent weeks he might very well have got the assignment even if Lewis were able to defend his position. After losing a close decision to the Indiana boy in the finals of the Chicago tournament, Haire went on to win his intercity match in New York. Under the rigorous routine of Golden Gloves training, Haire has been getting better and better.

Uses Aggressive Tactics.

The Missourian indicated the extent of his improvement in yesterday's sparring session. Since the start of the present Golden Gloves campaign he always has been distinguished for his boxing ability. He has been an elusive target, going thru the St. Louis section, the Chicago tournament, and the intercity matches without taking more than three or four solid punches. But while presenting a baffling problem to all of his opponents, he showed little hitting power himself during his earlier matches.

He was a different boy yesterday, however. Against the seasoned Martin he shot sharp lefts and followed up with dynamic rights. He showed the aggressiveness necessary for going on to finish off an opponent.

Most observers agreed this aggressiveness was all Haire lacked in his former matches. He has judgment, courage, and is cool under fire. He has unusual height and reach for a featherweight, and he knows how to use this advantage for all it's worth.

Holds Victory Over Dowdall.

International competition is nothing new to Leon. When last year's European team went down to St. Louis for a series of bouts following the international Golden Gloves matches in Chicago, Haire took on Patrick Dowdall, Europe's titleholder, who had just beaten Roy Lewis in the Stadium engagement. Haire dealt Dowdall a three round defeat.

In the recent intercity matches in New York Leon was one of the two Chicago boys who were able to win in the first half of the program. His victory over Art Foster, combined with Jimmy Joyce's victory over John Aiello, held New York to 6 to 2 at the intermission and enabled Chicago to go on and earn a tie by winning six of the eight bouts on the latter half.

Hold Funeral Services Today for Hockey Timer

Funeral services for John S. Keogh, who for 14 years served as timekeeper for the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team, will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the Church of the Assumption, 313 West Illinois street. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery. Keogh, a cousin of Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the club, died in the Chicago Athletic association Tuesday night. He was 73 years old.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

EIGHT young men from war torn Europe will arrive in Chicago this morning looking for a fight. . . . Strangely, perhaps, in peace loving America are eight fellows of their age and size waiting to accommodate them. . . . The visitors are Guido Nardecchia, Ulderico Sergo, Egisto Peire, and Federico Cortenesi of Italy, Eric Agren, Karl Noren, and Olle Tandberg of Sweden, and Lajos Szigeti of Hungary. . . . They are the amateur boxing champions of Europe's neutral countries and they are here to whip, if they can, the best fighters Chicago's 1940 Golden Gloves tournament developed. . . . We'll know more about that around midnight next Wednesday when the firing in Chicago Stadium has subsided. . . . A similar group from Europe invaded Chicago last spring and defeated our bravest and strongest, 5 bouts to 3. . . . This is a better team than our boys encountered a year ago. . . . There is some doubt whether our champions are as powerful collectively as the squad that represented us in 1939. . . . Against New York they faltered badly in the first eight bouts, then rallied spectacularly to earn an 8 to 8 score. . . .

Oscar Soderlund.

The important thing, however, is that the Europeans have arrived. . . . There were many complications in the way. . . . Sweden's representatives, for instance, had to risk transportation dangers in traveling across belligerent countries to reach Rome, where the squad was assembled. . . . Some of the neutrals didn't know whether their homelands still would enjoy that status at the time of departure. . . . The Olympic games have been abandoned. . . . Davis cup competition has been interrupted. . . . International golf matches have been dropped. . . . Only Golden Gloves survives. . . . Completion of arrangements for the 1940 bouts was made possible by the enthusiastic coöperation of officials of the International Amateur Boxing association, three of whom have accompanied the fighters to Chicago. . . . They are Oscar Soderlund of Sweden, Arthur Kankovsky of Hungary, and Gerardo Leonardi of Italy. . . . Steve Klaus of Italy, who trained the European team which defeated Chicago a year ago, again has charge of the physical development of the boxers from across the sea.

Gerardo Leonardi.

The survival of International Golden Gloves in the midst of war is the answer to the esteem in which the promotion is held by athletic leaders in Europe. . . . It is significant that a sport involving such violent physical contact as amateur boxing probably has contributed to what is known as international good will more heavily than all other forms of competition combined. . . . This is the ninth contest between boxers from Europe and Chicago, and in all those years there hasn't been an unpleasant experience. . . . The representatives of the various national boxing groups have been grand sportsmen. . . . The fighters, both Europe's and America's, have given lickings and taken them with grace. . . . There has been no squawking about decisions, no effort to take unfair advantage of the other fellow. . . .

Arthur Kankovsky.

The Golden Gloves bouts have proved that it is possible for a team of strangers to come to Chicago, to receive a warm welcome, to be cheered and applauded for every success attained. . . . If you attended any of the previous bouts, you heard the same intensity of cheering when an Italian or a Swede smacked a Chicagoan as when a Chicagoan landed solidly on a European. . . . The capacity throngs which have attended international Golden Gloves are the most amazingly fair and sporting audience ever gathered under one roof.

Let's keep it that way in 1940.

Ten Years Ago Today—The White Sox rallied in the ninth inning to help Red Faber beat Little Rock, 5 to 3. . . . Betting commissioners made the Cubs and the Athletics favorites to win in their respective leagues. . . . Jack Gagnon agreed to meet Tuffy Griffith in a return match in Chicago.

FINLAND GIVES UP HOPE OF HOLDING OLYMPIC GAMES

HELSINGFORS, Finland, April 3 (AP).—Antii Kukkonen, minister of education propaganda, said today it would be impossible for Finland to organize the Olympic games this year "because of the abnormal situation prevailing between the great powers."

"We hope fervently, however," he said in the first governmental pronouncement on the Olympics, "that sorely tried Finland will not lose her turn, but will be permitted to organize the next games on whatever date they can be held."

Supporting this point, Kukkonen called attention to the fact that Finland already has devoted much money and labor to preparations. At the same time he appealed for aid in restoring the scientific and cultural life of Finland disrupted because of the war.

TEAM TO RENEW DRILLS AFTER MEETING MAYOR

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Altoona, Pa., April 3.—The 5,690 mile journey from Rome for a defense of the International Golden Gloves championship ends in Chicago tomorrow morning for four Italians, three Swedes, and a Hungarian air corps quartermaster.

At 8:40 o'clock the European Golden Gloves team reaches the Union station, the final stop on a mission of neighborly understanding and sportsmanship that carried it thru waters infested with submarines and contraband controls. The visitors will be given a greeting later in the day by Mayor Kelly at the city hall.

While a Pennsylvania railroad flyer pulling their special car sped westward tonight, the boxers made plans to prolong Europe's supremacy in this international series when on April 10 they meet the Chicagoland Golden Glovers in the Stadium for the ninth time.

They'll Work Out Today.

The chief item on their schedule is immediate resumption of intensive boxing drills. Upon arrival, the boxers, four of whom are making their first appearance in Golden Gloves, will go directly to the Chicago Towers club, where for the next six days they will be quartered and do their training. The first workout will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Social activities will be held to a minimum at the request of the boys. Olle Tandberg, heavyweight; Eric Agren, welterweight, and Karl Noren, middleweight, the Swedish representatives, will be guests of the Swedish clubs and athletic associations in Chicago at a banquet Friday night, but thereafter all invitations will be respectfully declined.

Tandberg Wants Sparmates.

Determination is the dominant characteristic of this team. After its late arrival in New York on the Vulcania last night and three hours in the customs, the eight boxers were up at 7 o'clock this morning and working out an hour later. At 10 o'clock they assembled in a private dining room in the Hotel New Yorker for breakfast, then went for the customary trip around Manhattan in a glass top bus. But at noon they were back in the hotel, reading accounts of Chicago's 8 to 8 tie with New York in the intercity matches.

Tandberg, Europe's nomination as the world's No. 1 white hope, sought out Tribune representatives for assurance that plenty of big sparring partners would be available in Chicago. Heavyweights are scarce in Sweden. What prospects there are have been frightened into retirement by Tandberg's three year reign in Europe and consequently he seldom, if ever, faces a man of his weight except in official bouts.

Italians Greet Consul.

Just before train time the Italian delegation—Flyweight Guido Nardecchia, Bantamweight Ulderico Sergo, Featherweight Federico Cortonesi, and Lightweight Egisto Peire—made a hurried call in New York on the Italian consul general, Gaetano Vecchiatti. They were accompanied by Count Gerardo di Leonardi, representative of the Italian Boxing federation on this trip.

Tandberg and his Swedish teammates utilized the respite after lunch to view New York from the Empire State building with Lajos Szigeti, the Hungarian light heavyweight. This expedition was in charge of Oscar Soderlund, president of the International Boxing federation.

Peire, Agren Hope to Repeat.

Today's workout indicated that Cortonesi and Peire, the chief sufferers during the frequent spells of rough weather that marred the 12 day crossing on the Vulcania, had not been pulled down unduly by protracted sieges of seasickness. Cortonesi was only three pounds lighter than when he boarded the boat at Naples and Peire quickly shook off sea legs with five rounds of rope skipping and shadow boxing.

Peire and Agren are the only members of the team who contributed victories to Europe's 5 to 3 triumph last year when Chicago suffered its first defeat in the series. They are European champions in their classes and are counted upon to retain their Golden Gloves titles April 10. Nardecchia was beaten last year by Chester Ellis in a bantamweight bout. Sergo, who completes the roster of Golden Gloves veterans on this year's team, was not on the 1939 squad, but appeared in the Stadium in 1938.

Willie Hoppe beat Joe Chamaco, 50 to 21, in 30 innings.

TODAY'S MATCHES.

1:30 p. m.—Art Thurnblad vs. Tiff Denton.
3 p. m.—Johnny Layton vs. Tiff Denton.
8 p. m.—Jake Schaefer vs. Art Thurnblad.
9:30 p. m.—Willie Hoppe vs. Jay Bozeman.

Jay Bozeman, Vallejo, Cal., star, equaled the world tournament best game record last night in the world three cushion billiards tournament in Bensinger's South Wabash avenue arena. He ran out his string in 23 innings against Allen Hall of Chicago, winning 50 to 18.

The world record had stood for 10 years, being established by Johnny Layton against Charles Jordan in the 1930 event in New York. Bozeman's feat marks the second world mark tied in the $20,000 meet here. Tiff Denton last week equaled his own and Gus Copulos' high run record of 17 against—ironically enough—Bozeman.

Bozeman Runs 14 and 11.

Bozeman was uncanny against Hall, having runs of 11 and 14. He barely missed his 12th point on his 11 run and in the 20th frame, when he put together his cluster of 14, he had two world records within his grasp if he had run out with an unfinished 18. But he ran into a kiss and took three more frames to complete the game.

Willie Hoppe maintained his undefeated record by scoring his 17th consecutive victory in the second night match, beating Joe Chamaco of Mexico City, 50 to 21 in 30 innings. Tonight Hoppe plays Bozeman.

Hoppe had an unfinished cluster of 10 in his final inning. The champion also improved his grand average by two-tenths of a point and now has a 1.18 average with 850 points in 721 innings which almost insures him of a world mark inasmuch as the present record is 1.12 and is held by Welker Cochran.

Schaefer Runs 15.

The afternoon round also produced some excitement when Jake Schaefer defeated Cochran and finished his run by clicking off 15 consecutive points. The final score was 50 to 46 in 40 innings. Schaefer's run was second only to Denton's 17 in this tournament. The victory solidified Schaefer's second place in the standings.

Arthur Rubin of New York played and won his final match, defeating Art Thurnblad of Kenosha, Wis., 50 to 46 in 51 innings. Thurnblad scored 10 in the 49th inning, but Rubin rallied for the winning points.

SMILIN' JACK—THE FIRE HORSE

Track Coach to Be Buried Near Rockne

Notre Dame, Ind., April 3 [Special].—The body of John P. Nicholson, Notre Dame track coach, who died suddenly last night of a heart attack, will be borne to its final resting place in Highland cemetery by members of the Notre Dame track squad, it was announced today. The funeral will be held from Sacred Heart church on the campus Friday morning at 9 o'clock. The remains will lie in a South Bend funeral home until then.

Nicholson will be buried near Knute K. Rockne, under whom he served from 1928 until Rockne's death in 1931. Rockne, finding his duties as athletic director and football coach too pressing, engaged Nicholson to coach track in 1928.

Athletes as Honor Guard.

Capt. Ted Leonas, Curtis Hester, Dave Reidy, Joe Halpin, Ken Collins, and John Martin of the track squad will be pallbearers. Greg Rice, 1939 captain, who trained under Nicholson for recent world indoor record performances at two and three miles; Bill Mahoney, freshman track coach and 1938 captain; visiting track coaches, and Nicholson's associates in the Notre Dame athletic department will be honorary pallbearers.

Members of the Monogram club of the campus, including all men who have won athletic insignia, formed a guard of honor at the funeral home from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock tonight. Members of the athletic association formed the guard of honor after 9 o'clock.

The campus flag flew at half staff today and practice in all sports was called off. Messages of condolence came from all parts of the country.

His Wish Fulfilled.

Only a few weeks ago Nicholson had expressed a desire to spend the rest of his coaching days at Notre Dame, Director of Athletics Elmer F. Layden disclosed today. "This sentiment met with hearty indorsement by the administrators, faculty, and students of the university," said Layden. "Men of Notre Dame who knew his talents rejoiced in the personal glory that accrued to 'Nick' in the national acclaim of Greg Rice's recent accomplishments. 'Nick' was beloved by all the boys participating in all forms of sport, by the students, and by all the boys participating in all

Nicholson attended Sunday's meet in New York in which his Rice defeated Taisto Maki of Finland and Don Lash of Indiana while lowering his own three mile indoor record to 13:52.3.

ROLLER SKATING KING AND QUEEN ARE SELECTED

The king and queen of roller skating have been selected in a poll conducted in 35 cities of the nation, it was announced last night.

Ivy King, Toronto, a member of the Chicago Mohican team, who is out of action with a broken leg, led the girls with 25,943 votes. A teammate, Peggy O'Neal of St. Louis, was a close second with 25,753. Third was Grace Fried of Chicago.

Runner-up to Rosasco was Billy Bogash of Chicago, who had 23,950 votes. Jack Cummings, injured in the current Coliseum Derby, polled 18,934.

The first serious injury of the current Roller Derby in the Coliseum occurred Tuesday night. Cummings, captain of the New York team, suffered a broken leg and will be forced out of competition for the remainder of the event.

Yanks Will Not Repeat in 1940, Says Connie Mack

El Paso, Tex., April 3 (AP).—Cornelius MacGillicuddy speaking:

"The New York Yankees will wind up in third place in the 1940 American league race."

The veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics unburdened himself of this inspired pronouncement as he brought his squad east today from Bisbee, Ariz.

As for the Yanks:

"They are not weaker this year, but no ball club can keep on the pace for years. The Yanks will have trouble keeping the edge which gave them their last four pennants.

"Besides, Cleveland and Boston are strong this year, and they are shoving to the top all the time. As a matter of fact, there are six strong clubs, and five of them aren't the Yanks."

French Lick Golf Tourney Draws 500 from Chicago

The season's first mass movement of golfers out of Chicago will take place this evening when approximately 500 players entrain for French Lick Springs, Ind., and the opening tomorrow of the ninth annual Midwest amateur golf tournament. A record field of 600 is expected to start.

NEW YORK ASKED BY N. B. A. TO HELP REFORM BOXING

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—The National Boxing association offered today to sit down with its long time foe, the New York Athletic commission, to work out a plan for loosening the strangle hold which it claims the New York body has on professional prize fighting.

In addition to such a conference, the N. B. A. suggested that a national investigation of boxing and establishment of a federal boxing commission would help boxing generally. The investigation and federal commission are provided for in legislation introduced in the house by Representative Ambrose J. Kennedy [D., Md.].

The N. B. A., which is composed of state and city regulatory bodies in all but four states, contends that New York gets too many championship fights and the rest of the country gets too few. The New York commission is not a member of the N. B. A.

Recently, the N. B. A. withdrew title recognition from Lou Ambers and Joey Archibald for alleged failure to defend their titles against challengers designated by the N. B. A. and within time limits set by the association.

BOWLERS DINE TONIGHT.

Willie Joyce Ends Training Today for Bout

Willie Joyce, 1937 international Golden Gloves featherweight, who has developed into a leading professional lightweight, will end training today for an eight round bout against Nick Castiglione of the Italo-American Youth organization in White City tomorrow. The Gary fighter has appeared in fine form during sparring workouts. Many boxing fans believe he'll need every bit of his skill to win.

Castiglione, who earned the Joyce assignment by holding Eddie Lander to a draw in eight rounds in Chicago Stadium on Dec. 8, was a preliminary boxer a year ago.

Frankie [Kid] Covelli, Brooklyn featherweight, has returned from a sojourn at Stone Lake, Wis., for a 10 round headliner against Eddie Lander in Marigold Gardens Monday. . . . Settimo Terracina, former amateur light heavyweight champion of Italy, yesterday opened training in Trafton's gymnasium for his American debut. He is being groomed for a preliminary match on the proposed card in the Stadium May 10. Terracina, managed by Emil Nanny, is under exclusive contract to Promoter Bill Rand. . . . Barney Ross, retired undefeated lightweight champion, today will leave his post as manager of the Morrison hotel's new cocktail lounge to concentrate on his jewelry business in the loop. . . . Joe Du Pont, city Golden Gloves 126 pound winner, who defeated Andy Sterling in the Madison Athletic club last Friday, will return to head the amateur card in the Madison A. C. tomorrow in a five round contest against Robert Earl of Morgan Park.

OUST BOARD THAT OUSTED MADIGAN AT ST. MARY'S

Moraga, Cal., April 3 (AP).—The St. Mary's college board of athletic control, which recently ousted Edward P. Madigan as football coach, was dissolved today and a substitute body formed, including only one member of the previous group.

Brother Albert, the college president, said a three member president's athletic advisory council would replace the five man athletic control board. He described the move as merely to center the activity of the athletic department within the administration of the college itself.

Composing the new board are Coach Norman P. [Red] Strader, Madigan's successor, William J. Milliken, college controler, and J. Phillip Murphy, chairman of the former athletic body. Murphy did not vote upon the resolution to fire Madigan.

Flint 5 Leads ABC; Goebels Take 6th Place

Detroit, Mich., April 3 [Special].—More than 5,000 fans jammed the Coliseum tonight and several thousand were turned away as the Klings of Flint, Mich., rolled up a 2,983 total to displace the Chicago Schamberger Schlitzes as American Bowling Congress five-man leaders.

The crowd, largest to see an A. B. C. since 1924 when Jimmy Blouin, former match champion, performed in Chicago's 131st Regiment armory, came to see the Detroit Goebels, 1939 champions, try to retain their title, but it was the Flint entry that took the spotlight. Opening with 1,008, the Klings added 983 and 992, with Lee Murphy pacing the squad on a 631 total.

The Goebels, who gave Detroit the 1939 title in scoring 3,151, were nervous in the opening games, scoring 876 and 957, but found the range in the final game and rolled up the high game of the tournament, 1,087. Their 2,920 total gave them sixth place in the standings.

Walter Voorheis, 38 year old gasoline salesman of Saginaw, Mich., went into fourth place in the singles today with 704.

Voorheis, who hit only 584 and 526, respectively, in the team and doubles events, had games of 205, 242 and 257 in the singles. In 1933 he finished seventh in the A. B. C. in Columbus with 709.

Scores rolled by Chicago area bowlers:

DOUBLES.

DUCK MIGRATION CALLED BIGGEST FOR SIX YEARS

Birds Head for Breeding Grounds in Canada.

BY BOB BECKER.

The biggest migration of wild ducks and geese in six years is heading for Canadian breeding grounds this spring, according to a summary of reports from state game departments and private observers in a nationwide survey by Ducks Unlimited, Inc.

The survey, covering the 25 most important species found in the United States last winter, brought 2,709 reports of an increase as compared with a year ago, 1,257 reports of decrease and 1,912 no change. The bulk of decrease reports came from the central flyway between Montana and New Mexico where drouths prevailed.

Eighty per cent of state game departments coöperating in the survey stated that unseasonably mild weather last fall, which delayed the southern migration, reduced bags by hunters. It so happened that hunting dates were too early to coincide with the main migration period, officials stated.

Good Shooting at Cairo.

Illinois was in this zone of unseasonable weather and poor hunting, which resulted in poor shooting for the majority of duck hunters. On the other hand the wild goose hunting around Cairo was the best in years.

While estimates of the wildfowl increase range from 10 to 50 per cent, ducks on nuptial flights to the north face a critical situation in sections of the great prairie breeding areas of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. Winter snowfall, principal source of moisture, has been the lowest in a decade in these areas. Unless abnormal spring rains intervene heavy brood losses from drouth may be expected next summer.

Situation Called Alarming.

This alarming situation in the duck breeding areas of Canada means that duck hunters have much work ahead of them this summer, for the plan is to make every effort to impound the surface water in Canadian marshes and thus give the nesting birds a chance to raise their broods. Officials of Ducks Unlimited said this week that their field forces already are at work in the marshes trying to establish all the nesting areas that they can. If a drouth occurs and no effort is made to reduce brood losses in the dried up areas the duck population may take a decided drop.

HERZL NINE WINS.

Cubs Idle Today, Battle Browns Tomorrow.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

El Paso, Tex., April 3.—The White Sox and Cubs took different routes tonight, but will see more of each other in the three games scheduled in Chicago April 12, 13, and 14. The Cubs went to San Antonio where on Friday they'll meet the Browns in the first of a seven game traveling series. The Sox will be at Lubbock, Tex., tomorrow, playing the first of an eight game series with the Pirates.

Jimmy Dykes, the Sox manager, tonight boarded a Philadelphia bound plane. Mrs. Dykes is seriously ill and three specialists have thus far been unable to diagnose the case. The manager expects to rejoin his troupers Tuesday in Kansas City. Coach Herold [Muddy] Ruel will be in charge during Dykes' absence.

Four of the White Sox freshmen received their marching orders today. Ken Reid, the University of Iowa southpaw, went to St. Paul under option. Infielder Johnny Gerlach, University of Wisconsin alumnus, was released outright to the same club. Joe Weeks, Tufts college catcher, was optioned to Fort Worth. First Baseman Lew Leiter will join the White Sox farm hands at Jonesboro, Ark., but will move later to the Waterloo, Ia., team.

Ted Lyons and Jack Knott will carry the pitching burden against the Pirates tomorrow in Lubbock. Lyons hasn't been asked to do much work this spring. He went three innings against the Hollywood club March 17 and the Cubs knocked him out in two innings March 28. There was some excuse for the latter experience as the veteran was just recovering from a bad cold. Johnny Gee, the former University of Michigan star, will open for the Pirates.

Claude Passeau of the Cub staff received word today that he had become a father. Miss Patricia Nell Passeau, weighing eight pounds, arrived in a Mobile, Ala., hospital.

Eric McNair may return to his third base job tomorrow in Lubbock. It all depends on the weather. He's been suffering from a sore arm for almost a month. Bob Kennedy has been doing so well as McNair's understudy that there really has been no concern over the latter's ailment.

Bob Sturgeon's appearance today as Cub shortstop was an indication that Manager Gabby Hartnett wasn't kidding a few days ago when he admitted he was beginning to suspect Billy Rogell wasn't the man for the job. The experts continue to believe it won't be long before the position is returned to the custody of Bobby Mattick, who thus far this spring has played three different infield assignments and looked better than any of the regulars, including Stan Hack and Billy Herman.

Jim Gleeson, the Cubs' extra outfielder, believes he is on the underworld's sucker list. A few months ago he was hijacked when on his way to the bank with almost $400 in receipts from his Kansas City tavern. This morning he discovered his hotel room had been prowled. The loss was $24.

Naval Reserve, 28 to 25; 47th Ward Juniors beat Chi-Dells A. C., 29 to 27, and Scheiners beat Ahepa, will be played tonight.

Reds Whip Red Sox, 13-7, and Square Series

Statesville, N. C., April 3 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox evened up their road series today, the Reds winning a free hitting game, 13 to 7. In all, 30 hits rattled thru the stadium.

A first inning homer by Lonnie Frey put the National leaguers in front, but the Red Sox tallied seven thru the fifth, including a home run by Jimmy Foxx with one aboard in the fourth. The Reds more than batted around in the sixth to come from behind with five runs. Score:

ROOKIES STAR FOR PHILS.

Miami Beach, Fla., April 3 (AP).—A rookie battery obtained from Baltimore's International league team combined pitching and hitting to give the Phillies a 3 to 0 triumph over Rochester of the International league today. While Roy Bruner turned in a three hit mound performance, Catcher Ben Warren pounded out singles in the first and sixth innings to drive in two of the Phils' runs. Bruner held the Redwings hitless for the first six innings, fanned three and issued four bases on balls. Score:

PEARSON IN FORM.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 3 [Special].—Monte Pearson tuned himself up today with five perfect innings and contributed a home run as the Yankees whipped Oklahoma City, 8 to 1, today.

As the champions played before an overflow crowd of 9,274, their third capacity crowd in four days, Joe DiMaggio unloaded three hits, including two doubles. The Yanks also came up with another of their big innings, scoring five runs in the fifth.

Pearson faced only 15 batsmen, fanned four, and passed none. Lee Grissom yielded two singles in the sixth, and in the seventh was tagged for Oklahoma City's run, scored when two passes preceded a single by Dixie Howell. Score:

INDIANS, 9; GIANTS, 5.

Waycross, Ga., April 3 [Special].—The Cleveland Indians, smarting under two straight reverses at the hands of National league pitchers, blistered Harry Gumbert and Roy Joiner to whip the New York Giants, 9 to 5, today.

The American leaguers got 19 hits, hammering Gumbert for 12 hits and five runs in six innings and Joiner for seven hits and four more runs in just two innings.

DODGERS WHIP ATLANTA.

Rome, Ga., April 3 [Special].—The Brooklyn Dodgers today made it three straight over the Atlanta Crackers, 6 to 1, then moved on to Gadsden, Ala., where tomorrow they play the first of four games with the Detroit Tigers.

Pete Coscarart produced the big hit today, a home run off Emil Lochbaum over the center field fence in the eighth with Herman Franks and Newell Kimball on base. This was one of only five hits off the slight righthanded school teacher.

NEWARK ROUTS BEES.

Sebring, Fla., April 3 (AP).—The Newark Bears, aided by several New York Yankee discards, pounded three Boston Bees' pitchers for 14 hits and a 10 to 4 victory.

Casey Stengel hoped that Bill Posedel, who appears to be the Bees' ranking pitcher, would go the full distance, but the right hander gave up four runs and six hits during the three innings he lasted. Score:

Newark [I. L.]	103	131	01*—10	14	0

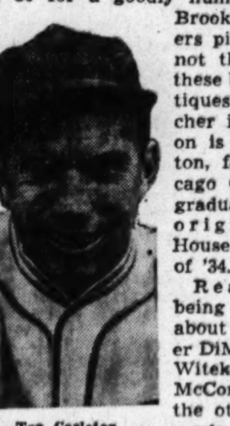
Tex Carleton Comes Back as a Dodger

New York, April 3 (AP).—Life begins at 30 for a goodly number of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitchers, and not the least of these baseball antiques Leo Durocher is counting on is Tex Carleton, former Chicago Cub and a graduate of the original Gas House Gang, class of '34.



Tex Carleton.

Reams are being written about the younger DiMaggios, the Witeks, the Mike McCormicks and the other youths coming up to the big show, but here is a 33 year old man who apparently had served his time in the majors and had been sent to the minors, coming back for a fresh start.

A few months ago he was thru with baseball. He had won 11 and lost nine for Milwaukee last season, and memory of an arm that ached the latter part of the season convinced him he was thru, and that a radio announcing job open to him was his destiny.

Then the Dodgers Step In.

A Texas newspaper friend called him one night last winter and told him he had been purchased by the Dodgers, and Tex decided to give baseball one more fling. Why the Dodgers bought him still is a mystery, unless they figured any pitcher who could beat them must be pretty good. The Dodgers and the Bees always were first cousins to Tex. His record shows 19 victories and nine defeats against Brooklyn, and 30 victories and 11 defeats against Boston.

Now he's back tossing them over with that loose, side arm delivery that always was a headache for a club with a lineup of right handed hitters, and he's doing right well.

Carleton is a product of the Cardinal farm system. He came up to the Cardinals in 1932 to become a part of that fire eating gang of Deans and Martins and Frsiches. He won 17 games in 1933 and 16 in 1934, and at the end of that season was traded to the Cubs.

Fought Hubbell 16 Innings.

His most notable feat during his stay with St. Louis was his marathon duel with Carl Hubbell. Hubbell won in 18 innings, 1 to 0. Carleton went 16 innings before being removed for a pinch hitter.

Tex never lived up to expectations with the Cubs, and finally, in December, 1938, the Cub bosses looked over his case history of arm troubles and shipped him to Milwaukee. He was going fine last year until, with a record of seven victories against three defeats, he pulled a ligament in his elbow.

It may be that the Dodgers acquired him just to keep up a contact with the Milwaukee team which had brought them a good pitcher each year for three years. In 1937 it was Luke Hamlin; in 1938 it was Forrest Pressnell, and last year Whitlow Wyatt was going great guns until he injured his leg.

So the long, lean Texan has added his nearly 34 years to a pitching roster that includes Freddy Fitzsimmons, 39; Hamlin, 34; Pressnell, 33; Wyatt, 30; Al Hollingsworth, 30, and Wes Ferrell, 32.

FRISCH FLIES TO WICHITA TO HAVE THROAT TREATED

Wichita, Kas., April 3 (AP).—Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates rested in a hospital tonight after a plane dash from El Paso for treatment of a throat infection described by President William Benswanger as "not serious."

Benswanger said Frisch has a streptococcus infection, but was running "no temperature" and is expected to be "up and ready to go again" when the Pirates reach Wichita on Sunday to play an exhibition game against the Chicago White Sox.

SUN EGRET LOSES TO HONEY CLOUD IN BOWIE STAKE

Rowe Memorial Handicap Record Is Set.

Bowie, Md., April 3 (AP).—Honey Cloud, 6 year old chestnut gelding owned by Mrs. A. J. Abel, raced to a record breaking victory today at Bowie in the $5,000 added Rowe Memorial handicap, beating the A. C. C. stable's Sun Egret by a head in a thrilling stretch duel.

Making his spring debut in the first stake race of the eastern campaign, Honey Cloud, under urging by Jockey Danny Driscoll, covered the six furlongs in 1:11.4, the fastest time ever recorded in the 10 runnings of the stake.

The race was billed as a duel between Sun Egret, the 1938 winner, and Yancey Christmas' Rough Time, the 1939 winner, and the crowd of about 9,000 shivering customers made Rough Time the 9 to 5 favorite.

Sun Egret Comes Fast.

A field of six went postward in the Rowe. Jouett Shouse's Arden Lass delayed the start by bolting from the gate and cantering to the turn. She was brought back and ultimately finished fifth, a length and a half ahead of Gustave Ring's Rumba Gus.

Honey Cloud, carrying only 112 pounds compared with 122 for the top weighted Sun Egret and Rough Time, went quickly to the front and reached the half mile mark with a length and a half advantage over Rumba Gus, with Rough Time in third position.

Sun Egret, ridden by Henry Lindberg, began moving up fast on the outside at the head of the stretch and came up from fourth to chase Honey Cloud to the wire.

The victory was worth $4,175 to Mrs. Abel and her trainer-husband.

SIR DAMION FINALLY WINS.

Coral Gables, Fla., April 3 (AP).—Sir Damion, Marshall Field's 6 year old which has shown little since winning the Dixie handicap last spring, finally came thru at Tropical Park today in a mile and sixteenth allowance race.

Sprinting into the lead soon after the start, the son of Sir Gallahad III. set the pace and finished well in front of the Maemere farm's Maeda, another disappointment of the winter season. A. J. Brown's The Thrush was third in the field of six.

With Don Meade up, Sir Damion ran the distance in 1:44 4-5 and as the heavily played favorite, paid $3.30 for $2 to win.

RAILROADS CUT RATES TO MEET TRUCK CHARGES

Act Jointly to Boost St. Louis Traffic.

Moving to meet the stiff truck competition for less than carload shipments of freight between Chicago and St. Louis, several railroads yesterday announced a reduced scale of rates for 75 selected commodities. The rates become effective at once.

Among the roads reducing rates on less than carload shipments are the Illinois Central, Chicago & Illinois Midland, North Western, Burlington, Milwaukee, Rock Island and Wabash.

The basic rates fall within four classifications which are [per 100 pounds] 92 cents, 78 cents, 64 cents and 51 cents, depending on the classification. The four groupings reflect the nature of the commodities to be shipped, ease of handling, danger of loss or damage and other factors.

Law Explains Change.

F. H. Law, vice president in charge of traffic for the Illinois Central, said that starting from these basic charges, the road will cut its rates for minimum lots of 5,000, 10,000 and 15,000 pounds. The Illinois Central's charges will be typical of those of the other roads.

The following list of commodities illustrates the various classifications and the scale of rates for each 100 pounds of the shipments:

	Less than 5,000 lbs.	5,000 to 10,000 lbs.	10,000 to 15,000 lbs.	More than 15,000 lbs.
Electrical appliances	92c	89c	64c	46c
Auto parts	78c	75c	64c	46c
Hardware	64c	61c	59c	46c
Refrigerators	92c	89c	64c	46c
Machinery	78c	75c	64c	46c
Agricultural implements	78c	75c	64c	46c
Yeast	92c	89c	64c	46c
Paper wrappers	64c	61c	59c	46c

The roads are also offering as inducements to shippers overnight delivery between Chicago and St. Louis and free pickup and delivery at origin and destination.

Aimed to Assure Service.

"This offer is a part of our program of providing shippers with every possible inducement to use the railroads," Law said. "Our aim is to assure customers an attractive transportation service for merchandise."

The Illinois Central some time ago put into effect a system of distribution downstate whereby speedy trains carry less than carload freight to central points from which deliveries are made to nearby towns by truck. Freight is picked up in the same way for delivery to Chicago.

HEARING ON SUIT TO KILL TRUCK LAW IS DELAYED

Springfield, Ill., April 3 (AP).—A hearing on preliminary motions in a suit by truckers to test the new Illinois truck regulatory act was deferred today in Sangamon county Circuit court until April 11.

The state's effort to dismiss the certificated motor carriers as a coplaintiff in the suit had been scheduled for hearing.

Plaintiffs in the suit contend the regulatory law, setting up safety and financial responsibility requirements for truckers, is unconstitutional because it exceeded the scope of activity denoted by the title and because it attempted to regulate the trucking business.

PHONES IN USE, 'L' RIDERS, BOTH HIGHER IN MARCH

Number of telephones in use and passengers carried by the Chicago Rapid Transit company—the L—showed improvement in March. There were 1,006,618 telephones in service in Chicago on March 31—an increase of 2,340 over the number in use on Feb. 29.

The L lines carried 13,060,823 passengers in March compared with 12,978,926 in March, 1939. The number carried in the first two months of this year was 38,652,364, against 37,339,966 in the corresponding 1939 period.

SEC Delays 'Arms Length' Hearing on Dayton Issue

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission has postponed oral arguments on the question of the relationship between the Dayton Power and Light company and Morgan Stanley & Co., originally scheduled for April 5. A new date has not been set. The hearing concerns the question of "arm's length bargaining" in the handling of $25,000,000 of bonds recently sold for Dayton Power by Morgan Stanley.

Copper for Soviets Left Stranded at San Pedro

Bank of America Deposits Rise 96 Millions in Year

San Francisco, Cal., April 3 (AP).—Bank of America's deposits totaled $1,457,804,539 on March 26, against $1,361,884,880 a year ago, the bank's call statement showed today. Loans and discounts were $704,473,479, compared with $679,639,725 on March 29, 1939, and $708,766,554 at the end of December.

Upholds Grain Board's Power Over Members

Complete endorsement of the Chicago Board of Trade's right to discipline its members for violation of rules was seen by market authorities yesterday in the final report of the referee in the long drawn-out case of Cargill, Inc., versus the board. The report was filed during the day with the Commodity Exchange commission in Washington, D. C.

C. Abbott Maginnis.

Referee S. Abbot Maginnis found that Cargill, Inc., big grain commission house with headquarters in Minneapolis, had failed to make a case in its charge that the board manipulated market prices in 1937 and recommended that the case be dismissed. The record of the testimony contains 14,199 typewritten pages.

Question of Control.

Maginnis observed:

"The real question seems to be: 'Who is to control the operation of the markets?' The issue is clean-cut, clear, and concise. If futures trading is to be carried on, it must be for the benefit of the public as a whole.

The commodity exchange act places on the governing bodies of the contract markets the responsibility of controlling such markets and all those operating them."

In another action involving the same litigants, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on March 6 ordered the Cargill Grain company of Illinois and John H. MacMillan Jr., president, barred from all contract markets.

The dispute originated in Board of Trade charges that Cargill, Inc., the parent company of Cargill of Illinois, MacMillan and other officials of the companies had cornered the corn futures market in Chicago in August and September, 1937. The board had expelled the concerns and individuals from membership for the violation.

Cargill, Inc., Cleared.

Cargill, Inc., which was cleared by agreement from the board's charge before Wallace's order, had subsequently brought the charges against the Board of Trade.

In further support of his recommendation that Cargill's case be dismissed, the referee said:

"It was the responsibility of the business conduct conmmittee, acting for the Board of Trade, to prevent manipulation of prices by the complainant, and to prevent the comant's long position assuming the proportions of a corner."

The referee's report will be ruled on by the commodity exchange commission, composed of Secretary Wallace, Attorney General Robert S. Jackson, and Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins.

WEEK'S GOLD IMPORTS EXCEED 231 MILLIONS; LARGEST ON RECORD

Gold imports into the United States during the week ended March 27 totaled $231,237,068, compared with $100,644,384 the week before, and were the largest since weekly compilations were begun in 1934, the department of commerce reported yesterday.

A major portion of the total came from Canada, which shipped $185,825,233, apparently in preparation for British purchases of war planes and other supplies in this country.

Most of the Canadian gold was believed to have been deposited in the New York Federal Reserve bank to the British account. Other shipments included $16,745,697 from the United Kingdom, $1,019,555 from India, $7,272,444 from Australia, and $2,761,741 from South Africa.

Imports of gold from Sweden totaled $13,933,885 during the week. The total of foreign gold deposited in the United States under earmark of undisclosed ownership was boosted to approximately $1,286,000,000.

MEET NEXT WEEK ON DISTRIBUTION OF GAS REFUNDS

Methods of distributing more than $6,000,000 in gas rate refunds to 800,000 Chicago consumers will be discussed early next week in the Circuit court, Harry R. Booth, counsel for the Illinois Commerce commission, said yesterday.

Increased rates amounting to about 30 cents a month to the average householder, had been collected since Feb. 4, 1938, under a Circuit court injunction, and the money impounded pending a final ruling.

The boost was finally denied Monday when the United States Supreme court refused to hear an appeal by the company from an Illinois Supreme court decision. Booth said the refunds will be made directly by the company or by a trustee of the court, according to the court's ruling. The average refund is to be about $8.

COURT UPHOLDS NLRB ORDER FOR SIGNED CONTRACT

Cincinnati, O., April 3 (AP).—Reversing a stand taken by the Seventh United States Circuit Court of Appeals in denying a national labor board order against the Inland Steel company, the Sixth Circuit tribunal today held the NLRB could compel a written contract between employer and employé in matters of collective bargaining.

The court granted an enforcement decree against the H. J. Heinz company of Pittsburgh, Pa., affirming an order in which the NLRB had instructed the company to cease alleged domination of an independent organization and to desist from refusal to bargain with the A. F. of L. canning and pickle workers' union.

British Pound Reacts 1¼ Cents to Close at $3.56½

After three days of gains, the British pound faltered in trading yesterday and sank 1¼ cents in relation to the dollar, closing in New York at $3.56½. Last week the pound dropped to $3.49¼. The Canadian dollar posted gained ⅛ cent to 82⅛ United States cents, and the Swiss franc gained slightly. The Netherlands guilder and the French franc showed minor losses.

Farm Bureau Aid Hits Jones Credit Measure

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—A spokesman for the American Farm Bureau federation told the house agriculture committee today that his organization feared that the Jones farm credit measure might result in increasing the cost of farm credit to the government.

This, in turn, said R. E. Short, Arkansas director of the federation, might impair the government's ability "to take steps that are necessary to bring about parity prices for American agriculture."

Opposes Several Features.

Among the features of the credit reorganization bill by Representative Jones [D., Tex.] which Short opposed were:

Elimination of what he said were coöperative features of the present farm credit system. He mentioned substitution of FCA appointed local committees for National Farm Loan associations as the local agency passing upon loans.

Elimination of personal responsibility of borrowers, under a provision which would permit borrowers to discharge their federal land bank loans by deeding over the property involved to the land banks.

Aim for Debt Payment.

"We have consistently fought for measures that would bring agriculture into a parity position and thereby increase the debt-paying ability of farmers," Short said.

"We wish to reiterate our insistence that the solution of the farm problem does not lie in credit. The only permanent solution lies in the attainment of fair prices and fair income by farmers."

Short said "there should be no reasonable objection" to some features of the Jones measure, such as the retirement of farm loan bonds which bear interest rates higher than the present cost of money.

BROAD ADVANCE CARRIES STOCKS UP 1 TO 4 POINTS

'Big Steel' Touches Off Boomlet.

New York, April 3 (AP).—Large scale buying in steels, motors, and other industrial shares piled up the biggest stock market volume today since the late 1939 war boomlet. Many stocks finished one to around four points higher as the entire market picture brightened.

Providing what brokers called "old-fashioned leadership," United States Steel jumped 3½ points to 62¾ and Bethlehem 3¾ to 80⅞, both the highest in weeks. Republic Steel gained 1¾ at 22⅛ and Youngstown Sheet 2¾ at 44.

Utilities, Rails Join Rise.

It was a broad market, with utilities and railroads mostly up fractions to around a point.

Many brokers coupled the outburst of buying with attempts by traders to make market capital of the Wisconsin primary vote, widely interpreted as carrying a hint of a Republican ground swell.

Others labeled the Wisconsin vote "indecisive" as an indicator of nation-wide political trends and suggested share buyers were speculating on a spring turn for the better in business, basing hopes on this week's rise in steel production and a sharp seasonal rise in home construction.

Steels were favored by reports of the largest export demand in that field in twenty years.

Steel Move a Bullish Signal.

When United States Steel pushed thru 60 on a midmorning buying wave many traders took this as a bullish signal for resumption of the spring advance. Buying spread thru the list, lifting many issues to new tops for the move.

Up one to more than two at the close were Chrysler, Western Union, Great Northern preferred, Sperry, American Airlines, Celanese, Goodyear, United States Rubber, du Pont, Dow Chemical, United States Gypsum, United Airlines, and Westinghouse.

American Tobacco Executives Win Fight to Retain High Pay

The management of the American Tobacco company emerged from a stormy annual meeting yesterday in Jersey City, N. J., victorious in an altercation with minority stockholders over compensation paid George Washington Hill, president, and a proposal for independent auditing of the organization's accounts.

Mustering a vote of 2,200,000 shares against 75,000, Hill and the directors defeated minority stockholders' demands for abolition of the "incentive

Hill's remuneration last year was $420,000. He had stated on Feb. 29 that he would resign rather than accept a pay cut.

Charges Officers Unfit.

Charges by Clarence L. Lersner, Ridgewood, N. J., owner of 30 shares, that officers were unfit because company funds went to Martin T. Manton, ex-Circuit court judge convicted of selling his decisions for cash, resulted in temporary bedlam.

"Judge Manton got $250,000 of the company's money and has been sent to prison," Lersner shouted. "That proves the directors are not fit to hold office."

Lersner's accusation was made after another stockholder had remarked, facetiously, that a dispute over proxies should be referred to Manton, now serving a two year penitentiary sentence.

"I resent the bad taste of your statements," retorted Vice President Paul M. Hahn, who presided at the meeting. "They are both untruthful and reckless. No charge ever was made against the directors or officials except myself. And in a hearing last year I was exonerated."

Other stockholders began shouting, and Lersner then demanded to be told "what happened to the company's money."

Refers to $250,000 Loan.

The interchange referred to court charges that a business associate of Manton, borrowed $250,000 several years ago from Albert D. Lasker, then head of Lord & Thomas, advertising agency for the tobacco company. Lasker has been absolved of any wrongdoing in connection with the loan. Testimony proved that Louis S. Levy, New York attorney who represented the tobacco company, was intermediary in the loan. Levy has been disbarred from practice in federal courts.

A succession of squabbles kept the meeting in session more than four hours. Several demands were made that executive compensation be limited to $100,000 a year.

Hahn said American Tobacco's sales in the first quarter of this year are well ahead of the corresponding 1939 period and that there has been a satisfactory increase in profits. All 17 directors were reëlected.

FEDERAL LOANS ON 1938 COTTON TO BE EXTENDED

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—The Commodity Credit corporation announced today that grower loans on 1938-grown cotton expiring July 31 would be extended one year to July 31, 1941. It will affect 2,705,000 bales on which the government has loaned $127,838,000.

Growers already have repaid loans totaling $81,923,000 on 1,777,000 bales of 1938 cotton. With market prices above the loan rates, it has been possible for growers to redeem loan cotton and sell it at a profit.

Government to Arraign 102 in Plumbing Suit May 15

Cleveland, O., April 3 (AP).—Arraignment of 102 defendants in the justice department's nation-wide anti-trust law indictment involving the plumbing industry has been set tentatively for May 15, government attorneys said today.

EASTMAN KODAK INCOME RISES TO $8.55 A SHARE

Big Increase Shown Over 1938 Results.

Eastman Kodak company, largest concern in the manufacture and sale of photographic apparatus and supplies in the United States, reported yesterday that 1939 was the third most profitable year in its 59 year history. Consolidated net profit amounted to $21,537,577, equal to $8.55 a share on common stock, compared with $17,339,408, or $7.54 a share, in 1938.

"It is probably too soon to foresee just what effect the war in Europe and the disturbed economic conditions in other parts of the world may ultimately have on the business of the company," W. G. Stuber, chairman, and F. W. Lovejoy, president, said in their annual report to stockholders.

Trade Steady with 1938.

"Compared with 1938, however, sales volume in foreign countries has not been affected appreciably," they said.

Loss of retail business in England, France, and Germany, where the company owns manufacturing plants, was mostly offset by increased sales of X-ray and motion picture films, the statement explained.

Because of the European war, on the other hand, competitive conditions are more favorable to the company, the executives added.

Eastman and its subsidiaries had sales totaling $140,331,990 in 1939, against $128,262,832 in 1938, an increase of 9.4 per cent. No sales figures for the subsidiaries and branches in Germany were included because of war restrictions, and the comparable 1938 figures were adjusted on the same basis. Sales of other foreign subsidiary companies and branches were $35,861,212 last year, compared with $38,995,828 in 1938.

Independent of Europe.

The report said that Eastman manufacturing plants in the United States are now "wholly independent" of European sources of supply for important raw materials, in contrast to

Chicago, the Telephone City

MORE telephone apparatus (switchboards, telephone instruments, etc.) is made in Chicago than in any other city in the world. Over 60 per cent of the world's supply is manufactured in this city. The annual production of telephone apparatus all over the earth is valued at $110,000,000 of which $68,000,000 is produced in Chicago.

In addition to the telephones actually manufactured in Chicago, the companies whose principal plants are here, through subsidiaries operating in England, France, Belgium, Australia, Japan, China and many other foreign countries, project their genius in the designing and making of telephone apparatus into almost every corner of the globe.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Twelfth, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Hogs recovered more of the recent sharp losses yesterday when receipts fell again at all leading packing centers in the country. Most classes rose 5 to 15 cents, altho there were instances of 20 cent gains and even sharper advances registered in the best of the medium and weighty butchers which are yielding best for packers. The range of prices was the narrowest of the season in the best grades.

Declines of 15 to 25 cents in steers and yearlings yesterday were partly offset by heavier water fills due to the warmer weather.

Slaughter lambs were steady to 10 cents higher.

Copper futures reversed their downward trend yesterday. Buoyed by a slightly firmer tone in the export market and a sharp rise in security prices, about 1,300 tons sold at price advances of 10 to 12 points. Interest in lead increased at the lower prices established Tuesday.

Raw silk futures were 4½ to 7½ points higher. New support in cottonseed oil futures boosted the market 11 to 16 points. Coffee futures trading was quiet but Santos closed 3 to 5 points higher. Cocoa futures shared in the upturn.

On the down grade spot raw sugar sold at the lowest price since March, 1939, accentuated by the reluctance of refiners to take on additional supplies. Cuban producer hedging and speculative liquidation contributed to an easier trend in domestic sugar futures, according to brokers.

A fair trade demand failed to keep wool top futures from closing 2 points lower. Crude rubber dropped 3 to 10 points.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Hogs recovered more of the recent sharp losses yesterday when receipts fell again at all leading packing centers in the country. Most classes rose 5 to 15 cents, altho there were instances of 20 cent gains and even sharper advances registered in the best of the medium and weighty butchers which are yielding best for packers. The range of prices was the narrowest of the season in the best grades.

Declines of 15 to 25 cents in steers and yearlings yesterday were partly offset by heavier water fills due to the warmer weather.

Slaughter lambs were steady to 10 cents higher.

Commodities

Copper futures reversed their downward trend yesterday. Buoyed by a slightly firmer tone in the export market and a sharp rise in security prices, about 1,300 tons sold at price advances of 10 to 12 points. Interest in lead increased at the lower prices established Tuesday.

Raw silk futures were 4½ to 7½ points higher. New support in cottonseed oil futures boosted the market 11 to 16 points. Coffee futures trading was quiet but Santos closed 3 to 5 points higher. Cocoa futures shared in the upturn.

On the down grade spot raw sugar sold at the lowest price since March, 1939, accentuated by the reluctance of refiners to take on additional supplies. Cuban producer hedging and speculative liquidation contributed to an easier trend in domestic sugar futures, according to brokers.

A fair trade demand failed to keep wool top futures from closing 2 points lower. Crude rubber dropped 3 to 10 points.

CHICAGO BOARD WEIGHS MOVE TO ASK SEC REVIEW

Governors Fail to Act on Rea Resolution.

Governors of the Chicago Stock exchange took no action yesterday after consideration of a resolution calling for congressional review of the securities act of 1923 and the securities exchange act of 1934. The resolution was submitted by George P. Rea, president of the New York Curb exchange. It calls for a review of the two laws by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house of representatives.

George P. Rea.

Rea sent the resolution and a letter to the heads of 22 exchanges thruout the country, soliciting opinions on the desirability of such an investigation and urging support for the passage of the resolution in congress. The Investment Bankers' association also recently attacked the Securities and Exchange commission which administers the two laws.

May Go to Executive Body.

Kenneth L. Smith, president of the Chicago Stock exchange, said that the resolution may be given further consideration by the executive committee. John G. McCarthy, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, who also received a copy, said that he had not had time to study it, but that he would present it to the executive committee for discussion.

The resolution seeks to determine what effect these acts and the administration of them have had upon the flow of capital into industry, upon employment, and upon the general economic state of the country. It would authorize the committee to "take testimony, investigate, and report to the house" and recommend any changes which seemed desirable.

"Many with whom I have talked," Rea said in his letter, "both here and in Washington, share with me the belief that the securities legislation has tended to block the normal processes of investment and to continue the problem of unemployment.

Complain About Delays.

"Some make specific suggestions for amendment and revision, but many others merely cite cases of unnecessary delay, expense or restriction attributable to such legislation.

"The volume of suggestions and more particularly the volume of such cases indicate to me that a review is essential. The experience accumulated during the last six years by those engaged in the securities business enables us to point out defects which have appeared in those statutes and their administration."

TIN CANS.

How does Continental Can company rank in the tin can industry? I would like some information about this company's stock and its earnings. —M. S. H.

Answer: Continental Can Company, Inc., is the second largest maker of tin cans and containers in the country. Its output is about one-half that of American Can company, the leader in the industry.

The bulk of the production of Continental Can's factories is packers' cans for vegetables, fruit, meat, and other perishable foods. Containers for paints, oils, varnish, drugs, beer, lard, and dry packaged goods are also made.

Under a special arrangement, Continental Can supplies practically the entire domestic needs of the Campbell Soup company for metal containers. The large canning firm furnishes the plants and materials and pays the manufacturing costs. Continental Can supplies the necessary machinery.

From its subsidiary, Standard Tin Plate company, Continental Can obtains about one-half its tin plate requirements. Besides operating a coal mine to supply this subsidiary with fuel, the parent firm and its other subsidiaries manufacture and sell or lease can-making and can-closing machinery, bottle and can caps, and paper cartons. More than 47 plants are operated in the United States, three in Canada, and one in Cuba.

Capitalization of the company is composed of 200,000 shares of $4.50 cumulative preferred stock of no par value and 2,853,971 shares of $20 par common stock. Dividends on the common stock have been paid each year since 1914, except in 1922. The latest payment was 50 cents a share on Feb. 15. Preferred dividends are being paid regularly.

	Net Income.	Earned Per Shr.	Divids. Per Shr.
1935	$11,224,000	$4.21	$2.55
1936	9,039,000	3.17	3.25
1937	8,914,000	3.06	3.00
1938	7,102,000	2.17	2.00
1939	8,636,000	2.71	2.00

Total assets of the company were valued at $126,145,000 in the balance sheet for Dec. 31, 1939. Current assets of $62,956,038 included cash of $12,320,544, notes and accounts receivable of $19,824,619 and inventories of $30,787,112. Current liabilities were $6,002,454, indicating working capital of $56,953,584.

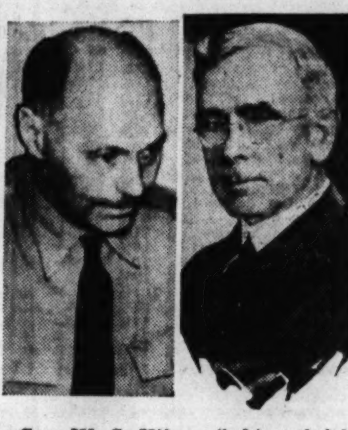
On Pan-American Board



Gen. W. G. Kilner (left) and Admiral William H. Standley.

New York, April 3 [Special].—Admiral William H. Standley, formerly chief of naval operations, and Gen. W. G. Kilner, formerly chief of staff of the army's general headquarters air force, were elected directors of the Pan-American Airways system at the monthly meeting of directors today, filling vacancies on the board.

Juan T. Trippe, president, said that while Admiral Standley and Gen. Kilner did not represent any special stockholder interests, their wide experience in aviation and in international affairs would be of great value to Pan-American in meeting future competition of foreign air systems in the international field.

Admiral Standley represented the United States at the London naval conference in 1935 and 1936. After holding all intervening ranks in the navy, he was appointed chief of naval operations with the rank of full admiral. He retired from active service in 1938.

Gen. Kilner was assistant chief of the air corps upon his retirement from the army. He has served in the far east, Europe, and Latin America. He was in charge of all army air corps training in the A. E. F. during the world war.

COURT ORDER STAYS M'KESSON DISTILLERY SALE FOR $2,000,000

New York, April 3 (AP).—Federal Judge Samuel Mandelbaum today stayed the sale of Hunter Baltimore Rye Distillery, Inc., a subsidiary of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., to Browne Vintners company for $2,000,000.

The stay order was made effective pending the outcome of a motion by a committee acting for McKesson common stock holders for reconsideration of the sale order issued by Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe last Monday. Jeffrey S. Granger, committee chairman, asserted the Schenley Distillers corporation is prepared to bid $2,259,000 for the Hunter assets.

Judge Mandelbaum directed W. J. Wardall, McKesson trustee, the Securities and Exchange commission, and all interested parties to show cause why the court should not reconsider the sale.

STATISTICIANS RAISE ESTIMATE OF WHEAT CROP

The winter wheat crop has staged a remarkable comeback during the last few months due to liberal precipitation over much of the wheat growing areas late in December which continued into February, according to the first of the April estimates to be issued by Chicago statisticians.

A winter wheat crop of 450,000,000 bushels is estimated by Mrs. E. H. Miller, an independent crop forecaster. C. M. Galvin, with James E. Bennett & Co., predicted a yield of 439,000,000 bushels. The Dec. 1 forecast by the United States department of agriculture was 399,000,000 bushels, while last year's harvest aggregated 563,000,000 bushels.

A rush of selling followed the issuance of the estimates with declines about a cent, but prices rallied on reports of dust storms in the southwest. The close on the Chicago Board of Trade was at gains of ⅜ cent.

Liquidation developed in soy beans and prices declined over 4 cents at one time, but a rally cut final losses to ¾ to 1¼ cents. Corn, oats, and rye closed practically unchanged.

STOCK OFFERING MAY GUIDE SEC UTILITIES POLICY

Indianapolis Issue Soon Oversubscribed.

Washington, D. C., April 3 (AP).—The investing public's reaction to an offering of 714,835 shares of Indianapolis Power and Light company common stock may provide the Securities and Exchange commisison with a guide for shaping a policy on utility financing.

Today's offering was the largest block of common stock to reach the market in a single day since the securities act was enacted. It attracted commission interest largely because of a tendency of the SEC to insist upon common stock financing wherever feasible.

Weigh Refunding All Claims.

A New York dispatch said that Indianapolis Power and Light officials were so well satisfied with the public's response to the offering of common stock that they were considering the refunding of all company bond and preferred stock issues.

The company now has outstanding $37,400,000 in bonds and serial notes; 155,777 shares of 6½ per cent preferred stock, and 24,814 shares of 6 per cent preferred.

The offering today by a syndicate headed by Lehman Brothers, Goldman, Sachs & Co., and the First Boston corporation was oversubscribed before noon, the underwriters said.

Seek to Curb Fixed Charges.

Chairman Jerome N. Frank said in an interview that he felt that an important purpose of the SEC was to "Watch the capital structure of utilities and see that they do not get overburdened with fixed interest obligations."

The most frequently cited opinion of the SEC concerning equity financing is that in the Consumers Power case. That company, a unit in the Commonwealth and Southern system, sought authority to issue $28,594,000 of bonds, of which $10,000,000 was to be "new" money for plant expansion.

Reduces Bond Issue.

The commission, in a decision which split the five members three ways, reduced the bonds to $18,594,000 with an assertion that refunding by sale of bonds in excess of that amount was "not necessary for the economical and efficient operation of Consumers' business, because the company could satisfy its capital needs, over and above the need for refunding, by the sale, at reasonable terms, of common stock.

The commission asserted that Consumers Power ratio of common stock and surplus to its total capitalization, which was 19.5 per cent, was "much less than the ratios of other utility companies operating in the middle west."

KRESGE TO REDEEM NOTES.

The Kresge Foundation has called for redemption on June 1 at 104 and accrued interest all outstanding 10 year 3½ per cent collateral trust notes, thru the National Bank of Detroit, trustee, or in New York at the Bankers Trust company.

Miscellaneous.

"There's the GOOD HUMOR MAN"

Soon they'll be on the streets again—these men who do so well financially in spring, summer and fall that they hate to see winter come.

If it wasn't for that lay-off period we would have little occasion to hire new men. That very fact gives YOU an opportunity at this moment.

Everywhere children and grown-ups are waiting for the GOOD HUMOR man. He has become a tradition—almost a new word for the dictionary. That means large commissions for the men who get GOOD HUMOR routes.

If you are selected you will be given a short training before going in the field. Your equipment will not cost you a cent and there is no other investment or bond expense. But you must be of good appearance and be able to supply proper references.
